SEA TRAGEDY IS MARKED BY HEROIC ACTS

Steamer British King Sinks, Bearing 27 Sailors to Death in Ocean.

FOUNDERS IN STORM

Crews of the Bostonian and Mannheim Risk Their Lives and Rescue 24 Men.

THE CAPTAIN LOSES HIS LIFE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, March 14.—Suffering, mental and physical, and numerous acts of heroism in saving life, rarely equaled in the record of tragedies of the sea, attended the loss of the Phoenix line steamer British King, which on Sunday last in a raging Atlantic storm, foundered about 150 miles south of Sable island, and carried to death 27 members of the crew. Thirteen men were rescued from the sinking vessel by the Leyland line steamer, Bostonian, bound from Manchester to Boston, and 11 by the German tank steamer Mannheim, Rotterdam for New York. Five others who had been drawn down into the vortex into which the British King was engulfed, were picked up by the Bostonian from a frail bit of wreckage which they had grasped after a desperate struggle for life in the whirlpool. The Bostonian arrived here this afternoon and the details of the disaster became known.

Capt. James O'Hagan of the British King died on board the Bostonian from the effects of terrible injuries sustained in trying to save his ship.

The rescued brought here today include James Flanigan, the second officer; J. D. Crawford, the chief engineer; Adolphus Beck, the fourth engineer, and William J. Curry, the steward. The others were coal passers and sailors, mostly Belgians, and one stowaway, Henry Parkotck of New York.

Lifeboats Were Crushed.

The lifeboats from the Bostonian were crushed to fragments and the volunteer crews which manned them thrown into the high running seas while engaged in the work of rescue, but all were safely landed on board the steamer.

When the first lifeboat was lowered from the Bostonian the small craft was swept against the stern of the big ship and destroyed, and several of the seamen were bruised and maimed. Yet, despite the boisterous condition of the sea, the volunteers were rescued by lines thrown out from the steamer.

A second attempt to reach the sinking ship was successful and 13 men, including Captain O'Hagan, were taken from the British King to the Bostonian. Then again a powerful billow carried the lifeboat against the side of the ship and destroyed it, and the life savers were thrown into the sea, to be rescued only after an hour's effort by their comrades.

Volunteers from the Mannheim, after a heroic battle with the waves, had taken off 11 men from the British King, but after this neither of the steamers, in consequence of the increasing gale, could make an attempt to reach the foundering freighter. Moreover, darkness fell, and it was an utter impossibility to do else but wait for the moonlight to guide them. In the darkness the British King, which was then water logged and helpless, plunged to the bottom.

Worked Against Fearful Odds.

For three days her captain and crew, working against unconquerable odds, had tried to prevent, or at least postpone, their ship's destruction. On Friday, in the height of the tempest, the deckload of oil barrels of the British King and all her fittings were carried overboard. The barrels and wreckage, forming into a powerful ram, were driven down upon her sides with crushing force, opening up the vessel's plates and allowing the water to pour into her holds.

Although all hands were placed at the pumps the water gained considerably. The fires had been extinguished and the engines rendered useless by the rising water. The only remedy was to repair the damaged sections, and while personally superintending this work Captain O'Hagan sustained a fractured leg and internal injuries. Although he was unable to stand he continued to direct the efforts of the crew. At the end of three days, when all hands had labored ceaselessly without rest and with little food, the Bostonian and Mannheim were sighted, and to these Captain O'Hagan displayed the signal for assistance.

The British King went down in latitude 41.10 north and longitude 60.11 west, or about 450 miles east of Boston light and 150 to the south of Sable Island. The British King sailed from New York last Wednesday bound for Antwerp with a miscellaneous cargo and 150 head of cattle.

The British King was built at New Castle, England, in 1891. She was 404 feet in length, tonnage 3,042. She was owned by the British Shipowners' Company (limited) of Liverpool.

GIANTESS RESCUES HIM.

Danish Woman Over Seven Feet Tall Saves Life of Sailor in Storm.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Passengers on the steamship Blucher which arrived in port today witnessed a gallant rescue of a sailor during the terrific storm which raged from Sunday till Tuesday at midday.

Christopher Vogel was making his way to the bridge when a wave struck the ship and swept it fore and aft. He was dashed to the deck and was rapidly being carried overboard when Margareta Wedstead, a Danish giantess, seven feet one inch tall, seized him and held him until the wave had gone. Then she carried him like a child to the gangway.

James Conant.

DEATH OVERTAKES JAMES CONANT IN NEW YORK HOTEL

Death Is Attributed to Heart Failure, Although Case Is Surrounded With Mystery.

Mrs. James Conant last evening received a telegram from New York announcing the sudden death of her husband, the well-known amusement manager and restaurateur. Mr. Conant was supposed to be stopping at the Hotel Navarre, New York city, but the management threw much mystery about the death, which is supposed to have been due to heart failure.

Mr. Conant was born in Portsmouth, O., August 10, 1852, and came to Pittsburgh when 15 years old. He worked on the river until 1886 when he became manager of the Casino, an ice palace and summer theater started by the late T. L. Magee. Under the management of Mr. Conant the place was a success until 1888, when it was destroyed by fire. He then went to New York, where he was the manager of the Ice Palace for three years. In 1891 Mr. Magee brought him back to Pittsburgh and made him manager of the Duquesne Garden, which position he held for three years. After leaving the Garden he became superintendent of the Farmers Bank building and remained there nine months, when he became the manager of the Nixon restaurant. Since last September he has been promoting private enterprises. Mr. Conant was a member of the Pittsburgh Flying Squadron, a theatrical organization. He was also a member of Haleman lodge, No. 331, F. & A. M. Mr. Conant lived at 110 Gist street and is survived by his widow and mother, Mrs. Amorela Conant. One brother, Harry, is also supposed to be living, but has not been heard of since four years ago, when he visited here.

SELECT MEETS TONIGHT.

Special Session Is Ordered by Bigelow to Railroad Through New Trolley Franchise Bill.

A special meeting of select council has been called for tonight at 8 o'clock to railroad through the franchise ordinance of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, approved by the corporations committee yesterday. The ordinance grants a franchise for a new line in the East End to Highland park. It contains no time limit and provides for no compensation to the city for the franchise.

The meeting of select was called last night by order of Director Bigelow, who claims he has secured the support of Republican members to assist the administration in passing the bill without amendment. It was reported last night that a deal had been effected which has a bearing on the organization of the new councils.

FATHER STEALS HIS SON.

Mrs. Josef Hoffman Now Seeks to Secure Child from Her Former Husband.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—To rescue her 8-year-old son, George M., who was taken by the father, George P. Eustis, her former husband, and brought from Italy to this country, Mrs. Josef Hoffman, wife of the noted pianist, arrived today with Mr. Hoffman on the Hamburg-American liner Blucher.

Mr. Eustis called upon her in Venice, Italy, and asked permission to see his son. This was granted and the two were left alone. When the father left the Hoffman villa he took his son with him and sailed for America. Mrs. Hoffman cabled to her lawyers and court proceedings for the recovery of the child were begun two weeks ago.

Surgeon's Knife for Ada Rehan.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—According to a report in Broadway circles Miss Ada Rehan has submitted to an operation for appendicitis in St. Vincent's hospital. Miss Rehan had a recurrence of her appendicitis attack recently and a few days ago it was announced that she would give up acting until another season.

Pillsbury Near Point of Death.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(Special.)—Harry N. Pillsbury, the noted chess player, is lying at the point of death in a hospital in this city, suffering from a stroke of apoplexy, which was quickly followed by an attack of paralysis.

MINERS ARE READY FOR THE BATTLE

Many Delegates Arrived for the Opening of the Big Convention.

THE FUTURE IS DARK

Mitchell and Other Leaders Refused to Discuss What Action Is to Be Taken.

MAY DRAG IN IDAHO TROUBLES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America will begin tomorrow morning at the German house. According to delegates, who kept streaming into Indianapolis all this afternoon, there will be decided opposition to any attempt to repeal the "Ryan resolution," which many say is the most important subject to come before the convention. The Ryan resolution, passed at the national convention in January and February, provides that no district of the miners' union shall enter an agreement except with the concurrence of all other districts.

Little will be done tomorrow beyond the organizing of the convention, the seating of delegates and the reading of the address of President Mitchell. While the number of delegates is fewer by 300 than the regular national convention, the work of the credentials committee will be difficult, and the roll call will probably consume the greater part of tomorrow.

Secretary W. D. Ryan of Illinois, who arrived this afternoon, tonight said, while in company with President Mitchell, that there was no foundation for the report that a plan had been arranged for disposing of his resolution.

"If there is any plan, I have not heard of it," said Mr. Ryan. "I cannot say now what I will or will not do about the matter."

Neither Mr. Ryan nor Mr. Mitchell would say whether they thought it would be necessary to repeal the Ryan resolution in order to permit the holding of a joint conference of miners and bituminous operators.

Another resolution which, it is reported, will cause a stir in the convention is said to be one that will be introduced asking an appropriation from the national treasury to assist in the defense of officers of the Western Miners' Federation, who are charged with the death of former Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho.

Pennsylvania delegates said that former President Patrick Dolan of district No. 5 would be in Indianapolis tomorrow or Friday, and persist in presenting his claims to the delegates of the special convention for settlement.

President Mitchell had hoped today to present to the special convention of the anthracite miners his report as to the negotiations with the anthracite operators, but as all the members of the committee had not arrived no meeting was held. It is possible that the report will be presented tomorrow evening if the members of the committee reach Indianapolis.

There is little strike talk among the delegates.

OSCAR GOES HIGHER.

From Position of Waiter He Has Risen to Position in Waldorf-Astoria at High Salary.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Oscar, know to his family as Oscar Tschirky, but to the rest of the world as Oscar, of the Waldorf-Astoria, has taken one more leap upward in his career, and now occupies the office of Thomas H. Hillard, who retired recently as manager of the Waldorf.

From waiter at a few dollars a week and tips, he has risen to a place of tremendous responsibility as one of the managers of the largest hotels in America at a salary half as great as that of the president of the country, to which he came as a poor and friendless boy.

SWEETHEART HIS UNDOING.

Rheihold Kneuffer Is Placed Under Arrest on a Peace Warrant at Wooster.

WOOSTER, O., March 14.—(Special.)—Rheihold Kneuffer, aged 22, of Sterling, was jailed here this morning charged with sending threatening letters through the mails, and on a peace warrant, the latter at the instance of his sweetheart, Rosa Billheimer.

Kneuffer's attentions became distasteful to the girl and when she refused to see him, it is alleged, he wrote letters threatening to kill her and her father.

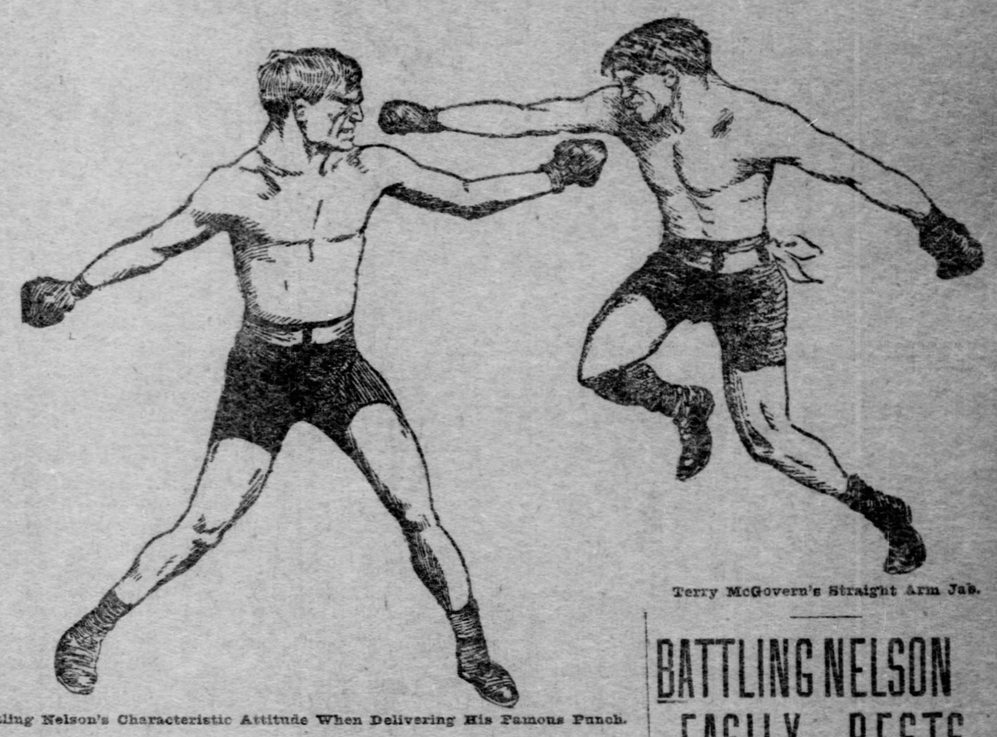
DIES OF A BROKEN HEART BESIDE HUSBAND'S CORPSE

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—There will be a double funeral Friday, when husband and wife will be buried side by side in Cypress Hills cemetery. John P. Marshall died of pneumonia at his home in South Second street, Brooklyn. His young wife, Mary E., threw herself across his body in a paroxysm of grief. "I cannot live without him," she cried. She died of a broken heart. Her last words were: "I am coming, dear John, to join you. The couple had been married four years.

CHIPPEWA SQUAW TO MARRY SUITOR OF OMAHA TRIBE

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(Special.)—Rosa Bowlassa, one of the charmers of the Chippewa tribe, of Michigan, is to be married here secretly on Thursday night to Francis La Flesche, a gallant suitor of the Omaha tribe. The bride is from Poconning, Mich., and Mr. La Flesche is an Indian clerk in Washington. He is from Nebraska.

NELSON RETAINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP AFTER FIGHTING DRAW WITH M'GOVERN



Battling Nelson's Characteristic Attitude When Delivering His Famous Punch.

BATTLING NELSON EASILY BESTS TERRY M'GOVERN

Dane Has the Best of the Six-Round Contest at Philadelphia—Disappoints Crowd.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, March 14.

"Battling" Nelson, considered the best among the lightweights of the world, showed his superiority over Terry McGovern in the six-round contest at the National Athletic club, Tuxedo hall tonight. The fight was Nelson's after the first round and Terry just tried to hold on all the way. It looked as if the Dane would have to put him out in another round. Taken all in all the fight is generally considered a disappointment and the first round was so weak that the men were greeted with hisses and groans when they retired to their corners.

At the beginning of the fourth round the men began to fight as though they meant business. Nelson kept right after McGovern and used a straight left to advantage. McGovern frequently countered with hard lefts and rights, but his blows, while they appeared to have great force behind them, failed to make an impression on the sturdy Dane. At the close of the fifth round, McGovern went to his corner in distress.

Terry Clinched Often.

When the men came up for the final round, Nelson sent a left to the jaw and McGovern rushed to a clinch. His seconds cried "Hold on Terry, hold on," and never were instructions carried out more thoroughly. Every time Nelson would land a stiff blow, McGovern would grab him around the body and hang on until Nelson would throw him off by sheer force.

There was some rough work in the early rounds by the Dane. He frequently used his right elbow and bore in on McGovern repeatedly with his head. Nelson deserved the decision, but as no decisions are rendered when both men are on their feet, the fight is classed as a draw. Neither man was knocked down during the fight, but McGovern slipped to the floor in the fifth round, while trying to escape from the Dane.

Nelson received $10,000 for appearing tonight and McGovern $7,500. Seated in the big hall were persons prominent in all walks of life and there were many who count their wealth by millions. Among those close to the ring was Harry Payne Whitney while John W. Gates and John A. Drake occupied seats only a few feet distant. Seated about the ring were Tom Sharkey, Jack McAuliffe, Brooklyn "Jimmy" Carroll, George Considine, John Considine, Tom O'Rourke, Paddy Roche and Mark Mayer.

Many Local Men There.

No less than 150 Pittsburghers were at the ringside, among them being Alex. Chambers, Rody Marshall, Alderman Steve Toole, Councilman J. P. Barry, Harry Williams, Jr., Theodore Barnsdall, John Hays and Max Leslie. The sporting fraternity was well represented by M. J. Connolly, Jimmy Mason, Joe Mashire, Yock Henninger, Butch Bowman, Billy Walker, Yank McCormick, Thayer Torreyson, Jake Adams, Joe Hughes and Sammy Friedman.

Not in the history of pugilism in this city was there so great a demand for seats as that occasioned by tonight's meeting. Pasteboards of admission which had been purchased by speculators at $10 apiece, commanded as much as $50 each, and $5 seats sold readily for $10 and $12. When the first preliminary was called at 8:30 there was not a vacant seat in the building, and scores of persons were standing in the gallery.

McGovern entered the ring at 10:05. He was given a tremendous ovation. His seconds were Hughey McGovern, Joe Humphries, John Burdick, Samuel Harris and Terry Lee. Nelson came on at about

WHAT THE FIGHTERS SAY.

I did the best I could, and I think Nelson knows he has been to a fight. He is a stone wall and can take punishment better than any other man I ever faced. I never was in serious trouble and am willing to take Nelson on for a 20-round fight. I do not think that he had enough of a mauling to call the "go" his.—TERRY McGOVERN.

I held McGovern safe at every point. Feeling him out in the first round, I found that I had little to fear, but was satisfied to show my superiority, and gave him no chance to land a knockout blow. I don't know how good a punch he had when he was champion, but he has one now that can make trouble for anyone. He is a clever, hard fighter and can whip most men of his weight.—BATTLING NELSON.

SPRING'S LAP IS GROWING TIRED OF COLD BURDEN

Struggle Between Her and Winter Growing Strenuous as Sun Mounts Higher.

The many who are disgusted with the weather conditions of the last two or three weeks, may take heart again at the word of the meteorological experts. The bad weather means a breaking up of winter, they say. Spring, tired of winter's persistent lingering, is now engaged in kicking the old fellow out of her lap.

Who is going to win? That is still problematical. So far as the weather experts know, winter may regain the strangle hold which spring almost succeeded in loosening, and again spring may secure the half-nelson which will enable her to down the old fellow for good. It looked two days ago as if winter had secured fresh footing, but the snow he shook out of the skies began to melt yesterday and all over the country higher temperatures were reported. For example, it was 30 degrees below zero in Montana on Tuesday night, and last night the temperature there had risen to six degrees below.

According to the weather bureau the disagreeable weather, the frequent and abrupt alternations between cold and mild, are due to the breaking up of winter conditions.

IS KIDNAPER'S VICTIM.

Mutilated Body Thrown Into Canal Is That of Man Who Allowed Boy to Escape.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—From the description of the dead man, whose weighted body was found in the Morris canal near the Forest Hill Golf club links in Newark, Detective Petrosini of this city is satisfied that he was one of the kidnapers who kept Antonio Pozzussi, the son of a Brooklyn banker, a prisoner in a house in East Fifty-ninth street, this borough, and forced him to demand $20,000 ransom from his father under the penalty of death.

The theory is that the dead man was left on guard, but became frightened of the police and permitted the boy to escape. The kidnaping band, seeking revenge, it is believed, lured the man to a lonely spot and killed him.

REVIVAL PROVES FATAL.

Curtis Smith Grows So Excited Over Religion That His Heart Ceases to Beat.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—(Special.)—Excitement over the Torrey-Alexander revival caused the death today of Curtis Smith, a young insurance agent, living at 2633 South Rosewood street. Smith was a member of the Greenwich Presbyterian church and his friends say that he was just as good as any Christian man could be. But he went to one of the Torrey-Alexander revival meetings and got "converted."

From that time he thought of nothing but the Torrey-Alexander meetings. He was very anxious to tell what the meetings had done for him and requested the evangelists to let him take the platform and give his testimony. This he would have done tonight had he been alive. Heart failure was the cause of his death, and the physicians called to his bedside said it was the result of the religious fanaticism into which he had drifted.

AGED WOMAN AND SON MEET DEATH TOGETHER

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Dying as they had lived, each the sole companion of the other for years, Mrs. Rose Hyslip, 63 years old, and her invalid son, Joseph, who was 59, were found in their apartment early today asphyxiated by illuminating gas. They occupied adjoining rooms and the doors of both were open. In the kitchen an open gas jet explained the source of the deadly fumes.

GETS HIS HEART'S DESIRE BY GOING TO VIENNIA FOR HER

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Martin Laing of Oklahoma City has arrived on the Kroonland, with his bride, who was Miss Marie Luppi of Vienna.

"What do you most desire in the world?" she cabled last Christmas day.

"You," he replied. "Come and get me," cabled Marie. He went.

SEVEN HUNDRED REMONSTRANCES ARE TO BE FILED

Six Hundred by Anti-Saloon League and 100 by Allegheny W. C. T. U.

Six hundred remonstrances against applicants for and those already holding retail liquor licenses, are to be filed today by the Anti-Saloon league. These have been prepared under the direction of the force employed by the league at the offices of their attorneys Eichenauer & Ache. In the list are many of the best-known downtown dealers, and while individual instances of disobedience of the general rules of court will be shown, yet the attorneys will try to point out the general character of the applicant, and not give evidence alone on single cases of violation of the law.

"As soon as the remonstrances are filed we will gladly furnish a bill of particulars to every applicant remonstrated against, and give him or them every opportunity to disprove the charges and get evidence in his or their own behalf," said Attorney Paul S. Ache.

Attorney W. W. McNair represents the Women's Christian Temperance union of Allegheny, and that organization has been for some time been looking up the records of the Allegheny applicants. This is the outgrowth of the Good Government party. They expect to file at least 100 remonstrances today.

GIRL HITS BACK HARD.

When Board Barricades School Against Her She Dismisses Pupils for the Whole Term.

DERBY, CONN., March 14.—(Special.)—The tables were turned today on Miss Helen Litchfield, the young Chaplin teacher who for a week has been defying the school board by refusing to give way to her duly appointed successor, who is a man. This morning Miss Litchfield found the entrance to the school house barred by a big iron padlock. Assembling the pupils before her she told them they were dismissed for the remainder of the term.

A mass meeting has been called for next Monday afternoon to take action on the tangle and much feeling has been engendered. Miss Litchfield lost her position by compelling the 12-year-old son of E. A. Fink, an influential citizen, to sit on the platform for passing notes.

IN PERIL IN SUBWAY.

Express Jumps Track and Panic Follows While Traffic Is Delayed for Hours.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Hundreds of subway passengers were put in peril this morning, when the rear trucks of the third car of an express train, southbound, left the tracks at the Spring street curve. The third car jumped along the track for a train's length. Traffic was at once stopped on that track, and for two hours and 30 minutes the subway stations were blocked by crowds of angry and frightened passengers.

Women in the car which was partly derailed screamed and became panic-stricken, but were calmed by the men. In less than 40 minutes the block on the express track had extended to the Grand Central station, and traffic on all tracks was delayed until after 11 o'clock.

BOMB SMASHES FRONT OF WHOLESALE GROCERY

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Some one threw a bomb early this morning at the front of the six-story building of Clark, Chapin and Bushnell, wholesale grocers, in Duane street, and the explosion smashed several large plate glass windows and knocked over stacks of canned goods and cases of groceries inside. The damage was about $200. Members of the firm say it was the work of striking teamsters or their allies.

MINERS AND FAMILIES START FOR EUROPEAN VISIT

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—A big trainload of miners, with their wives and families, arrived in Jersey City over the Philadelphia & Reading railroad this morning from the coal mines of Pennsylvania, enroute to their old homes in Europe for a summer vacation. They were evidently prosperous, warmly clad and well burdened with luggage.

the same time. He was followed by his manager, Billy Nolan; Kid Abell, Eddie Kelly and Johnny Loftus, his seconds. Jimmy Gardner was in Nelson's corner.

The cheering for the Dane had scarcely ceased until the scales were brought into the ring and the weighing was done in full view of the spectators. Their exact weights were not announced, but both were under 133 pounds. After a flashlight photograph had been taken of the two men, the referee called the men to the center of the ring and gave them instructions. A minute later the fight was on.

Round One—Nelson missed a left and both clinched and it was 20 seconds before they separated. The crowd hissed and Nelson led with left to head. They again clinched and the referee warned McGovern for holding. There was another clinch and McGovern sent a hard left to the head. They were clinched at the bell and as they went to their corners there was nothing but hisses.

Round Two—McGovern missed a left for the wind and then they again began to wrestle. McGovern left to wind and left and right to head. They rushed to a clinch and then McGovern drove a right to the head which jarred the Battler. Nelson was cautioned for using his shoulder. Nelson missed a straight left and again they clinched. The boys did not move six feet from the center of the ring and were still clinched at the bell. Groans and hisses greeted the men as they went to their corners.

Round Four—McGovern swung wild with his right, but drove a left to wind. Nelson sent a left to the face and then they clinched and wrestled across the ring. Nelson pounded McGovern's kidneys in the clinch. Nelson sent a light left to face and McGovern missed a swing for the jaw. Nelson was growing stronger, while McGovern seemed to be weakening. Nelson sent a hard left and a right to the jaw and McGovern was weak as he went to his corner. It was the first round in which there was any real fighting.

Round Six—Nelson missed a right swing and they rushed to a clinch. McGovern missed a right for the wind and then sent a right uppercut to the wind. Nelson sent a light left to the face and then missed a terrific right for McGovern's chin. Nelson drove McGovern into a neutral corner and landed two hard blows on the wind. McGovern was almost out when the gong sounded. It was Nelson's fight.

CANNOT RECALL VOTE.

Homestead Councilman Who Elected His Opponent Chairman Fails to Remedy His Mistake.

John G. Silveus, one of the two claimants to the chairmanship of Homestead council, last night failed to muster a quorum for a meeting he had called earlier in the day. At the organization of the council two weeks ago Silveus, who belongs to the Citizens party, cast a complimentary vote for Frank Erbedk, a Republican, and was astonished to discover that his vote elected his opponent. He immediately recalled his vote, but the Republicans declare that Erbeck was legally elected.

Silveus and six of his adherents responded to the call for a meeting last night, but Councilman Harry Haley, a supposed supporter of Silveus, whose presence was needed to make a quorum, could not be found. The police scoured the borough in a vain search for Haley and other councilmen, but none could be found.

ST. JOHN IN TOILS.

After Judge Releases Him He Is Rearrested on a Charge of Murder.

BOISE, IDAHO, March 14.—Vincent St. John, president of the Miners' union at Burke, Idaho, who was arrested February 18, charged with complicity in the death of former Gov. Steunenberger, was released today on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge George N. Stewart of the district court.

When St. John stepped from the court room a detective arrested him on a warrant issued by a justice of the peace at Caldwell, charging St. John with murder. St. John was taken to the county jail. Tomorrow he will be taken to Caldwell for preliminary examination. Sheriff Rutan has a requisition for St. John.

PARKER MAKES PREDICTION.

Late Democratic Nominee Says Mr. Roosevelt Will Again Accept Nomination.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., March 14.—(Special.)—Judge Parker, the late Democratic nominee for the presidency, passing through Birmingham today en route home from Mississippi, where yesterday he delivered an address before the legislature of that state, expressed the opinion that President Roosevelt would again accept the nomination of the Republican party. When asked why he held this opinion, Mr. Parker gave no answer.

He intimated that Secretary Taft's willingness to accept a position on the supreme court bench would remove from the President's way a probable candidate. He would make no predictions concerning the next Democratic nominee.

MINERS TO CITE PUDDLERS' WAGE

Advance Made to Steel Workers Will Be Used as Argument in Indianapolis.

OTHER UNIONS TAKE INTEREST

Local delegates to the United Mine Workers' convention, which convenes in Indianapolis today, were encouraged before their departure last night by the announcement that puddlers had been granted a 25 cent wage advance by the Republic Iron and Steel company yesterday at the bi-monthly adjustment. This concession raises the wages of puddlers from $5.75 to $6 a ton, the highest paid for many years. Finishers were advanced 2 per cent.

The wage rate for puddlers is based on the selling price of bar iron, which is now quotable at $1.60. And the agreements as made by the Republic Iron and Steel company are the gauge by which all other steel corporations fix their wage scale, so that the advance granted yesterday will be general.

In the past the wage rate of puddlers has done much to influence the scale for coal miners. Three years ago the miners cited the puddlers' rate, which had enjoyed an advance, in making their argument to the operators, and the miners received an advance. Two years ago the puddlers were working on a low wage scale and the miners sustained a 5.55 per cent reduction. With the puddlers now enjoying a higher wage rate than has existed for many years the miners propose to use this fact as an argument in their own behalf.

Operators were non-committal yesterday when asked as to the influence of the advance to the puddlers would have upon the coal situation, but admitted that previously wage scales with miners had moved in harmony with those in the steel trade.

The seriousness of the controversy between the operators and miners has been fully realized by the various trades union alliances in the past few days, and such organizations as the American Federation of Labor, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and others equally important, have had emissaries in this field consulting with manufacturers and industrial interests on the probable effect of a coal strike on labor.

The far-reaching influences of a coal strike among all labor organizations has been an experience which these organizations have already suffered, and these kindred organizations have been using their influence during the past week with the United Mine Workers, urging a peaceful conclusion on a compromise basis, if possible. The meeting of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor today in Washington, simultaneously with the session of the mine workers, is by no means a coincidence, and the presence of United States Labor Commissioner Feli in Indianapolis at this time is accepted as a reflection of the interest in the situation which President Roosevelt has been taking.

Local delegates to the Indianapolis convention left for that city last night, Patrick Dolan, Uriah Bellingham and their constituents leaving over the Panhandle at 9:15, and the opposing forces over the Wabash an hour earlier. Before leaving Dolan declared that he would be heard on the convention floor, and will defend his former vote with the operators on the ground that he was opposed to the Ryan resolution. He said he had been informed he would be mobbed if he appeared in the convention, but declared that such a trifling procedure would in no way influence him.

WOMAN THREATENS TO KILL FINANCIERS

Widow Who Has Bothered J. Pierpont Morgan and His Son for Five Years Is Arrested.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 14.—At a hearing in the private chambers of Magistrate Wahle in the Tombs police court today, Mrs. C. B. Williams, an English woman, who resides at the Hoffman house, was committed to Bellevue hospital to be examined as to her sanity. Mrs. Williams is said to be a widow and of good connections. She was arrested this afternoon in front of the offices of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Williams protested when ordered to the hospital, and said she was the victim of a plot planned by J. P. Morgan. When removed from the magistrate's chambers she struggled desperately, and gave the five policemen who had her in charge, all they could do to get her into a carriage.

It is said that the name Williams is probably a fictitious one. She is about 40 or 45 years of age, and is reputed to have been at one time a very wealthy woman, but is said to have lost considerably by bad investments. Since March 9 she has been daily to the offices of Morgan & Co., demanding to see Mr. Morgan, who is in Europe, or his son, J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr. On the occasion of each of her visits it is alleged she threatened to shoot and kill the financier and his son.

DISCUSS CHILD LABOR.

State Federation of Labor Does Not Approve of Last Legislature's Action.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—Child labor, the initiative and referendum, the state constabulary, capital and labor and a variety of other matters, were discussed at today's session of the State Federation of labor. E. E. Greenwalt of Lancaster presided and Cornelius Ford, president of the New Jersey Federation of Labor, in a lengthy address asked that action be taken in favor of the initiative and referendum and child labor.

Richard Braunschweig, one of the organizers of the American Federation of Labor, attacked the Pennsylvania legislature for passing the state constabulary bill, which he declared was framed to help the mine owners in case of a strike.

GOV. PENNYPACKER IS THE GUEST OF HONOR

Prominent Men Pay Respects to Keystone State Governor at Club Reception.

Special Telegram From
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A reception was given by the Pennsylvania club this evening in honor of Gov. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania. It was attended by a large number of prominent officials, senators and representatives who called to pay their respects to the chief executive of the Keystone state. Gov. Pennypacker and Col. W. H. Andrews, president of the club, received. The clubhouse is one of the handsomest in Washington and the organization is a large and prosperous one. Men prominent in Republican politics from every part of Pennsylvania were among the guests. More than 2,250 invitations were issued for the event.

The reception was one of the principal events of the season. Among those in attendance were Senators Knox and Penrose, Vice President Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and Solicitor General Hoyt. On the receiving line with Gov. Pennypacker and President Andrews were Representatives Dalzell, Olmsted, LaFean and Bates.

The governor was entertained at dinner previous to the reception by the club. There were present Senator Penrose, Representatives Olmsted and LaFean, Speaker Walton, Charles Heustis and ex-Senator David Martin. There was much talk of gubernatorial candidates at the reception and among the guests were a number of men ambitious to head the ticket.

FIRE THREATENS SEA WEED, RAGS AND PICTURE MACHINE

Tobies Are Also Subjected to Smoke, but Are Spared by Vigilent Work of Allegheny Department.

Sea weeds, rags and tobies were so gravely threatened with destruction by fire in Allegheny last night that two alarms were sent into the city fire department. By vigilant work some of the sea weed was saved, and the rags and tobies were spared from injury.

The fire was discovered in the works of the Diamond Mattress Company at Cherry street and Saw Mill alley. After some difficulty the firemen located the flames in a pile of sea weed used for mattress filling. Application of water did not materially damage the sea weed. Much effort was successfully directed toward preventing the fire from spreading to a rag factory in the rear of the building. The loss is placed at $500, and is covered by insurance. The building is also occupied by the National Toby Company, but the tobies were not damaged by smoke.

Fire consumed a moving picture machine at 19 McClure avenue, Allegheny, shortly before 8 o'clock last night. Fortunately no audience was assembled at the time aside from the operator, and no panic ensued. Aside from the machine, a valuable roll of films, entitled "The Fire Fighters," was consumed by the flames.

FALLS FROM THE STAGE.

Maude Adams Rescued from Perilous Position, Being Thrown Over the Footlights.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—A large audience at today's matinee performance of "Peter Pan" in the Empire theater, saw Miss Maude Adams rescued from what might have proven a most serious accident.

Just as the curtain fell on the third act of the play Miss Adams was called before the curtain. Someone threw a large bouquet of roses to her. Miss Adams started forward to pick up the roses, but before she reached the footlights the huge drop curtain, moved by the draught, bulged out, struck her, and she was thrown forward over the footlights.

Mr. Gustave Saenger, the leader of the orchestra, leaned forward quickly and caught her, just as her feet were leaving the footlights trough.

SERVICES FOR POLICEMEN.

Initial Religious Meetings in Pittsburgh Station House Will Be Held Today.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, under the leadership of Prof. D. P. Stout, a singing evangelist of Philadelphia, will be conducted the first religious services ever held in a police station in Pittsburgh. Meetings of a religious character in the penitentiary and in the jail are common, but this will be the initial attempt at holding services for the policemen. The exercises will be held at No. 7 station house.

Prof. Stout, better known as the "Second Ira D. Sankey," is at present holding revival meetings in the Maple Avenue Baptist church, Knoxville. He possesses a remarkably fine baritone voice. Besides the singing service, which will be held today just before the policemen go out on their afternoon beats, there will be another meeting held at 2:30 Sunday morning.

Subpoena Five College Boys.

BEAVER, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—The defense in the case brought by President Staples of Beaver college against Joe and Paul West, Jesse Hineman and William Reed for the pranks at Beaver college, subpoenaed five college boys as witnesses this afternoon. They are Carl Clifton, William Fisher, Ollie Hineman, Verner A. Arnold and William Barr. Sixteen girls from the college dormitory were subpoenaed several days ago. The case will probably be tried Friday.

Italians Narrowly Escape Cremation.

Ten Italian laborers on the Wabash railroad improvements at Buttermilk Hollow, near Homestead, were nearly cremated Tuesday night when their shanty caught fire from an overheated stove. The smoke confused them and it was only after considerable difficulty that they escaped from the building in their night clothes. The building was burned to the ground.

TELL OF PLOT TO KILL PARKHURST

It Is Alleged Offer Was Made to Man to Club Famous Police Reformer to Death.

POLICE CAPTAIN IS INVOLVED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 14.—An alleged plot to assassinate the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, following the recent municipal election in this city, inspired, it is asserted, by a police official and in revenge for raids made upon certain places by agents of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, known also as the Parkhurst society, was revealed today, when District Attorney Jerome summoned in John Doe proceedings Acting Capt. John H. Shiels of the West One Hundredth street police station; John Phelan, a plain clothes policeman, and two civilians, Richard Wilson and L. Rogers.

A hearing will be held tomorrow afternoon before Magistrate Wahle in the Tombs police court and the witnesses summoned today will be asked to tell what they know of the alleged plot.

Rogers, one of the witnesses, and a man named Kelly were employed during the last campaign by the Citizens' Union. A few days after the election Rogers told Kelly, it is alleged, of the plot to kill Dr. Parkhurst. According to statements already made, Rogers said he was approached by a policeman and asked if he would take the task of killing Dr. Parkhurst. It is declared that the policeman said a police official would pay $500 for the work, and Rogers asked Kelly if he was willing to go into the scheme, asking for his part $200, which he (Rogers) would get the remainder of the sum.

It is further alleged that Rogers saw this police official and talked the matter over with him at length, and finally came to the conclusion that he would not resort to murder.

"I will beat him," Rogers is alleged to have said to the police official, "but I won't kill him."

According to the statements said to be in possession of the district attorney and counsel for the Society for the Prevention of Crime, the police officials insisted that Dr. Parkhurst be put out of the way. Then it was that Rogers became afraid and put the matter before Richard Wilson, a 21-year-old clerk. It is further alleged that Wilson saw the official and had an interview with him, but that Dr. Parkhurst's name was not mentioned.

What developed after these interviews with the police official has not yet been learned. At that time Parkhurst was in Europe for his usual summer vacation and did not return to this city until fall. After Kelly had heard of the plot he went to Dr. Parkhurst and repeated all that had been told him. Following this Wilson and Rogers were continually shadowed by detectives.

The investigations reached such a point that last Monday it was decided to take Wilson and Rogers up for examination. For 12 hours Wilson was plied with questions. Rogers was questioned, but it was not necessary to go to such length with him. Both were taken before Magistrate Wahle, where they made affidavits. Today's developments followed. As a result of the Parkhurst raids a police official was dismissed from the force, but later was reinstated.

Acting Capt. of Police Sheils, who was summoned by Mr. Jerome to appear at the hearing tomorrow emphatically denied tonight all knowledge of the alleged plot to kill Dr. Parkhurst. "I don't know of any reason why I should want to have Dr. Parkhurst killed," said Sheils. "He has done nothing to me." When told of the affidavits made by Rogers and Wilson, Sheils declared the statements by the men were absolutely untrue if they connected him with the alleged plot in any manner whatever.

COMMISSION QUITS KANSAS.

Adjourns Investigation of Oil Companies After Hearing Much Testimony.

KANSAS CITY, MO., March 14.—The interstate commerce commission today completed its investigations into the methods of the Standard Oil Company and the railroads in dealing with the independent oil producers of Kansas. The commission adjourned to meet at a time and place to be designated later. Commissioner Cockrell tonight said:

"This is just a start. We will go to Washington and investigate the oil and coal business. We must secure a great deal of information from the railroads. The question of ownership of the railroads must be settled, the trouble will come when we undertake to learn the ownership of all these concerns. We must try to give every one a fair chance."

INDIANS EVADE OFFICERS.

Posse of United States Deputy Marshals Still in Pursuit and Arrest Fifteen Cherokees.

VINITA, I. T., March 14.—Reported probable uprising of Cherokee Indians is an unwarranted exaggeration, according to United States Marshal W. H. Dorrough, who reached Vinita this afternoon from Spavinaw, after chasing the Wickliffe outlaws for two days. Marshal Darrough arrested 15 Indians on a charge of harboring and assisting the Wickliffe brothers, who killed a deputy marshal last Sunday. These 15 Indians were brought to Vinita today and placed in the territorial Federal jail.

Marshal Darrough said that while the Indians are favorable to the Wickliffes there is no danger of an uprising. A battle is expected with the Wickliffes before they are captured.

CEREBRO-SPINAL MENINGITIS TAKES THEIR SECOND CHILD

New York Life Opposes Change.

NEW YORK, March 14.—A resolution declaring that vast interests will be jeopardized by passage of legislation providing for the election of all members of the board of trustees of insurance companies at a single election to be held this year, was adopted today by the trustees of the New York Life Insurance Company. This measure is proposed by the legislative insurance investigating committee's report.

Fire in Downtown District.

Fire early this morning in the show room and warehouse of the W. B. Scaife & Sons Company at 223 First avenue damaged the building and stock to the amount of about $500. The fire was confined to the rear part of the second floor. The loss was chiefly caused by smoke and water. The store of the J. B. Booth Company adjoining the Scaife building was also damaged by water.

Property Too Expensive for Theater.

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—The prices demanded for downtown property are prohibitive, according to the statement today of representatives of Nixon & Zimmerman of Pittsburgh, who were here trying to secure options upon sites for a new theater. Clifford W. Watson offered 30 feet frontage with a depth of 160 feet in North Jefferson street for $40,000.

Will View the Thaw Estate.

UNIONTOWN, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—William R. Thompson, Benjamin Thaw and A. Bair Thaw, trustees under the will of the late William Thaw, have had a petition presented to court here, and seven viewers have been appointed to assess certain damages done the estate by appropriating about three acres of land near Olivet. The viewers will meet April 10 to make their award.

GOLFERS ARE BUSY ON SOUTHERN LINKS

Charles B. Fownes, Jr., of Pittsburgh Is Third Among a Host of Experts.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 14.—(Special.)—Eighty-three players drove off from the first tee today in the second annual spring tournament, 79 handing in cards, four divisions of 16 each qualifying for the match play rounds for the president's, secretary's, treasurer's and captain's cups.

Keen play throughout was the rule, L. D. Pierce of the Woodland Golf club, of Auburndale, Mass., leading the field with a card of 77, and winning the gold medal offered for the best score in qualification by a margin of three strokes from C. L. Becker, of the same club, who made 80. Charles B. Fownes, Jr., of the Oakmont club, Pittsburgh, was a close third in 81; Allan Lard of Columbia, fourth, in 82 and J. P. Foote of Apawamis, and L. F. Wardwell of Megunticook, tied for fifth at 83.

The second round in the women's match play handicap today was postponed on account the tournament, and two rounds will be played tomorrow.

RELIEVING POOR PEOPLE LIVING IN ALLEGHENY

Director Hunneshagen Makes His Annual Report—How the Money Is Spent.

Director Hunneshagen of the Allegheny department of charities in his report for the year ended February 28, 1906, shows that the receipts from all sources were 18,876.15 and the total expenses $82,516.84, as against $83,129.85 for the preceding year. The cost of running the city home was $32,356.67, city office 5,775.29, outdoor relief $12,077.77, a decrease of about 3,000 from the preceding year, and other city expenses, such as city hospitals, Dixmont patients, etc., $7,165.31. The report also shows that 15,600 bushels of coal were distributed, 2,237 grocery orders, 466 pairs of shoes and that the inspectors made 422 visits.

At the end of the year the total number of inmates in the city home was 480, 282 white males and 5 colored males, and 138 white females and 5 colored females.

A total of 696 patients was cared for during the year, 74 of which died and 192 were discharged. There were three births. In the insane department were 200 patients, 147 of which were white males, 3 colored males, 105 white females and 5 colored females; 30 deaths, 38 discharged as cured and 194 remaining at the end of the year.

The farm products were all good with the exception of the potato crop which was almost a failure, only 440 bushels having been raised.

PLAN BIG STEEL MERGER.

Wall Street Has Report That Three Companies Are to Be Brought Under One Head.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—It became known in Wall street today that efforts are being made to form a new steel and iron merger which, if the scheme of the promoters is carried through, will result in the consolidation of the Diamond State Steel Company, the Tidewater Steel Company and the Chapman Iron, Coal and Coke Company. Owing to the preliminary plans it is proposed to form a concern with about $8,000,000 of capital and $4,000,000 of bonds. The sale of the bonds will provide about $2,000,000 working capital for the concern.

If the present plans concerning the three companies are a success, it is proposed to provide coal and iron ore from the Chapman Iron, Coal and Coke Company by way of Newport News up the Delaware river to the two plants. In the last few years both concerns have been compelled to buy pig iron for manufacturing purposes.

ROMAN CASES DISMISSED.

Woman's Prosecutor Fails to Appear at Hearing and Sensational Testimony Is Not Given.

The charges against Mrs. Nellie Roman of Chicago and Louis Ladas, with whom she is alleged to have eloped, were withdrawn before Justice Campbell of Bellevue last night when the woman's brother-in-law, Emil Besnot, the prosecutor, failed to appear. Nicholas Roman, her husband, was present, and said he would not press the case. He said Besnot acted in his behalf.

Mrs. Roman and Ladas were arrested in Federal street, Allegheny, on March 8 by Constable White, after she had created a scene by pulling the noses of her husband and brother-in-law. She declared her marriage to Roman was the result of a conspiracy and promised sensational testimony at the hearing.

Took Carbolic Acid by Mistake.

Mrs. Mary Kennelly, aged 53 years, of 4805 Hatfield street, went to her medicine case shortly after 11 o'clock last night and in the dark took a bottle which she supposed was medicine that she had been using and placing it to her mouth took a large draught of it. It was carbolic acid, and a few minutes later she fell to the floor in a semi-unconscious condition. She was discovered by her daughter Catherine. She was taken to the West Penn hospital in the ambulance and at 2 o'clock this morning it was stated at the hospital she would recover.

Millvale to Have a Fountain.

The committee in charge of the public fountain at Millvale has collected about $800, which will be more than enough to cover the cost of the fountain.

BLACK HUNDREDS TO BE SUPPRESSED

TO CAUSE BREAK IN MINISTRY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 14.—At today's session of the cabinet, Premier Witte, who was warmly supported by Prince Alexis Obolensky, procurator general of the holy synod, and Count John Tolstoi, minister of education, insisted on the suppression of the organization known as the "League of the Russian People," through which the agitation of the reactionary "Black Hundred" is propagated.

The police prefect, M. von Der Launitz, was summoned to the meeting and asked to explain how it happened that the publication of the proclamation calling for the extermination of the Jews was printed in the official printing office attached to his department. The prefect denied having any personal knowledge of the printing. However, it was established that there is constantly accumulating evidence that the plot to produce a counter revolution in the hope of sweeping away the reforms outlined in the manifesto of October 30, had its origin in a court cabal.

The conspiracy includes Gen. Trepoff, commandant of the palace; Gen. Count Ignatieff, M. Stichinsky, former chief adjutant of the interior department; Count Sheremeteff, a noted reactionary, and Gen. Prince Putiatin, who are said to be utterly reckless of consequences. The plan is to provoke riots and massacres of the Jews and revolutionists over an area as wide as possible, in order to justify still more terrible repressions, and thereby prove to the emperor that the people are not ripe for any sort of self-government. It is a desperate game, but it is backed by many of the provincial authorities, and the support of the governors general has been enlisted, the former using the police and the latter the troops, among whom proclamations against the Jews and revolutionists, which are understood to have been printed at the army headquarters in Odessa, have been distributed.

The complicity of Interior Minister Durnovo in the conspiracy is not proved, although suspected. Premier Witte and the Liberal section of the cabinet will be compelled to fight the conspiracy, and consequently a break in the ministry is not regarded as improbable.

It is understood that there are 50,000 members of the "Black Hundred" in St. Petersburg, but it is not believed, in view of the warnings they have received, that the conspirators will attempt to provoke a massacre at the capital.

The authorities here, however, are in sympathy with the conspirators, and the danger of an outbreak about Easter is regarded as very real.

In the meantime on the other side of the proletariat organizations, which were ruthlessly crushed by the government's repression measures, are trying to organize another general strike. Negotiations are proceeding with telegraph and railroad employes, whose co-operation is regarded as vital to this end. The socialists of Finland have promised their support. Some rioting has already occurred in Moscow and in the vicinity.

The Strana (Country), says that M. Durnovo has telegraphed to the governors of 10 provinces in Poland not to proclaim the elections until further orders.

THREE MEN BADLY HURT BY PIPE FALLING ON THEM

Accidents Are Similar, but Occur in Three Different Places in McKeesport District.

Three men were severely injured in similar accidents at three different places in the McKeesport district yesterday. In each case the men were caught under falling pipe. They are:

ALEX TRINE, at the galvanizing works in Versailles; back bruised and cut about the body.

DAYLIGHT PROBABLY LOST.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Special.)—Announcement of the probable loss of the British ship Daylight was made at the maritime exchange today. The fate of her crew of 28 men is unknown. The Daylight belongs to the Standard Oil Company and is one of the largest sailing vessels in the world. She left here on August 28, 198 days ago, for Japan, and has been heard from but once. Standard Oil officials fear she is lost. Vessels which started two months after the Daylight have arrived in Japan.

During the last part of October a terrific storm swept the South Atlantic and in the vicinity of Cape of Good Hope around which the Daylight should have passed on her way to Japan. The belief is that the ship met this blow and came to grief.

Congratulate Louis Hirsch.

At a meeting of the German Press club yesterday afternoon a resolution was unanimously adopted congratulating Louis Hirsch, business manager of the Volksblatt and Freheits-Freund, on his election to council as a representative of the Twentieth ward. The club also expressed the hope that Mr. Hirsch would always defend the interests of personal liberty.

Came Near Dying

Another Great Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Charles L. Hutchins is well known and popular in S. Royalton, Vt., being driver of the stage to and from Chelsea. He says of his boy Arthur, now 15, whose portrait appears below:

"He fell on the mill dam and injured his hip. An abscess developed and dreadful sickness followed. The doctors lanced the abscess and later performed an operation in the Mary Fletcher Hospital in Burlington. Arthur came near dying after the operation, but we got him home and neighbors said he would certainly die. In the spring I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, as usual, and gave Arthur a little each day. After a week or two there was a great change in the boy. He seemed hungry, and one day surprised us by exclaiming, 'How good my food tastes!' We could soon see the color coming into his face, as day by day he got better, seemed more lively and took more interest in things.

"The sore is now entirely healed, there is no pain in hip or limb. Arthur goes to school every day and his health could not be better. To our friends his cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla seems miraculous."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, eliminates scrofulous tendencies, cures dyspepsia and kidney troubles, gives Sound Health, Restful Sleep. It creates good appetite, relieves all symptoms of dyspepsia, makes one feel better, look better, eat and sleep better.

SPECIAL.—To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as in the usual liquid form. By reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient except the alcohol. Of druggists, or mailed if your druggist does not have them. 100 doses $1. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

O'BRIEN AND ROBB ARE IN THE FIELD

ROBB REPLIES TO OPPONENT

Attorney Charles A. O'Brien and Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., yesterday announced themselves as candidates for the Republican nomination for district attorney. Mr. O'Brien's battle cry will be "reform in the district attorney's office." Mr. Robb says he will stand or fall by his record in office.

The announcement of Mr. O'Brien's candidacy was made in an open letter to lawyers, as follows:

To the Members of the Allegheny County Bar:

Recognizing the fact that the members of the bar are intimately concerned in the administration of the district attorney's office, I deem it proper, in announcing my candidacy for the nomination on the Republican ticket for this position, to say plainly and clearly what I intend to do in the event of being elected.

In my judgment radical changes in methods and system are required in this office, to advance, adjust and adapt it to the present conditions and necessities of this great community. As this reform can only be effected, or at least can be best effected, by new men, I would immediately reorganize the office force. This change of administration has become imperative in the public mind, and I believe should be made, to properly expedite the public business and to establish a more efficient service. I would not accept the nomination or desire election, with any other purpose or upon any other condition.

Should these views meet your approval, I respectfully solicit your earnest support for my nomination and election.

During the day District Attorney Stewart announced formally that he would not be a candidate for re-election. His first assistant, Mr. Robb, when apprised of that fact by a reporter, said that he would be a candidate; that he had hitherto witheld the announcement, as, if Maj. Stewart had decided to run he would not have entered the field.

Mr. O'Brien's open letter was read to Mr. Robb, and he was asked if he had any statement to make in reply to it.

"It is quite characteristic of Mr. O'Brien," said Mr. Robb. "Mr. O'Brien knows nothing about the business of the district attorney's office, and for a person like him on the outside to talk as he does is a proof of what I say. The real test of the success or failure of the district attorney's office is what has been done, how many indictments have been returned and tried, how many prosecutions have been successfully conducted. I am ready to stand or fall by the record of the district attorney's office under the management of Maj. Stewart. I will make my campaign on that record and on my own record of 12 years as assistant district attorney. I am a candidate, and will be in the field until the votes are counted."

OPERA SEASON A SUCCESS.

The Financial End as Well as the Social and Artistic Now Assured.

Today is the fourth day of the public sale of seats for single performances of the Conried metropolitan opera season, which begins at the Nixon theater on Monday, March 26. The record of the first three days leaves absolutely no question as to the financial success of the season. If the artistic side of the opera is as strong as the financial aspect, then the opera-going portion of Pittsburgh will surely have cause to congratulate itself, and Mr. Conried's musical celebrities can be counted upon to appear here for a week annually hereafter.

The rivalry between the French and Italian sections, on the one hand, and the German section on the other, as manifested by the supporters who are buying the tickets, is more marked every day. It is hard to decide which standard floats the highest. The supporters of Caruso, Dippel, Eames, Sembrich, Abott, Scotti, Campanarl and Plancon, the exponents of the Italian and French school, evidence their interest by heavy purchases for "Carmen," "La Boheme," "Faust," "Nozzi di Figaro" and "Don Pasquale," while the admirers of Fremstad, Walker, Nomer, Rappold, Allan, Abarbanell, Knote, Burgstaller, Van Rooy, Goritz, Blass, are in no whit behind in their demands upon the box office for bookings for "Queen of Sheba," "Lohengrin," "Die Walkuere" and "Haensel und Gretel."

It will be noted that Pittsburgh's own prominent contribution to the greatness of Mr. Conried's company, Mme. Homer, is not heard in any of the French and Italian operas this year, but appears in "Lohengrin," "Die Walkuere," and as the witch in the beautiful novelty of the season, "Haensel und Gretel." In this opera Mme. Homer sinks her identity, and the charms of her physical person in the character of "Die Hexe" and assumes a make-up in which her most intimate friend would not recognize her.

NAMES COMMITTEE.

M. & M. Takes Initial Step Toward Holding Its Annual Meeting.

E. J. Lloyd, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, today appointed the following nominating committee: Edward Snodgrass, Jr., chairman; A. M. Scott, W. B. Wolfe, W. C. Moreland and C. M. Gerwig. This committee will select candidates for directors to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the term of the following directors: H. W. Neely, C. W. Costello, Otto Heeron, Robert Garland, Edward Snodgrass, Jr., Charles H. Ogden and W. T. Todd.

The annual meeting of the association will be held at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, April 3, for the election of directors. Immediately after the annual meeting the directors will convene for the election of an executive committee of five, a president, first, second and third vice presidents, treasurer, secretary and a counsel, to serve during the ensuing fiscal year.

PROBLEMS IN THE CHURCH.

Dr. Laurens McLure Lectures in the Parish House of Trinity.

The Rev. Dr. Laurens McLure lectured in the auditorium of the new parish house of Trinity Episcopal church last night on "The Call to the Church of the Twentieth Century." The lecture was the second in the course on the general topic of "Civic and Social Righteousness" which Dr. Alfred W. Arundel, Trinity's rector, has arranged for five successive Wednesday evenings. Dr. McLure spoke of the many social, religious and political problems with which the church of today must grapple if it wishes to maintain its position and influence.

The next lecture of the course will be given next Wednesday evening, when the Rev. Dr. Bausman will speak on "Noblesse Oblige, or the Elect of God for the Service of Man."

PLACE BANK CASHIER DAVIS UNDER ARREST

CINCINNATI, O., March 14.—Thomas J. Davis, cashier of the First National bank, who disregarded the subpoenas and failed to appear before the Drake committee named by the state senate to investigate the public offices of Cincinnati and Hamilton county, was arrested this evening. Davis was immediately placed in an automobile and started for Columbus, to appear before the senate tomorrow and give reasons for ignoring the subpoenas of the Drake commission.

CITY TREASURER WILL COLLECT SIX MILLIONS

Assessors' Report of Assessment for City Expenses and Sub-District Schools.

The city assessors yesterday made their report to the treasurer of the amount of taxes collectible for the first installment, due the first of March. The total amount of taxes for the year, which are collectible by the city treasurer, is $6,916,083 48.

This does not all belong to the city. The city treasurer collects the taxes for the sub-district schools, the total of which for the year amounts to $783,933 06, leaving a balance belonging to the city of $6,121,046 48. This sum represents about 18 per cent more than the annual appropriations for the expenses of the city government. The 18 per cent difference is the amount allowed for taxes that will go delinquent, for discounts, exonerations, etc.

A discount of 5 per cent is allowed on the second installment if both installments are paid in the month of March. The first installment, which is half of the total assessment, becomes delinquent on the first of May. The second installment becomese due on the first of September and becomes delinquent on the first of October.

A table prepared by the assessors shows the amount collectible from each ward. The city taxes are divided into two assessments, one for current expenses and the other for the sinking funds and interest. The amounts are based upon a levy of 8½ mills for current expenses and 6½ mills for the sinking funds. The two levies total 15 mills.

The total levy of 15 mills upon a taxable property valuation of $409,000,000 produces a total of $3,060,323 for the first installment, and $6,121,046 for both installments.

In the Thirty-eighth ward a special tax of $738 26 is assessed; in the Thirty-ninth ward, $2,310 87; in the Fortieth ward, $1,421 22; in the Forty-first ward, $1,056 62, each for a separate indebtedness.

No tax for the sinking funds are assessed for the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth and Forty-first wards.

The collection of taxes began yesterday and there was a rush to get the benefit of the discount.

Sisters in Double Wedding.

Marriage License Clerk Herman L. Hegner ended his career in that capacity yesterday by issuing the license for a double wedding. The brides will be Miss Annie and Louisa Wieland, sisters, of 675 Leonora street, and the grooms George Held, 2722 Nile street, and George Barker, 1213 Glenn street. As Miss Annie is but 20 years old, her father, William Wieland, came with her to give his consent to the marriage.

Prisoner Resembles Prophet Dowie.

George Standish Downer, aged 71, a civil war veteran, who resembles Alexander Dowie, the prophet, was given a hearing yesterday by Magistrate Kirby on a charge of drunkenness. The police were certain the prisoner was Prophet Dowie until Downer produced a certificate showing him to be a veteran, born in Ithaca, N. Y., January 25, 1835. He was discharged.

Allegheny Solons Fail to Meet.

Allegheny select council failed to meet in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon for want of a quorum.

WHERE RAILWAYS COMPANY FAILS TO DO MATHEMATICAL PROBLEM

One of the inspectors of the Pittsburgh Railways Company yesterday afternoon tried the job of putting a quart in a pint. Not literally, just figuratively, and with the accompaniment of loud wails from indignant and bedraggled passengers. An Avalon car—a big double truck one—left the city with a tightly-packed standing load, the usual conditions about 5 o'clock. All went well as it could under such conditions until Washington avenue and Fremont street, Allegheny, was reached. "Change cars," shrilly cried the conductor. "Woe is us," plaintively cried compressed passengers, as they began to file out. But into what? One of the small cars and without a trailer! Men, women and children pushed, squeezed, swore (some of the men did) until they could go no further. And still there was an overflow. About 20 could not get on the small car, but had to wait until the next car came along, only to find it also crowded to the doors. But they managed to finish their journey. The general question was, "What can we do about it?" And echo answers, from the operating officials, "Forget it." But the passengers won't. And there you are.

JEROME ASKS FOR FUNDS.

Applies to Mayor McClellan for $10,000 to Be Used in Prosecuting Insurance Cases.

NEW YORK, March 14.—District Attorney Jerome today addressed a letter to Mayor McClellan, as a member of the board of estimate and apportionment, asking for an appropriation of $10,000 for the prosecution of criminal actions in connection with the life insurance cases.

The grand jury which is investigating evidence in the insurance matters submitted by District Attorney Jerome, is at sea as to whether a political assessment by a director of a corporation constitutes the crime of larceny. Mr. Jerome suggested they bring it to the attention of Judge O'Sullivan of the court of general sessions. Judge O'Sullivan took the matter under advisement and will render an opinion next week.

Early Morning Fire Causes Big Loss.

A three-story frame building occupied as a grocery store by John O'Reilly, at 2309 Jane street, and the adjacent building, occupied by L. Elchorn, were damaged to the extent of $2,000 by fire shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire was discovered by Officer John Hoesch, who noticed the flames in the basement.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

PARENTS BLOCK EDUCATION OF LEGLESS LITTLE JIMMIE

Crippled Newsboy Is a Money-Maker, and His Family Refuse to Allow Him to Go to a Boarding School.

If you have contributed anything to the well-being and education of little Jimmie Flaherty, the legless newsboy who daily sells his papers along Fifth avenue, between Wood and Smithfield street, perhaps you are wondering why he is not in school just now and the fund raised for him being used for that purpose. Well, the reason is not far to seek, for his parents refuse to let him go.

Jimmie is about 12 years old, and has been a cripple for nearly five years, for it is about that long ago when a street car cut off both his legs. After a siege in the hospital he got out and earned a great deal of money as a newsboy ever since.

At the instance of Dr. Jane Blanchard, last fall a fund was started to take Jimmie off the streets and send him away to school. Pickerings fell in with the idea, and the little fellow was given a booth at Pickering's pumpkin show. Articles of all kind were given the hapless chap, and these were sold from the booth. The money was dropped into a sealed globe and when it was opened in the presence of the Rev. Miles Sweeney, the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young and Dr. Jane Blanchard, the amount was found to be $417. It was placed to the boy's credit in the Diamond National bank and the three persons named were constituted a committee in charge, two of whose signatures were necessary to draw it out. It is still there, and the amount has been increased to nearly $460 through efforts mainly of Dr. Blanchard.

It was decided to send Jimmie to the Mt. Gretna school, Baden, Pa., the first year. Dr. Blanchard got contributions of clothing for him, and he would have been supplied with a complete equipment of a boy away at school, such as tops, balls and the like. It was at first arranged that he should go December 1, but his parents said that they would like to keep him home till after the holidays, when he would be ready. In January they flatly refused to let him go at all, saying he was necessary to provide for the family. Hardly a day but he would bring home $5 or $6, and one day it was as much as $30.

The idea of those interested in the boy was to keep the money intact until after Jimmie had received an education and then turn it over to him. Dr. Blanchard succeeded in receiving contributions which with $100 a year offered by Father Sweeny, would have met all the boy's school expenses. But the boy's parents now refuse to let Jimmie leave them, and his chances of receiving an education seem hopeless, and the work which his friends have done in his behalf has been in vain.

Let Us Discuss the New Wall Papers.

We have papers at 10c a bolt and we have papers at $36.00 a bolt.

It can be readily imagined that in between the beginning and end of this range there are innumerable other prices.

The 1906 papers are far superior to anything heretofore reproduced.

This is true, not only of the American papers, but also of the foreign papers, whether they come from England or whether they come from Japan.

In view of the near approach of the annual house renovation time, as well as the coming around of April 1st, moving day, it is well enough to take up the matter of wall papers some little time in advance of these periods.

It has been said that we carry the largest and most varied stock of wall papers in the city. We have no doubt but what this is true. Certainly no housewife would ask for a finer collection, nor do we believe she would ask for finer papers.

We are quite ready to exhibit many new printings, and would be pleased to show visitors our full lines, which include the following:

Complete variety of Ingrain, Crepe, Duplex, Silk and other Wall Papers. Especially appropriate for parlor and drawing-room is the new Swiss Tekko Paper, which is exceedingly beautiful and very durable.

We also have the new 1906 American Tekko Paper in gold and green, which is quite as effective as the Swiss, and very much less in price.

Our new importations of French, German and English Wall Papers, illustrate the artistic ability of the designers and show the papers to be unrivaled throughout the world.

We have ready for Spring full lines of Japanese Burlap, also a complete line of American imitations of Japanese Burlap Wall Papers.

A particularly effective paper is that known as Silk Floss Flock, and it is one of the very best papers made.

Papers in imitation of leather, both in the plain and the hand-tooled effects, are very popular. We have full lines.

New Chambray Papers are included in our broad collection, and we show these in all shades.

Speaking of our Wall Paper Department, which is situated on the fourth floor, East, it gives us pleasure to state that it is exceedingly well appointed and everything is advantageously apportioned for the exhibiting of papers.

New Lace Curtains.

Any style of curtain that is wanted can be found in our large curtain stocks, but this morning we want to call to the attention of the lady of the house our very great variety in the now popular Sill Curtains, especially our late shipment from France.

This collection of French Sill Curtains is, indeed, out of the ordinary, as will be noted by the following representation.

Cluny Lace Sill Curtains—Arab color—$3.00, $3.50, $4.00 and up to $6.00 a pair.

Arabian Lace Sill Curtains, $8.00, $11.00, $12.50, $18.00 and up to $35 a pair.

Marie Antoinette Lace Sill Curtains, white, $2.00, $2.50, $3.75, $4.00 and up to $7.50 a pair.

Marie Antoinette Lace Sill Curtains—Arab color—$2.00, $2.50, $2.75, $3.75 and up to $7.00 a pair.

Renaissance Lace Sill Curtains, $1.25, $1.50, $3.00, $4.00, $4.50 and up to $10.00 a pair.

Hand-Embroidered Waists.

That Is, You Do the Embroidering and We Sell You the Stamped Pattern.

This should interest women who like to embroider.

Three yards of best quality lawn, enough material for working the waist, and one complete paper pattern to cut either a 34, 36, 38 or 40 waist—this complete outfit valued at $2.00—and our price for it is only $1.00.

These stamped shirtwaist patterns will be on sale in Art Needlework Department today, where lessons are given gratis. They may also be secured on first floor, East.

New Handkerchiefs for Women.

About as pretty as anything we ever saw, at the price we have marked them. Some of them represent the daintiest needlework that can be executed, while others, especially the colored handkerchiefs, show much cleverness of design.

New Handkerchiefs of sheer shamrock, finished with hand-made Armenian lace edge, and hand revering, 50c.

New French Handkerchiefs, pure linen, hand embroidered spray in each corner, 50c.

New Corded Handkerchiefs of mercerized silk and cotton, in various colors, allover colored designs and white centers with colored edges, 25c.

Arnold Knit Goods for Babies.

The new Spring weights in night gowns and night drawers are ready. The night gowns come in sizes for the infant and up to two years, the night drawers are for children two years and up to ten.

We have them with and without feet.

Also have the other infant belongings made of the Arnold Knit Goods—long garments and short garments, towels, wash cloths, bath aprons, etc.

St. Patrick's Day—Its Belongings.

Will you have a Shamrock in your lapel?

Will you have a little Irish Flag pinned upon your lapel?

Will you wear an Irish-American bow?

Will you present "Her" with a "Paddy Pipe" filled with candy?

You see we prepared for St. Patrick's Day with all the novelties that were brought out. You'll find them as follows:

In East Basement.

Plain Shamrocks, 1c each.
Primrose Shamrocks, 3c each, 2 for 5c.
Irish Bows on brass pins, 8c each.

Cork Bonbon Boxes, 10c.
Shamrock Leaf Boxes, 12c.
Frogs, 10c, 15c, 25c each.
Imitation Paddy Pipes, 6c and 7c each.
Green Candies for filling same, 30c to 50c a pound.

Our Optical Department.

Apropos of the advent of Grand Opera we desire to call to the attention of people who are not supplied with opera glasses, the variety that we carry in our Optical Department.

We have excellent Opera Glasses at $3.50 and up to the very finest of finishes.

Anyone who is in need of eyeglasses—either a first attempt or stronger glasses—is advised that our optician examines eyes free and tells exactly what kind of lenses are needed.

We sell eyeglasses on the same low priced basis that all our other goods in the 75 constituent stores under this roof are sold for.

The Stillman One-Piece Waist Pattern.

Miss Stillman of Washington, D. C., who is the inventor of the one-piece waist pattern, is again with us, and is daily demonstrating the advantages of her patterns.

Very few women will believe, until they understand the operation, that a waist can be cut in one piece, morever a waist that has a straight front and a straight back, and that it will fit properly.

These waist patterns are not expensive. Miss Stillman will enlighten you in the matter of using them.

Bernard Shaw's Plays.

Are you interested in the books of this brilliant writer? Are you going to see his plays next week at the Belasco?

Yes, to either or both of the above, means that you should drop into our Book Section some time this week and see his two great books, "Plays, Pleasant and Unpleasant," and "Man and Superman." Also his novels.

High Colors in Madras.

Thursday, March 15, 1906.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew is a very sick man, according to the report of his colleague, Senator Platt, and will never return to the senate. There is reason to believe his breakdown has been largely due to the public contumely heaped upon him. There is a lesson in all this so plain it need not be depicted.

Now trains are operating over the Duquesne way elevated tracks the public will expect early compliance with the agreement of the railroad to get out of Liberty avenue. Plans are pretty well matured for improvement of the street, widening the walks and repaving. The railroad should be ready to move by the time the weather is favorable for street work. Relief is needed from congestion of traffic.

Senator Rayner made a strong plea yesterday for the Hepburn rate bill as it passed the house. Mr. Rayner, however, gave more thought to public sentiment than to legal aspects of the question. He is an able lawyer and as such must have some doubts about the constitutionality of the bill without provision for court review, both on behalf of the railroad and the shipper. We are inclined to follow the lead of Senator Knox in this particular.

In view of the ordinance before the public works committee to appropriate $25,000 for a grandstand for Schenley oval, the question recurs: When are the parks to have improvements for the convenience of the multitude? The oval is of interest to some, but it is more important to make of the parks pleasure grounds for the many—particularly for those poor in purse who cannot afford summer homes in the country. Shelter houses and picnic grounds would cost less than race tracks.

As the miners are gathering in Indianapolis for their convention they show no sign of relaxing their demand for a 10 or 12 per cent advance. It is morally certain the operators will not concede this. A few of them are willing to concede 5 per cent; many of them say they will concede nothing. The operators will meet Monday. Meantime the outlook for peaceful agreement is not good and every person who has witnessed a miners' strike deplores the prospect of another. There is nothing cheerful about it.

Some Armstrong county schools have been as seriously affected by the vaccination law as those in Washington county. In fact, it is quite the regular thing in rural districts. It is unfortunate these children are deprived of the benefits of education in this manner, and we think Dr. Dixon in error in construing in favor of the minor law. The people in these rural districts have never been menaced by smallpox and they cannot understand why anyone should want to force vaccination on their children.

Maj.-Gen. Wood's cabled reply to criticisms of the recent slaying of Moros, and the accompanying comments of President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft, were made public yesterday. The answer is "entirely satisfactory," says the President. As all accounts agree, there was no wanton killing and the loss of life was unavoidable under the circumstances. The savage Moros were susceptible to but one argument, and the American soldiers performed a disagreeable duty most effectively.

While we have no sympathy with the plea that congress has no right to join two territories into one state contrary to the wish of one of them, we regret to see Speaker Cannon go to the other extreme. His position is that if Arizona and New Mexico are not given joint statehood, Oklahoma and Indian Territory cannot be admitted. These territories are fully eligible to statehood. Separately their populations exceed several states; together they will exceed probably 10 others. Moreover their resources and industries assure further rapid growth.

Robbing the Public.

It is not a surprise that, as now constituted, the corporations committee of councils decided yesterday to recommend the ordinance granting a free railway franchise and ignored that proposing repeal of a free light franchise. It is no surprise that amendments to the railway ordinance intended to limit the grant to 25 years and to secure compensation to the city were regularly voted down. These things are comformable to the record of this committee and of the councils to which it belongs.

Though this flouting of the public interest is not surprising, it does not follow the job can be rushed through both branches of council before the first of April. More than a mere majority is required to suspend the rules in either branch. Unless the rules are suspended the ordinance must have three separate readings in each branch. Therein is the opportunity to defer its adoption until the new councils come in. No street railway franchise should be granted in perpetuity and no franchise should be passed without compensation to the city.

Touching this point it may be noted the traction officials in Chicago are lamenting $60,000,000 worth of franchises have been annulled by the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States. Those supposed valid public grants were capitalized for that amount, as may be seen by cursory examination of the capital of the traction companies. They were the principal "property" of the corporations that gave the people of Chicago inadequate service in return for their munificent gifts of franchises. The remaining property is described by James Dalrymple as mainly fit for the junk pile.

In Pittsburgh the conditions are little different from those in Chicago. The rails and equipment in this city are of somewhat better grade, but the enormous capitalization of the street railway corporation rests on the franchises granted by the city. The city, then, is fully entitled to a share of the dividends. It is robbery of the people to grant a franchise for a foot of street railway track that does not pay something into the city treasury. The company, which already controls millions of dollars' worth of franchises, for which it pays nothing to the former owners, is under particular obligation to pay for additional grants and to give the public better service. These things cannot be wholly ignored either by the present or the future councils.

Practical Club Women.

At a recent meeting of club women in Pittsburgh much discussion was aroused by a member's assertion that it was possible for a young man with a monthly salary to maintain a comfortable home in this city. The speaker's statement was finally modified to embrace a home in the suburbs, where rent and other expenses are lower than in the city proper. The other members were by no means convinced that the thing could be done, but their definitions of what constitutes a "comfortable" home naturally varied. It is interesting to note the far-reaching influence which this discussion in Pittsburgh has had throughout the country. Deserting art and civic reform and ethics, members of women's clubs in many cities have taken up the discussion begun in Pittsburgh, and now, as a result, it is announced the program for the biennial convention of the clubs, to be held in St. Paul in June, will be devoted almost wholly to the consideration of household economics.

Whatever their attitude toward women's clubs, fathers and husbands and brothers can hardly quarrel with the subject which the convention will discuss. The problem of how to run a household so as to get the most for the money is a live one in these days of steadily increasing cost of living. The solution of the problem rests to great extent with the women, since they are responsible to such degree for an economical or extravagant administration of household affairs. A novel feature of the convention will be a demonstration of a practical home of five rooms, fully furnished. No more practical subject could have been chosen for their coming convention, and it is pleasant to know Pittsburgh's club women had no small share in presenting it for consideration.

Victim of Reviewers.

Maj. Charles E. Woodruff, surgeon United States army, appears to have been the victim of reviewers. Recently he has been quoted as setting up the theory that more brunettes than blondes are found among the criminal classes. Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide took issue with this statement. He has been grossly misquoted in other particulars. As The Gazette was among the many newspapers misled by wrong statements about Maj. Woodruff's theories, it takes pleasure in setting the public right, concerning the major's contention.

In the book "Effects of Tropical Light on White Men," there is no theory of criminology—no claim in behalf of brunette or blonde of immunity from crime. The book simply treats of the effects of excessive light on the individual of unpigmented skin—the blonde type. Maj. Woodruff contends excessive light produces over-excitation of the nerves, resulting in neurasthenia, leading toward insanity. He presents many facts and makes a good argument. He warmly indorses the policy of the war department in limiting army service in the tropics to not more than two years at one time.

Maj. Woodruff's theory is closely allied to that of the late Dr. Finsen, who applied a portion of the principle to the successful treatment of lupus. The same principle in different aspect is involved in the therapeutic applications of radium and the X-rays, and is illustrated in the recently discovered uviol lamp of Dr. Schott of Jena. It is not the province of this paper to indorse or deny the theory involved by Maj. Woodruff, for it does not deal with pathology or therapy in any technical sense. It is enough to say the book gives evidence of considerable study and cleverly presents its case.

The wonder is how the author ever came to be accused of presenting a complexional theory of criminality, if we may be allowed the phrase. He has written a monograph on the complexions of the insane, having found an undue proportion of blondes in the psycopathic institutions of New York. He deduces the theory that excess of light upon the unpigmented skin is responsible. This, however, furnishes no basis for the "criminal story," so widely published, and, in as far as it might possibly bear on that theory, points in a direction opposite to that alleged.

Fix the Fire Alarms.

Pittsburgh's firemen are usually alert and efficient. But the alarm box must be in order. Two boxes were not in order yesterday morning, and as a result one house was destroyed and another badly damaged. A famous fire fighter once said: "Only two contingencies ever worry me, a defective alarm box, which means our arrival too late to be of any use, or frozen hydrants, which prevents us from doing anything, no matter how early we arrive." The latter danger is not very apparent here, though it has its terrors in northern and western cities, but the defective alarm box is an ever-threatening source of peril.

Interesting in this connection is the decision of the London county council to equip the metropolitan district with improved fire alarm boxes of the American pattern, something which should have been done long ago. In many parts of London today an alarm of fire is conveyed either by telephone, when there is one in the vicinity, or by special messenger to the nearest engine house. Such antiquated methods are a direct invitation to the fire fiend to do his worst. The American fire-fighting system is the best in the world, but the mechanism must not be allowed to get out of order. Vigilant inspection is necessary to keep it ever in readiness for action.

Jobs for the Handicapped.

Following in the footsteps of New York's Charity Organization society, the establishment of an employment bureau for the handicapped in life, those who are unable to compete on equal terms in the struggle for existence, has been suggested for Pittsburgh. There are several beneficent organizations in this city which endeavor to find employment for deserving poor who are able to do a full day's work, but this is only one phase of their charitable activities. It has long been felt that little can be done for the crippled in mind or body or for the person who has just been released from a penal institution. The brief experience of the New York society's bureau, however, indicates there is work waiting for everybody, however deficient he may be. If he has the will to work, it can be found for him.

A sight that often stirs the sympathies when encountered on Pittsburgh's downtown streets is that of a cripple or blind person playing a hand-organ. One can be pardoned for thinking there is no other way for such a person to earn his living. New York's bureau for helping the handicapped is taking such cases from the streets, finding them more comfortable employment where they are not dependent upon chance donations of passers-by. In the entrance of a huge office building sits a cripple who formerly played a hand-organ on the street. He is a "bureau of information" regarding the location of tenants in the building. A blind man taken from the streets was taught the trade of piano tuning. It is well to realize the world owes a living to those who are handicapped in life's race as well as those who are capable mentally and physically. A helping hand, such as it is proposed to extend to them, is all that is required.

From the pockets of boys in one Chicago school, in the foreign quarter, eight revolvers were taken. Chicago believes there are right and wrong methods of teaching the young idea how to shoot.

It is said there will hardly be enough steamers to take all the people who want to go to Europe this spring. The "See America First" society evidently has a wide field for missionary work.

Speaker Cannon declares most of the anecdotes told about him are as new to him as they are to the reader, but he enjoys them all the more. Uncle Joe is not the man to spoil a good story.

The dog that scared the Pittsburgh marketmen may have been only suffering from March madness, but the policeman who acted as executioner had no time to make a bacteriological diagnosis.

There has been just enough winter in the last few days to make it mighty uncomfortable, but not enough to scare the icemen into reconsidering their decision on next summer's prices.

Russia is said to be impatient at the long-drawn out conference at Algeciras. Russia is waiting to strike France or Germany for a loan, and she needs the money.

Several of the changes recommended by the spelling reformers remind one forcibly of Artemus Ward's and Josh Billings' style of orthography.

Baltimore is getting scared because it will take years to complete the Chesapeake bay defenses. Seaport cities have their disadvantages.

J. Pierpont Morgan is reported to be looking Rome over very carefully, but he will probably conclude not to buy it.

Even the best friends of the weather prophets must admit they have not scored many bullseyes lately.

Kaiser Wilhelm finds antique suits of armor too small for him. Nobody imagined he could wear the helmets.

March still has a glowing opportunity to go out like a lamb.

The World's a Stage and We the Players

By Charles M. Bregg.

There are compensations for very much of the weak and nonsensical stuff that our modern stage affords. We as a nation have not fallen into the sodden and vulgar license that is granted stage people among other and older nations. There are ample reasons for believing that some of the people who have been drawn to the stage would go to any lengths in vulgarity to obtain a laugh, but so far the American theater-going public has put a limit upon vulgarity—for vulgarity's sake.

I had occasion once before to allude to this fact in connection with a comparison between the burlesque "show" as given elsewhere and the same "show" as seen here. The farce and knockabout teams that our variety stage affects are not always made up of people of much refinement or intelligence, and some of them will go the limit in an effort to get "a hand." They have no ability, and would substitute cheap vulgarity to make up for it. But in these instances, especially in Pittsburgh, the theaters are managed by men who regard public sentiments of decency.

But abroad, especially in Paris and London, things are done and language is used on the stages of presumably decent theaters where people of supposed refinement go that would be cause for calling out the police or the fire department in Pittsburgh. Hugh Ward, who is in Pittsburgh this week, was telling of some recent experiences in Paris that very aptly illustrate the blessed immunity from filth that the average American theater enjoys.

Mr. Ward spent four months in the French capital recently as the only English speaking actor of the "review" that plays every year an engagement in that city. It is a sort of magnified edition of the Drury Lane spectacles, and is played each year in the Olympia theater. During his sojourn in the French city Mr. Ward had opportunity of course to visit a number of the theaters and music halls. What he tells of some things he saw and heard in these places is enough to make one blush for humanity. Be it understood these places of amusement were not "dives" or representative in their patronage of the underworld, but were regular theaters in which were to be found audiences of apparently high grade.

Scenes were enacted, language was used and pantomime indulged in some of these theaters that were absolutely reeking with filthy suggestion. Libidinous conduct was openly displayed, and instead of veiled suggestion, the most open references were made to things that mark the brute in human beings. In some of the music halls in London very nearly as great exhibitions of coarseness may be seen. Mr. Ward relates an instance in a theater in Paris when King Edward of England was visiting that city, and was present in a box. A scene was permitted on the stage and loudly applauded by most of the audience that would have caused the arrest of the players in this country, and yet nothing was thought of it there.

Heaven forbid that the theater in this country should ever fall so low, nor will it if decent public sentiment will remain active as a censor for the stage. One of the dangers that threatens in America is the apathy of this kind of public sentiment. The better classes of people are easily disgusted, and the danger is that this disgust will lead them to eschew the theater and leave it to the mercies of the coarse people on both sides of the footlights, who thus deserted by all restraining influences will go from one condition of low taste to another. Of course this is a remote danger when the more intelligent forms of amusement are considered, but the multiplication of cheap shows should be watched with care by the respectable element of every community.

Crusades of moral reformers do little good, for the reason that they are usually indiscriminate. The clergy of Philadelphia, for instance, is just now engaged in a violent crusade against the theater as a whole, condemning without much distinction the entire profession of players and the habit of theatergoing. This is just about as wise as condemning the entire medical profession because some doctors are quacks or because many people insist upon buying nostrums. The majority of doctors are men of useful and noble works, while there are many necessary and healing drugs on the drugshelves. The theater needs, and in order to accomplish its legitimate ends must always have, the fostering care of public sentiment and honest criticism. If the good people of Pittsburgh say with any sort of unanimity that an indecent or demoralizing stage performance shall not be exhibited in one of the theaters, it will not be.

And the good people of Pittsburgh are under the same moral obligation to say this at the proper time that they are through the police to prevent men and women from committing indecent acts at any one of the public street corners of the city. The theater is not a private enterprise in the sense that it may be used to corrupt public morals.

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

Cabell Whitehead, owner of one of the two banks in the town of Nome, Alaska, registered at the Hotel Henry yesterday. Mr. Whitehead is on a trip through the United States in connection with the eastern end of his banking business, and left for Washington last night.

"Nowhere in the world is banking so profitable in comparison with the amount of capital invested as in Alaska, where the mines are yelding up the golden treasure," said the Nome banker. "In this country it is hard to get it out of people's heads that Alaska is a barbarous, shivering locality, still of the mining camp status. Nome has all the conveniences of a large city, and the little luxuries of life. You can order a course dinner in Nome that is the duplicate of anything offered by a local hotel, though the price is higher.

"Laborers in Alaska are paid at flat rate of $5 a day, including food and lodging, and are scarce at that. Ordinary unskilled laboring men take the trip from Seattle and the coast cities—eight days by boat—work six months and return with $500 stowed away in their jeans, unless the gambling dens get their wages. The mines of Alaska have only been touched, but the future of the country lies wholly with dredges and mechanical devices. On that basis it will give up the yellow metal for hundreds of years. Ordinary soil gives up $1 worth of gold to the cubic yard, and can be handled by harnessed water power at a cost of about 10 cents. The great difficulty in Nome is that there is no natural watershed, and I have built over 150 miles of canals, some of them 15 feet wide, for this purpose."

Opening of New Oil Field.

Pittsburgh has again been recognized as headquarters for oil well drilling tools. D. A. Kelly of Seattle, Wash., is in this city selecting a complete outfit for drilling in the neighborhood of Pincher, Alberta, Northwest Territory. The order for the complete outfit, approximating $8,000, has been placed with the Oil Well Supply Company of this city, and the goods will move sometime next week. Mr. Kelly is one of the best-known operators in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Mr. Kelly said yesterday: "I have great hopes of Alberta and am satisfied there is plenty of oil there; however, I would not undertake testing the property with anything short of a standard oil country rig. There are a few outfits there, but none is suitable to meet the contingency. My company, the Canadian Northwest Oil Company, is composed of Victoria capitalists, who are willing to spend their money in the expectation of opening up a field, which, I anticipate, will be fully as large as any of the eastern districts."

Growth of Fletcherism.

It is diverting and instructive to read in an Eastern magazine of the growth of what is called "Fletcherism." This doctrine, in brief, has for its fundamental idea, simplicity in eating; it contends that a human being should eat only when and what his stomach craves; it opposes three hearty meals a day, unless, perchance, the system demands them each day. And what one eats should be eaten deliberately and chewed thoroughly.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Dissipates the Fog.

In holding that corporations are not "persons," within the meaning of the fourth amendment to the United States constitution, the supreme court has done much to clear the air of corporation fog and mists. It has done more than open the door to searching examination into the records and transactions of companies accused of violating federal laws. This latter phase of the action taken is of great importance. It renders impossible an effective plea of immunity from compulsory testimony by officials of corporations under investigation.—Cleveland Leader.

THE BACHELOR.

I'm gettin' old, dod gast it! Plum old, before my time;
I'm missin' the gladness that came with spring, when life was a careless rhyme;
I'm missin' the smell o' the warm spring rains that beat on the fresh-turned sod—
I'm missin' the note from the robin's voice that sounds like a chirped "Thank God!"

The ring o' the singin spring in his ears, like he uster do, before
A green thing come in sight—when he feels no more in his linglin' veins
The life-sap start for the buds ag'in at the touch o' the first soft rains!
I'm gettin' ol', by Christmuss! An' it ain't with the weight of years—
I got no troubles too hard to bear—no reason fer sheddin' tears:
I know what's the matter—an' every year it's easier still to see—
It's because I'm livin' an' workin' with folks that's gettin' old jest like me!

If I had a kid not more 'n five to talk to now an' then—
If a had a raft o' kids o' men—
If I had a girl to 'sociate with, not more 'n two foot tall;
I could keep my youth to the crack o' doom, an' never get old at all!

An' God! how I long for a baby hand, ter twist in a baby way
In my hair, an' pull it fer beat the band, before that hair gets gray!
An' God! how I long for a baby's eyes, an' the sound of a baby tongue—

Quiet Observations on Ways of the World

The Country Districts Will Soon Be Alive With Flowers of Spring and Things.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Country people say they expect to be pestered 'most to death with horseless wagons and senseless people. But a great many city folk are arranging to make their appearance in the country simultaneously with the flowers of spring.

For some reason the country horse does not take kindly to the whizz cart. Indeed you can scarcely find a farm horse that will accept an introduction to an automobile although they are certain to recognize it at a distance and make an awful fuss on meeting it.

No matter what color an auto-car may wear your countryman calls it a red devil, and begins to turn red-headed, jerks the lines, and talks at random, often using language very different from that usually addressed to his horses, and to people who he casually meets on the road.

There are on exhibition at the Boston show 98 different makes of machines and 300 cars, valued at a million and a quarter dollars, including exhibits of supplies on the side. Exhibitors say that this is the biggest, the best, and the most promising show they have ever held in Boston, as it is one of the original auto towns. It is claimed that practical machine road wagons have been built here by the Fords for a score of years. These veteran builders still claim to make the most serviceable $500 machine extant.

The tendency is to bigger and stronger machines, such as the six-cylinder 60-horse power Thomas Flyer, the Pierce-Arrow and the French Mercedes. Of course these run up into the thousands—anywhere from three to seven—and as much further as you may want to go for style and finish.

But when you've got one of these 40 to 60 horse power autos you've got a flyer, don't forget, and one that will smash you good and flat if it flops over on you, which it may if not carefully handled.

The fact of the matter is that an automobile is every bit as skittish and unreliable as a strong, spirited horse. Both have to be watched closely and carefully handled.

When a horse acts up badly and makes you mad you can give vent to your bad feelings by jerking and sawing the reins until you make its mouth bleed, or by plying the whip until you have knocked all the good horse sense out of it.

But it will do you no good to kick, or jerk, or yank an auto, for if you do it is liable to butt into a tree or telegraph pole, rush headlong into the river, or even into the ocean, or take a tumble over a bank.

An auto has no more sense than its driver. In this it differs from the average horse.

Nor does the auto prick up its ears and get busy when a speeder comes up behind, as does a spirited roadster, but the wheels begin to move around faster, the speed gear changes, the driver pulls his cap down tighter, and the occupants of the cushioned seats readjust their veils and hats, and brace themselves for jolts and jostles, and keep their mouths shut tight if the air is cold.

The perversity of the automobile far exceeds that of any other inanimate thing, which is saying a good deal for it. Sometimes when you are showing it off it will start on a dog canter with one wheel cocked up and head for the nearest pole, post or tree, seemingly determined to peel the park off it or to put a dint in its owner's head and give a good, expensive jolt.

An automobile running on three wheels may be a funny sight to see, but it isn't the least bit funny to be in it. In fact you feel as if you were going somewhere like Maine went for Governor Kent once upon a time. There is one thing sure, you will get what is coming to you, and you are likely to get it pretty tolerable quick. But the law of compensation holds here as elsewhere, for no matter what your experiences may have been you feel away deep down in your heart that they might have been a whole lot worse.

Life on an auto car can't be described on paper—it has to be experienced to be appreciated.

Some Palatable Breakfast Food Served Hot

By PETER PRY SHEVLIN.

The Financier's Laugh.

The public read of fighting
Against each baneful trust;
Investigations blighting,
And laughed just fit to bust.
They heard the house and senate
Was going to throw the gaff,
And promptly thought that then it
Was cert their turn to laugh.

But the magnate never laughed
At the threats against his graft;
But down to work with "lobbies" then he buckled;
And the people promptly saw
That—"h'm—he broke no law!"
The magnate didn't laugh—he simply chuckled!

The state of old Missouri
Went after Standard Oil,
With laws, forensic fury
To wipe it off this soil.
They issued a subpoena
For wily old John D.,
We all cried —"Philopenna!"
And how we laughed in glee!

As the old fox popped from sight
He just murmured, "That's not right!
We millionaires oft laugh, I do believe!"
As the query fizzled out
A low sound was heard about:

Taxation Without Representation.

"Ever see 'Hamlet' with the melancholy Dane left out or eat an egg omelet without the egg? Well, that's the coal conference without the consumer being represented!" snarled the Cynical Codger. "A little over a century ago our forefathers died with the slogan on their lips, 'Taxation without representation is tyranny!' Every schoolboy knows Patrick Henry's speech, but how many public men see its purport at the present time. The consumer is taxed all right, but wherein is he represented in the strike conference? Mr. Common People should be made chairman over both factions and use a club instead of a gavel! Really the only issue is whether the public will stand for an increase of $1.10 on the ton!"

The Half-Baked Typist.

Tawker—I read that Andrew Carnegie has started a reform in spelling. Soon, I suppose, we'll have a brand new, phonetic way to spell words.

Gawker—That's nothing! My stenographer has been typewriting letters that way ever since she graduated after a three weeks' course in a business college.

We Are the "Bumpers."

"Now, gentlemen," said Prof. Punko, "I will propound the old query—'When an irresistible body meets an immovable obstacle,' what is the result?"

No answer.

"Let me put it plainer. When the irrestible mine operators meet the immovable, what then?"

"Oh," murmured the class, "the public acts as bumper and gets smashed!"

Quit Complainin.'

Ih'd yuther be a sparrer
On a telegraft wire,
A-twitterin' o' springtime
While de snow banks higher
Dan be a gay robin
In de sunny lan',
Complainin' 'c'ase summer
Ain't clost at han'!

Natural Gas.

There is a counterfeit $1,000 bill in circulation. Be sure to examine your envelope next payday.

That $1,000 license in Chicago will reduce the number of saloons to one for every policeman. Cruelty, crass cruelty! A cop needs change of scenery occasionally.

Appropriate.

Dictionary of Drink No. 2.

Having listed in the last instalment, the crude expressions used to designate drunkedness, Prof. Punko herewith gives the expresslve metephors that an observant generation has saddled on alcoholism. After you have clung to the mahogany till the closing hour, listening to the sonata played on the cash register by the white-aproned Ganymede, refer to this in the cold gray dawn for your exact conditions. Paste it in your hat, it may help that headgear to fit your swollen headpiece. Certainly, it is a temperence lecture, par excellence.

He was not intoxicated, but he had been crooking his elbow, hugging the bar, hitting the hard stuff, tippling, toping, guzzling, swilling, swigging, sousing; he has more sail than ballast, has an applejack gait, a bee in his bonnet, marbles in his mouth, nautically speaking, he has his main bar brace well spliced, is half seas over, three sheets to the wind on his beam ends under the influence of the weather and soused to the souppers. Also, he has the sun in his eye, can't see the hole in a ladder, has wheels in his head and can't lie down without holding on to something. Having lapped the gutter, he is dead to the world.

He is in his cups, in his spots, over the river, over the bay, in the clouds, up in the air, off his trolley, off his nut, off his base, off on a bat, on a drunk, on a spree, on a bender, on a racket, on a tear and quite naturally, off the map; he is on the rampage, on the ree-raw, for he has been out with the boys; he is full of booze, mountain dew, cream of the valley (gin), full of dope, slops, forty-rod, Jersey lightning, tanglefoot, bug juice and in the elegant metephor of the era, is a full as a goat, tick, or lord. Drunk as a piper, as a boiled owl, as David's sow, and got the howling cats (Katzenjammer), but he takes another hair of the dog that bit him.

On the Run.

Don't you wait for blossoms
T' start th' springtime shout;
Whoop out a hallelujah,
An' scare ol' winter out!

Keeping in Fashion.

Beryl—Going downtown shopping today?

Sibyl—Wait a minute till I look over the fashion sheet and find out the proper style of walk for this week.

The Failure of "Success."

He hustled all his life for wealth
And landed it secure;
Then bankrupt found himself in health,
Of woman's love not sure!

Peter Pry's Philosophy.

When a man goes into a trust the "wee small voice of conscience" gets hoarse and then quits disgustedly.

Make your conscience a law unto yourself. But stop there! Do not inflict it on others except by good example.

Use the small end of the telescope on your worries, and a magnifying glass on your joys. Happiness is often only a matter of viewpoint.

We've All Met Him.

Jim—There goes a man who is making his mark in the world.

Jack—Yes, indeed. Every time he splashes into a mudpuddle he makes his mark on everyone in sight!

Well Advertised.

Blinker—Yes, organized charity is a great thing. There goes a party of philanthropists now to help a poor family.

Clinker—Humph! I thought it was a circus parade.

A Rank Outsider.

The coal conference in Indianapolis was under way. The miners and the operators were in full debate when a shrinking, timid specimen of humanity filtered into the hall. As he edged his way to the front his meek and pleading air in contrast to the arrogant mien of the men present, plainly indicated that he wasn't at home.

"Who are you?" yelled a dozen voices.

"Please, gentlemen," he faltered, "I'm the coal consumer."

"Pitch him out! The nerve of him! What in thunder is he doing here?" roared the concourse threateningly.

The Virtue of the Beast.

A Chicago man just left $20,000 to his pet dog. Foolish, of course. At any rate, though, he was assured that the canine wouldn't dissipate the money in banal pleasure after the manner of young heirs. There is meat for reflection in the fact that an animal can be happy with a bone and a kind word.

TO CRACK A SMILE.

Two Irishmen were moving some kegs of powder when one noticed that the other was smoking, and the following conversation ensued:

"Look here! Ain't ye gor any better sense than to be smoking whilst we're handling these 'ere kegs of powder? Don't you know that there was an explosion yesterday, which blew up a dozen men?"

"Faith, but that could never happen here!"

"Why not?"

"Bekase there's only two of us on the job."—Pittsburgh Bulletin.

Pjones—I've tried to discharge our drunken cook but she won't leave.

Ksmith—Does she start fires with kerosene?

Pjones—No.

"Honest, now, Jack, did you ever love any girl before you met me?"

"Dozens of them, dear. But I had to. You're my thirty third, and I can't take any higher degree than that, you know."—Chicago Tribune.

The Angel Child—Anythink what we ain't got.—Cleveland Leader.

"If nature had made me an ostrich," said old Grouch, "I suppose I could eat your cooking."

"Wouldn't that be nice?" answered his imperturbable spouse, "then I could get some plumes for my hat."—Boston Transcript.

NEITHER SIDE HAS MAJORITY

BIGELOW HELPS ON A SLATE

The members who have refused to enter a party caucus or to sign a pledge to support a candidate promise to control the new city councils, which will meet on April 2 to organize. Several attempts have been made by both parties to hold a caucus, but have been unsuccessful.

The nearest approach to a caucus was the meeting held a couple of weeks ago by the Republicans of common, who indorsed William Brand for president of the lower branch. At that meeting 22 votes, or five short of the number necessary to elect, were cast for Brand's indorsement.

The slate said to have been agreed upon by the Republicans and Director Bigelow for the new councils is as follows: Dr. E. R. Walters, president select council; William Brand, president common council; H. W. Minnemeyer, Jr., city clerk; Robert Clark, assistant city clerk.

While Dr. Walters' nomination by the Republicans for the presidency of select council is generally conceded, he has not yet been made the caucus nominee owing to the failure of the Republicans to secure the attendance of a majority of the members of the upper branch at their caucus. Two meetings have been held, one on Tuesday night this week and one last week. Not over 12 members were present at either meeting. This number is nine short of a majority which is required to elect.

Stewart Complicate Matters.

When the first Republican caucus of select council was held in the Farmers bank building the 12 men present, it is said, were ready to nominate Dr. Walters, but Charles Stewart announced his candidacy and objected to any nomination being made until at least 21 members, or a majority of select, were present. Nothing was then done or has been accomplished since.

It is a coincidence that the candidates alleged to be slated for president and clerk of select and president and clerk of common council are from the same wards. Dr. Walters and H. W. Minnemeyer, Jr., are both residents of the Twentieth ward. William Brand and Robert Clark are both residents of the Seventeenth ward.

There is talk of a demand by South Side councilmen for one of the clerkships. The South Side has a candidate, W. W. Johnston, from the Thirty-sixth ward, and he is said to have obtained quite a number of pledges. E. J. Martin, former city clerk, who announced his candidacy early in the contest, is said to have a few votes pledged to him. Director Bigelow and the votes he claims he can command in the new councils constitute Minnemeyer's strongest support.

There have been threats on the part of the present Republican members from the Fourteenth ward to bring out a candidate against William Brand, but the fear of splitting the Republican vote and insuring the election of J. J. McKelvey, Democrat, has interfered with that plan. Some of the Republican members of common would like to vote for J. C. Wasson, but Mr. Wasson is eliminated because of the fact that he and Dr. Walters, the latter a candidate for president of select, are both from the same ward.

Semmelrock Won't Enter Caucus.

Common Councilman John F. Semmelrock of the Twenty-sixth ward is one of the Republicans who refuses to enter the Republican caucus of common council and refused to pledge his support to William Brand. "I do not propose to go into any caucus," said Mr. Semmelrock. "I want to be free to vote for whom I please." Two years ago, when the Republicans were in the minority, Mr. Semmelrock was the Republican caucus nominee for president of common council, and Brand's friends claim that Semmelrock thinks he should be nominated this time. This Mr. Semmelrock denies.

Charles C. Kohne, Magee Republican elected from the Twenty-third ward to select council, has declared that he will not enter a caucus nor sign a pledge to vote for any candidate.

SEEK AID FALSELY.

Young Girls Accused of Making Pretenses to Steel Manufacturer to Secure Financial Help and Sympathy.

Two girls, giving their names as Ellen and Mary Woods, aged 14 and 11, of 312 Forty-fifth street, are believed by the East End police to have been soliciting public sympathy and financial aid on false pretense.

The girls are said to have appealed to James B. Laughlin of Wallingford road, the steel manufacturer, a week ago, giving their names as Ellen and Mary Martin of Long alley, and declaring that their mother was ill and all were in dire want. Mr. Laughlin is said to have given the girls money and ordered a physician to visit the home. The physician failed to find the family at the given address.

Last night the girls again appeared at the Laughlin home, this time with a letter of appeal. Mr. Laughlin took the girls to the Oakland police station, where they were questioned, but stuck to their story. The police escorted them to Long alley, and upon reaching there they tearfully admitted their identity and residence in Forty-fifth street. It was discovered that their home was a comfortable one. No arrests were made, but an investigation is in progress.

MISSIONARIES TO RETURN.

Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Ewing to Visit Washington After 46 Years of Service.

WASHINGTON, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Word has been received here that the Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Ewing of the United Presbyterian mission at Cairo, Egypt, formerly of this place, will return to America for a six months' furlough. Dr. and Mrs. Ewing are the oldest missionaries, in point of service, in Egypt, having gone there 46 years ago. Dr. Ewing graduated from Jefferson college with the class of 1856 and returns at this time to attend the semi-centennial reunion of his class, scheduled for commencement time in June.

Dr. Ewing was for a number of years United States consul at Alexandria and was the only missionary to remain in the country during the bloody rebellion in 1882. He is a personal friend and counsellor of the khedive of Egypt. A daughter is the wife of Alan Birdwood Bey, son of Sir George Birdwood of England and prominent in the British protectorate government in Egypt.

First Cast of "Tech" Foundry.

The first heat from the foundry, in the foundry department of the Carnegie Technical schools, has been successfully drawn, the work being done under the direction of the instructor, Edmund Fuller. The foundry is equipped with a 42-inch cupola, with an electrically driven blast and an electric charging machine. The highest charge yet made is about 1,400 pounds. The patterns for the castings are made by students in the pattern shop, and the castings include test bars, gore plates and bars for use in the machine shop.

Popular Talk By Supt. Hamilton.

Prof. Samuel Hamilton, superintendent of the Allegheny county public schools, is to deliver a lecture tonight at the Second Presbyterian church, Eighth street, between Penn avenue and Duquesne way, on "The Home and the School in the Making of a Man." This lecture is one of the series of free and popular talks by prominent public men arranged for by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy for the benefit of his congregation.

Miner's Injuries End in Death.

SHIP STEEL PLATES FOR MONSTER STEAMER

Homestead Works Completes Contract for Adriatic, Now Being Built at Belfast.

The Homestead steel works yesterday shipped to Harimus Cove, near Baltimore, the last of the great steel plates for the big passenger steamer, Adriatic, now being built at Belfast, Ireland, by Harland, Wolfe & Co. The plates were placed in America under a special contract calling for the finest of steel, and went to the Homestead steel works, all being rolled in the 128-inch mill.

It will be the greatest passenger ship afloat. About 800 tons were required, and this was subjected to the severest tests, these being made at Homestead by British inspectors under the United States navy, Lloyds, and the British board of trade requirements. Each plate sustained a test of 70,000 pounds to the square inch.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT IS FATAL.

Son of a Naval Captain is Shot When a Revolver Falls to the Floor from a Trunk.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—George Payne Burnap, aged 38, a son of the late Capt. George J. Burnap, U. S. N., died today at a hospital, as the result of a most unusual accident. Burnap arrived here yesterday from his home in Santa Cruz, Cal., to attend the funeral of his father. About midnight he went with his brother, Arthur, to the latter's room.

As he lay upon the bed smoking a pipe his brother picked up a newspaper from a trunk which stood in a corner of the room. In lifting the paper Arthur dislodged a revolver which had been placed on the trunk. The weapon fell to the floor and was discharged. The bullet penetrated the mattress and entered George Burnap's left side near the heart.

CHURCH IS DIVIDED ON CASE OF MISS LEWIS

Mary S. Brown Memorial M. E. Congregation Aroused Over That and Other Problems.

Since the upheaval in the Mary S. Brown Methodist Episcopal church on account of the "charges" against Miss Martha E. Lewis, secretary of the Sunday school, a serious split in the church is threatened. Miss Lewis is charged with owing stock in the Pittsburgh Brewing Company and it is said she has the opposition of most of the women in the congregation, while the men are favoring her side of the controversy.

A. D. Salee, a member of the Sunday school board, who preferred the charges against Miss Lewis at the meeting Monday night, is quoted as saying yesterday:

I preferred the charges against Miss Lewis, and as soon as this case is settled I shall prefer another charge against a member of the church board for attending a meeting of that body while under the influence of liquor. I gave notice some time ago that I would prefer charges against Miss Lewis unless she resigned from the church membership, and she agreed to have her name stricken from the roll. She is not now a member of the church, although still secretary of the Sunday school. It is true that several times I refused to teach a class in the Sunday school because of the facts in the charge which I preferred. I wanted to make the charge long ago. The Rev. Dr. C. W. Wilson, pastor of the church, asked Miss Lewis to resign from the Sunday school secretaryship and others asked her to do so, but she flatly refused.

The committee appointed to ascertain whether or not Miss Lewis holds brewery stock is composed of C. L. King, John Welfer, Charles Fairfield, W. Hendrickson, F. W. Bonay and Mrs. Wilson, wife of Dr. Wilson. Miss Lewis is emulating the Sphinx and is saying nothing. She is "not at home" to callers and none of her relatives will make any statement.

Why Are We Selling Pianos AT Reduced Prices?

Because there's no alternative. We are obliged to vacate our present warehouse, which contained $50,000 worth of pianos on March 1. Since this cut-price sale started, we have disposed of many of these instruments, but the bulk of the stock is intact.

If You Want a Good Piano Cheap You Will Not Miss This Sale.

NEW PIANOS FOR $175

We hope you'll see this lot. Every one is big value for the money—and all are perfectly new pianos, fresh from the factory, for $175 and upward. Reliable makes, too, for we sell no other kind.

Perhaps you want a piano for practice purposes, for the benefit of the children? Then see what we offer in the following:

USED UPRIGHT PIANOS, $95 AND UP

These will surprise you, for they are particularly choice instruments, beginning at $95. Wagner, Vose, Hardman, Wheelock, Kayton, Fischer, Kingston, Opera, Haines, George Woods and Roenisch are some of the makes which we are determined to sacrifice immediately. These pianos are in good condition. Every one is a big bargain.

USED PIANO PLAYERS, $50 to $150

Think of the prices—$50 to $150—and every player in good playing condition. Such makes as Pianola, Apollo, Angelus, Simplex, Cecelia, etc., are included. Take your choice while it is possible to save half and more of the purchase price. A piano player is ALWAYS a welcome addition to the home where there is a piano.

Perhaps You Would Like

A PIANO AND A PIANO PLAYER FOR $145

Well, we can supply the two instruments for less than the usual price of one while this sale is in progress. Remember, we sell you a piano and a piano player (the two instruments for $145). They have been used, of course, but are yet capable of furnishing pleasure to the family for a long time.

GREATEST VARIETY OF PLAYER PIANOS

We have the exclusive agency for the world's greatest player-pianos. No doubt of our leadership in this line. Pianos with players built inside, $500 and up—ALL NEW—and including Weber, Stuyvesant, Wheelock and Steck. Come and see them.

COLLEGE PRANKS STIR ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

Members of Greek Fraternities Must Not Visit the Fair Residents of Hulings Hall.

MEADVILLE, PA., March 14.—Not since the night the turkeys were stolen from Hulings hall just when the girl students had them in readiness for the big banquet of the year has staid old Allegheny college been stirred as at present over what the faculty calls an outrage and the more lenient ones a prank.

The entire faculty, and a majority of the students, have tacitly organized themselves into a detective force to ferret out the miscreants who a few nights ago carried two small buildings to a conspicuous part on the campus and adorned them with placards reflecting on the character of the professors and the dignity of the college. Efforts have been made to keep the affair quiet.

The escapade was the culmination of a series of students' pranks which have so incensed President Crawford and his associates in the faculty that a demand was made on each of the seven Greek letter fraternities to adopt resolutions denouncing the act, to name to the faculty for official punishment any of their members known to have been concerned in the proceedings, or to pledge that the fraternities would themselves take measures to purge their chapters of such members. The fraternities accepted the last alternative.

President Crawford is also said to have issued an order prohibiting the members of five of the seven fraternities from visiting or communicating with Hulings hall, the dormitory of the girl students. This unusual order has had, what the students now begin to believe was the desired effect, namely, the breeding of jealousies which have started the students to talking, with the result that information regarding the campus prank is being revealed.

One student, who belongs to a leading fraternity, has been before the faculty for violating the Hulings hall order by calling up one of the girl students by telephone, and his expulsion is expected.

BOTH WANT TO BE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

THOMAS W. DICKEY. CHARLES H. YOUNG.

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—A lively political fight for the Republican nomination for the district attorneyship will be waged this spring between Attorneys Thomas W. Dickey and Charles H. Young of this city. The Republican primary occurs Saturday, May 19. Both men are widely known.

Attorney Young has served four years on the Republican county committee, during the last three of which he was the secretary. He has also served as the representative of the Mercer-Lawrence senatorial district on the executive board of the Pennsylvania State league of Republican clubs.

Attorney Dickey, who is the only son of David W. Dickey, a former prominent business man here, is a leading member of the Lawrence club and of the Elks and Fraternal Order of Eagles.

PREPARE THE SCAFFOLD TO END JOHNSON'S LIFE

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Sheriff Ayers today took down from the courthouse belfry the scaffold upon which Frank Johnson is to be executed next Monday. It has been used but once, when Frank Jongrass was executed here in May, 1898, for the murder of his sweetheart, Jessie Carrine. A reprieve for Johnson will be asked by his attorneys. New evidence, the defense claims to have secured, will be made the basis of the plea for a stay. It is not generally thought Gov. Pennypacker will grant the reprieve.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN BECOMES VIOLENT

Worry Over Financial Trouble and Prosecutions Believed to Have Unbalanced Mind of P. J. McGuire.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUTLER, PA., March 14.—Worry about financial troubles and prosecutions against him and his business associates is believed to have unbalanced the mind of Paul J. McGuire of Blairsville, president of the McGuire Metallic Vacuum Casket Company of Butler and the Majestic Enameling Company of Blairsville.

Prosecutions on charges of conspiracy to defraud are pending in the courts of Clarion county against McGuire and several Butler and Kittanning business men, whom McGuire interested in the organization of the casket company. McGuire came to Butler yesterday to attend a meeting of the stockholders of the casket company, at which it was hoped to so adjust matters that the Clarion county suits could be settled.

During the day McGuire attended a meeting of the stockholders, and appeared rational, but in the afternoon he was found in the corridor of the Butler County National bank building warning people not to step on the doormat because there was a woman under it. He was placed in jail, where he became violent. His wife is now in Butler caring for him.

Echo of Duquesne Limited Wreck.

UNIONTOWN, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—The first jury award to be paid in Fayette county as a result of the wreck of the Duquesne limited, December 23, 1903, was made this week when the Baltimore & Ohio turned over $2,200 to Pasquale and Domineco Fenello, who were awarded that sum by the court for the death of their son, the Rev. Carmelo Fenello of New Haven. The entire amount, with interest and all costs, was paid.

NEWS NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

SCOTTDALE.—Henry Boyd has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for assembly. Mr. Boyd is a member of the Republican county committee. He has been in business here for years.

GREENSBURG.—For the loss of his right foot Hiram Boggs, a dairyman, was awarded $3,333 in his suit against the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg Railway Company. Last fall Boggs' milk wagon was run down and his foot was crushed.

WASHINGTON.—Fire of unknown origin Tuesday at midnight burned the buildings of the Keystone Squab Company at the village of Laboratory, one mile east of here, destroying 2,500 pigeons and squabs and other property. The loss amounts to about $5,000, with $3,000 insurance.

UNIONTOWN.—After six months of labor the big coal washer at the Southern Connellsville coke plant at Gradys Landing is now in operation. It has a capacity of 1,500 tons a day and will wash coal to supply the entire plant, which will have 400 oven when completed.

NEW CASTLE.—At the rate of 20 cars a day, the Pennsylvania railroad is storing coal at the Lawrence Junction yards, probably in anticipation of a coal miners' strike. It is said by railroad men similar precautions are being taken all along the system.

JEANNETTE.—Fort Pitt, a suburb of Jeannette, is stirred up over the alleged neglect of the authorities to furnish medical aid for a 6-year-old child that died from diphtheria without the attendance of a physician. While official redtape was being unwound the child died.

ALTOONA.—Carpenters of Altoona demanded an increase of 30 cents a day, beginning May 1, but will be refused by the master builders, who contend a raise in wages, coupled with the present high price of building material, would precipitate a panic. A strike of several hundred union carpenters will follow. The men are now receiving $3 a day of nine hours.

YOUNGSTOWN.—The bi-monthly settlement of the bar iron scale, made Wednesday, was on a 1.6 card rate. The price of puddling was increased from $6.75 to $6 a ton. The price of finishing was increased 2 per cent.

YOUNGSTOWN.—There have been no developments in the strike of the puddlers at the Valley plant of the Republic Iron and Steel Company. The men are awaiting the arrival of Benjamin Jones, vice president of the finishing department, for further conference. If the finishers do not go on strike with the puddlers, it is said that the strike will be a fizzle.

UNIONTOWN.—A mob of angry miners at Rowes Tuesday night threatened King Lewis, colored, with violence because of a fight in the store of Richard Wright, during which Lewis shot John Boring, a white man, seriously wounding him. Boring will probably recover. A mob threatened to lynch Lewis, but he was taken into custody by Constable Charles Brown, who landed him in jail.

BEAVER.—The town council met with the new chairman, Harry Kirker, in the chair Tuesday night and elected the following officers: Solicitor, Roger Cope; secretary, Frank Wisener; chief of police, Patrick McGee; street commissioner, David Porter; turnkey, G. T. Smith.

DRAMATIC SCENE IN THE BEAVER COURT ROOM

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, PA., March 14.—The defense in the murder case against Robert McCoy of Darlington township, charged with killing his crippled brother, Hugh McCoy, last December, was begun today. More than a score of character witnesses were called. The attorneys are trying to show by much testimony that Robert McCoy was not capable of shooting his brother in cold blood and many witnesses tell of the kind treatment Robert showed the cripple.

Robert McCoy took the stand in his own behalf. He said for a year he had never put any money in the bank, but kept it in various places about the house, sometimes under carpets. Then Robert told how three robbers visited the house, shooting Hugh through a window, and how he (Robert) knocked one down with a club and escaped to warn the neighbors.

"Did you shoot your brother Hugh?" asked Attorney W. H. S. Thompson suddenly. Trembling, Robert slowly arose in the witness box to his full height. He raised his right hand and solemnly declared "If there is a God in heaven, I did not do it. I didn't do it. I didn't do it." The case will be argued tomorrow morning and will go to the jury before noon.

Have Been Married Fifty Years.

WASHINGTON, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Derham today celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Both are natives of Washington county. There were present at the celebration six children, 29 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

DEATHS IN NEARBY TOWNS.

The Death Roll

Thomas M'Neil III.

Thomas M'Neil III., aged 37, treasurer and general manager of the James M'Neil & Brothers' Company, died yesterday morning at his home, 354 South Rebecca street, after an illness of several weeks. He was a son of James M'Neil, and was born in Pittsburgh on November 22, 1869. He attended the public schools and Shadyside Academy and in 1892 entered Cornell university, graduating with high honors with the class of 1895. While in college he was prominent in athletics and in all student activities. After leaving Cornell, Mr. M'Neil took a position with the Birmingham Traction Company for a short time and then entered the James M'Neil & Brothers' Company, with which he was prominently identified at the time of his death. He was also a director of the Pennsylvania Savings bank. Mr. M'Neil was one of the organizers of the Cornell club of Western Pennsylvania, and last year was president of that organization. He had also been nominated by the alumni of Cornell as a candidate for alumni trustee. He was prominent in Masonic circles, being a member of Duquesne lodge, F. & A. M.; Pittsburgh chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Duquesne commandery No. 42, Knights Templar, and Syria Temple. He was a member of the University and Duquesne clubs, and for some years had been a member of Christ Methodist Episcopal church. On July 5, 1896, he married Miss Josephine Martin, daughter of James Martin, who survives him, together with two children. He also leaves his parents, two brothers and a sister. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Thomas McNeil III.

Alfred N. Schell.

Alfred N. Schell, aged 75, a veteran of the civil war, who served in the Twelfth United States regulars and spent many months in confederate prisons before escaping and getting back north, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Palmer, 2396 Frazier street. He was born in Huntingdon county, but for the last 25 years had resided in Pittsburgh the greater part of that time being spent on the South Side. When the civil war broke out he went to New York where at Fort Hamilton he joined the Twelfth United States infantry. He served for three years and became corporal and acting sergeant. Within a few months after his reenlistment, after the battle of Cold Harbor, he fell into the hands of the confederates and was confined successively in Libby prison, Belle Island prison and Salsbury, N. C. After months of suffering he managed to escape from the latter place and made his way back north. After reaching home he was in a hospital for weeks before recovering his health. Mr. Schell leaves three children, William of Allegheny, Mrs. Palmer and Clayton Schell, the latter of Cleveland. Two brothers in Marklesburg, Huntington county, also survive him.

George Blackstock, Sr.

George Blackstock, Sr., a pioneer of Allegheny, died at his home, 1735 Allegheny avenue, yesterday morning a few minutes after midnight. His death follows closely on the death of his son, George, Jr., who died December 31. The deceased was aged 81, and had lived continuously in Allegheny for 82 years. He was born in England, but came to this country with his father when he was but a child. His father was one of the old settlers in this section of Pennsylvania, and at one time occupied one of the houses included within the palisades which surrounded the old block house at the Point. The dead man lived the most of his life in the Second ward, Allegheny, and for 10 years was ward assessor. During the past few years of his life he was incapacitated for work. He made his home with the son who recently died. He is survived by one son, David Blackstock, who lives in Allegheny, and Mrs. Florence Farleigh, a daughter, of Louisville, Ky. The funeral will occur this morning from the family residence.

Capt. James Thompson.

Capt. James Thompson, a prominent Grand Army man, is dead at his home in Berry street, Ingram. He was born in Ballynahinch, County Down, Ireland, May 8, 1821, and served 16 years in the British Royal Artillery before coming to America. At the outbreak of the Civil war he enlisted in Pittsburgh as captain of Battery C, Independent Light Artillery. He was honorably discharged at Washington January 1, 1863, and immediately re-enlisted, taking the field again as captain of Thompson's battery, as it was known. He served until the close of the war. Capt. Thompson had a remarkable war record, being engaged in the first and second battles of Rappahannock bridge, Cedar Mountain, Thoroughfare Gap, Antietam, Second Bull Run, Chantilly, South Mountain, first and second Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, Locust Grove, Mitchell's Ford, Martin's Ford and Dug Springs. He was promoted to major and brevetted lieutenant colonel for bravery and conspicuous service at Cedar Mountain and Antietam. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and of Post 88, G. A. R. The latter will have charge of the funeral today. Two daughters survive.

Gilman Brown.

Gilman Brown, a pioneer in the Pennsylvania oil business, died at 1 a. m. yesterday at the home of his nephew, W. G. Brown, 352 Stratford avenue, East End, after an illness of two weeks. He was born in Hubbardston, Mass., January 27, 1832. When Drake discovered oil on Oil creek, Venango county, Mr. Brown left his New England home and went to that region. His first start was at Karns City, then one of the leading oil centers of the early 60s. He followed the oil excitement in all its movements and there was not a town in that center in which he was not known. For over 40 years he was engaged in business, retiring eight years ago, at North Clarendon, Warren county. After he retired he came to Pittsburgh to make his home with his nephew, where he died. He is survived by three brothers and one sister. They are Gilbert Brown, Renfrew, Pa.; Clark Brown, Battle Creek, Mich.; Steven Brown, Glens Falls, N. Y., and Mrs. James Farrar, Adrian, Mich. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at 8 o'clock tonight.

Hon. John Blair.

The Hon. John Blair, formerly of Waynesburg, died at Geneva, O., yesterday morning. He was 65 years of age and represented Greene county in the assembly from 1886 to 1890. He is survived by his widow and the following children: William F. L. L. Blair and Dr. R. B. Blair of Waynesburg; Wood Blair of Freeport, Charles Blair of Geneva, O.; Mrs. Belle Wright of Romance, Kansas; Mrs. Anna Lemley of Worley, W. Va., and Mrs. Olive Shriver of Morgantown. The interment will be at Waynesburg.

William Clarke.

William Clarke, a former Allegheny business man, died yesterday morning at his home, 200 Hemlock street, Allegheny. He was born in Castwellan, County Down, Ireland, and came to this country about 34 years ago. For the greater part of that time he had been in the grocery business in that city. He is survived by his widow and three sons, William F. Clarke, John C. and Thomas Clarke. He also leaves a brother John and a sister, Miss Mary Clarke of New York.

August Friese.

August Friese, aged 82, died Tuesday at his home in Glenfield, 15 days after celebrating his golden wedding anniversary. He was born in Germany and came with his wife to Pittsburgh in 1866. For a number of years he was employed in the glass factories on the South Side. Since 1874 he had resided in Glenfield. He was a member of St. Paul's German Evangelical Lutheran church. He is survived by his widow and one son, Burgess Charles Friese of Glenfield.

Mrs. Elmira Shoop.

Mrs. Elmira Shoop, widow of George Shoop, died yesterday morning at her home, 1326 Arch street, Allegheny. She was a member of the Lutheran church, of Chapman Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R.; of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Union Veteran League, and of Allegheny Temple, No. 47, O. U. A. Mrs. Shoop is survived by eight children—Herbert E., Esper A., Charles A., John A. and Addison C. Shoop, Mrs. H. W. Steepleton, Mrs. A. Beileyette and Mrs. Clyde Parsons.

David Maxwell.

David Maxwell of the Turtle Creek valley is dead at Stewart station. He was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1822, and when he was 7 years old his parents settled on a farm near Stewart station. He lived there all his life. He was a member of the Long Run Presbyterian church. He leaves five children: John Maxwell, North Braddock; James, McKeesport; William, Turtle Creek; Mrs. James Leffler, Greensburg, and Miss Emma Maxwell, at home.

Mrs. Anna Tumstall.

Mrs. Anna Tumstall, aged 73, is dead at her home in Butler street, Etna. She was born in Haverford West, Wales, and had lived in Etna for 10 years. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Her husband, four sons and three daughters survive her.

Obituary Notes.

Christian G. Renz, aged 51, died yesterday morning at his home, 87 Plymouth street, Duquesne Heights. He was born in Germany and had resided in Pittsburgh for the last 15 years. He was a member of the German Lutheran church. Mr. Renz is survived by his widow and three children.

John Lawson, aged 41, a molder and a member of Park Lodge No. 973, I. O. O. F., died Tuesday at his home, 1688 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny.

MORO WOMEN IN MEN'S CLOTHING

Slaughter of Female Warriors and Children Used as Shields Was Unavoidable.

THE PRESIDENT IS SATISFIED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A cablegram from Gen. Wood regarding criticisms of the recent battle of Mount Dajo on the island of Jolo, together with correspondence between the President and Secretary Taft on the subject, were made public today. Gen. Wood's cablegram was in answer to one sent to him at the direction of Secretary Taft, who called attention to the criticisms of "wanton slaughter of Moros," and asked him to send all the particulars.

Gen. Wood's reply denies that there was any wanton killing, and says a considerable number of women and children were killed in the fight because they were actually in the works when assaulted, that Moro women wore trousers and that children were used at shields.

The reply was sent by Secretary Taft to the President with a note, in which the Secretary says that Gen. Wood's answer seems to him to show most clearly that the unfortunate loss of life was wholly unavoidable, to which the President replied that Gen Wood's answer "is of course, entirely satisfactory."

Answer to Criticisms.

War Department, Washington, March 13, 1906.

My Dear Mr. President:

The account of the engagement on Mount Dajo, on the island of Jolo, between our forces and a large band of Moro robbers, in which the fighting laster for three or four days, showed such a large loss among the Moros as to give rise in a part of the public press to the criticism that there had been a wanton destruction by our troops of Moro lives, including those of women and children. Inquiries were made of me by members of the senate and house of representatives in respect to the matter. Accordingly, I yesterday directed that the following telegram be sent to Gen. Wood: "It is charged that there was a wanton slaughter of Moros, men, women and children, in the fight in Jolo of Mount Dajo. I wish you would send me at once all the particulars in respect to this matter, stating exact facts."

Gen. Wood's answer came today. It seems to me to show most clearly that the unfortunate loss of life of the men, women and children among the Moros was wholly unavoidable, in view of their deliberate use of their women and children in actual battle, and their fanatical and savage desire that their women and children should perish with them if defeat were to come. They seem to have exhibited in this fight the well-known treachery of the uncivilized Mohammedan when wounded, of attempting to kill those approaching for the purpose of giving aid and relief.

Cablegram from Gen. Woods.

Gen. Wood's dispatch is as follows:

"The Military Secretary, Washington:

"In answer to secretary of war's request for information, March 12, I was present throughout practically entire action and inspected top of crater after action was finished. Am convinced no man, woman or child was wantonly killed. A considerable number of women and children were killed in the fight—number unknown, for the reason that they were actually in the works when assaulted, and were unavoidably killed in the fierce hand-to-hand fighting which took place in the narrow inclosed spaces. Moro women wore trousers and were dressed and armed much like the men, and charged with them. The children were in many cases used by the men as shields while charging troops.

"These incidents are much to be regretted, but it must be understood that the Moros are and all were fighting not only as enemies, but religious fanatics, believing Paradise to be their immediate reward if killed in action with Christians. They apparently desired that none be saved.

"Some of our men, one a hospital steward, were cut up while giving assistance to wounded Moros, by the wounded and by those feigning death for the purpose of getting this vengeance. I personally ordered assistance given wounded Moros and that food and water should be sent them and medical attendance. In addition friendly Moros were at once directed to proceed to mountain for this purpose.

"I do not believe that in this or in any other fight any American soldier wantonly killed a Moro woman or child, or that he ever did it, except unavoidably in close action.

"Action was most desperate and was impossible for men fighting literally for their lives in close quarters to distinguish who would be injured by fire. In all actions against Moros we have begged Moros again and again to fight as men and keep women and children out of it. I assume entire responsibility for action of the troops in every particular, and if any evidence develops in my way bearing out the charges, will act at once."

"WOOD."

Very sincely yours,
WM. H. TAFT.

Satisfies the President.

The President's reply follows:

The White House, Washington, March 14, 1906.

My Dear Mr. Secretary:

I have received your letter of March 13, with accompanying cable of Gen. Wood, answering your inquiry as to the alleged wanton slaughter of Moros. This answer is, of course, entirely satisfactory. The officers and enlisted men under Gen. Wood's command have performed a most gallant and soldierly feat in a way that confers added credit on the American army. They are entitled to the heartiest admiration and praise of all those of their fellow citizens who are glad to see the honor of the flag upheld by the courage of the men wearing the American uniform.

Sincerely yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Hon. Wm. H. Taft, Secretary of War.

POLICEMAN IS BURIED.

Morgan J. Conley's Body Laid at Rest in Calvary Cemetery.

Policeman Morgan J. Conley, who died last Sunday at his home, 71 South Eleventh street, was buried yesterday in Calvary cemetery. The services were held at St. John's Roman Catholic church, South Fourteenth street. The Rev. Father Farron had charge of the mass, assisted by the Rev. Father Phillip Brady, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Father Haley.

The floral offerings were many. A large floral policeman's badge, with the dead officer's number, "59," was sent by his fellow-officers at Central station. The pallbearers were Policemen Edward Frawley, John McDonough, Benjamin Bromley, Hugh Duffy, John Coyne, Sylvester Boyle, Russell Reilly and Peter Hanratty.

Chases Her With a Hatchet.

Charles Woods, a negro boarder at the home of Mrs. Cornelia Wood, 726 River avenue, East End, was held for court in $300 by Magistrate Negley yesterday. Before his arrest he tried to escape by jumping from a second-story window. Mrs. Wood is sick in bed with pneumonia. A baby is ill from the same cause, while her son is down with typhoid fever. Yesterday she gave the boarder $10 to pay the rent, and it is alleged he spent the money for drink. He was asked to explain by Miss Elizabeth Allen, a step-daughter, when he grabbed a hatchet and chased her out of the house.

Christian Endeavor Report.

BOSTON, March 14.—The total number of Christian Endeavor societies throughout the world is 67,512, according to reports of officers of the World's Christian Endeavor union, made public here today. Of these 45,250 are in the United States; 16,773 in Great Britain and Ireland; 4,395 in Canada; 613 in India and lesser numbers in other countries. The total receipts of the World's union for the last year were $9,241, and balance in the treasury is $146.

Bliss Confers With Jerome.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Cornelius N. Bliss, who was treasurer of the Republican national committee in 1904, and who it was testified to before the legislative insurance investigation committee, received contributions from insurance companies for campaign purposes, was in conference with District Attorney Jerome today. The nature of the conference was not divulged.

CARNEGIE BOARD OPPOSES SALOON

LUNA PARK GETS IN GAME

The last day for filing remonstrances against applicants for retail licenses to sell liquor will end with tonight. Few remonstrances had been filed up to yesterday, when a number of important ones were handed into the clerk of courts office.

The Carnegie institute took a hand in the game and aided by the Pittsburgh Railways Company and a number of private persons, remonstrated against George A. Charles, who wants a license at 415 Craig street. W. N. Frew signed the remonstrance for the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute. The board claims that the place is not necessary; that it is not suitable for a saloon or hotel, and that a license would tend to create a disturbance and breaches of the peace in the neighborhood, which is within a block of the institute, which is visited by large numbers of women and children, both day and evening.

The railways company object for the same reasons as the Institute, that it is close to an important transfer point of the company where many people change cars. The private persons use the same arguments and add that the proposed saloon would be too near the proposed new high school, the Duquesne garden and two large churches.

Luna Park Enters Objections.

The Luna park management files a remonstrance against William J. Fay of 572 Grant boulevard. They say the patrons of the place would be chiefly drawn from the patrons of the park, which would make the place objectionable to residents in the vicinity. It is asserted the saloon would injure the business of the park by lowering its present high standing and reputation of the neighborhood for observance of the law, and will require extra police protection.

The officers of Bethany home, Columbian council and the Florence Crittenden home, together with some residents, filed a remonstrance against Arthur Strosinder, 1709 Center avenue; Louis Sindleman, 1624 Center avenue, and Isadore Goldstein, 1800-20 Center avenue. The church in Arthur street, the Trinity Catholic church in Center avenue, the Eleventh ward school in Miller street and the institutions in the neighborhood are mentioned as reasons for refusing licenses in that locality.

The Rev. John G. Beane, pastor of Copus Christi Roman Catholic church in Lincoln avenue, filed three well-signed remonstrances. They are against Gerards Bevardine, 1015 Lincoln avenue; Harry Lersch, 1369-71 Lincoln avenue, and Frank McGinnis, 1023 Lincoln avenue. In each case it is alleged a saloon is not necessary.

Hard Sledding for Some Others.

Other remonstrance filed against Pittsburgh applicants were in opposition to James Everett, 75 Frankstown avenue; Timothy Dillon, 110 Frankstown avenue; R. G. Horan, 6239 Frankstown avenue, and Walter L. Branch, 1410 Wylie avenue. All were on grounds of no necessity.

But one Allegheny remonstrance came in. It is against Antonio Mangieri of 414 Federal street, and alleges no necessity, lack of fitness, detriment to property and that the applicant does not do business in his own name.

The Westinghouse interests filed remonstrances against Carl E. Siebert, John Plunket, Abraham Heverley, James E. Korgan, R. Brinker, R. C. Cunningham, M. J. Carter and Joseph E. Quinn. In a letter to the court it is said the remonstrants object to any new licenses being granted as there are enough saloons in East Pittsburgh now. Close watch has been kept on the saloons there in the past year and except in one or two instances, the houses have been conducted in a proper manner. For this reason the Westinghouse interests will not oppose all present holders of license being regranted.

On the grounds of no necessity remonstrances were filed against Joseph Husovsky, Peter Shipe and Michael Daly, all of the Third ward, Homestead. A like reason is given against John B. Cole of Fine township. Against Harry J. Siebel of Scott township, a remonstrance alleges that the place is not necessary, that it is near a school, that it is near a bridge where men and boys congregate and that there is no police protection in that section.

A formidable array of remonstrances is being prepared against William Mahoney, the only applicant for a liquor license from Sheraden. He asks for a saloon license in the Harmon building, owned by John Murphy, a member of the Sheraden Roman Catholic church, whose communicants are leading the movement against the license.

BABY COVERED WITH SORES

Would Scratch and Tear the Flesh Unless Hands Were Tied—Wasted to a Skeleton—Awful Suffering for Over a Year—Grew Worse Under Doctors—Skin Now Clear.

WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh.

"He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My Aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in it that she gave me a small piece of Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little.

"I sent to the drug store and got a cake of the Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since.

"He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D., No. 1, Woodville, Conn, April 22, 1905."

LIGHT REPEALER COMES UP FRIDAY

Traction Bill Passes and the Corporations Committee Is Called Again.

OVERCHARGE FOR BANQUET

After the corporations committee of councils met yesterday afternoon and approved the ordinance granting the Pittsburgh Railways Company a franchise for a new line to Highland park, Chairman Costello walked into the city clerk's office and ordered another meeting of the committee called for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The object of this meeting is to pass the ordinance repealing the franchise of the Duquesne Light Company, passed by councils November, 1904. Chairman Costello received a letter yesterday from John S. Weller, attorney for the company, expressing the hope that the committee would not make an "attack on the vested rights" of the company, and suggesting that the ordinance be referred to the city solicitor for an opinion. There is said to be a strong sentiment among councilmen in favor of the passage of the repealer.

"The Duquesne Light Company was given the franchise with the understanding that it was not to sell the franchise," said Common Councilman William A. Martin. "The company is now trying to sell it and I believe it is the duty of councils to take it back. I am against the traction ordinance and in favor of the Duquesne light repealer."

Roenigk's Amendments Defeated.

The franchise for the new traction line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company to Highland park is in the name of the Duquesne Street Railway Company. A. G. Roenigk tried to amend the ordinance in the corporations committee. He proposed to limit the franchise to 25 years, to assess the company $1,200 a year for the franchise, to require the company to keep the streets clean and in good repair from curb to curb, to authorize the director of public works to supervise the placing of the poles, to bind the company to accept any further assessments the city may levy, and to authorize the mayor to revoke the franchise by a 60 days' notice if any of the conditions imposed are not complied with. Every one of the Roenigk amendments were voted down.

Director Bigelow said he originated the ordinance, that the company now has the right to occupy Stanton avenue, which is parallel to Jackson street, where the company proposes to lay a double track to a new entrance to Highland park, and the company will give up its rights in Stanton avenue by permitting its charter to expire if the franchise for the new line is granted, running along Collins avenue, Sheridan avenue and Jackson street.

Line to Park for Children.

Director Bigelow admitted to Mr. Roenigk that the company had not presented any agreement in writing to give up its franchise in Stanton avenue, and that he only had the word of Pesident Callery of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Mr. Bigelow said the city was spending a large sum of money for a new entrance to Highland park. He said the object of the new line was to get children to the playgrounds in Highland park. They could only reach it now, he said, by vehicles or taking the street cars to the entrance to the zoo and walking over a mile to the other side of the park.

Schenley Grand-Stand Voted Down.

A successful attack was made in the public works committee upon the proposition to spend $22,000 on a steel grandstand, a judge's stand and a wooden fence at the Schenley park oval. John Costello opposed it on the ground that money was needed for the improvement of Banksville avenue in the West End. He moved the ordinance be reported negatively, but on the amending motion of Richard McNally the ordinance was laid over.

Owing to a dispute about transfers of several items the ordinance authorizing contracts for all street repaving for 1906, aggregating $142,800, was held up. The ordinance authorizing contracts for boardwalks and steps, aggregating $14,000, was approved.

The finance committee amended the resolution directing the mayor to issue and the controller to countersign a warrant for $5,000 in favor of the special committee of councils that entertained the congressional committee on buildings and grounds. The resolution was amended to provide that the warrant shall be drawn when the committee approves the bills and certifies them to the controller. The controller declares he will not pay the money to the committee unless the bills are properly itemized, sworn to by the proper parties and found to be correct.

The resolution in its present shape still permits Chairman J. J. McKelvey's committee to disburse the funds. Many members of councils claim that the expenditure of the entire $5,000 is extravagant, to say the least. It is claimed there should be a balance of fully $2,000 after all accounts are paid.

Should Be Balance of $2,000.

"We gave the Filipinos a much finer banquet and better entertainment," said President J. S. Wightman, "and had money left over. The Filipino banquet at the Hotel Schenley cost $7 a plate and that included everything. We also gave the visitors a boat excursion and paid the expenses of over 40 guests at the hotel for three days. Three thousand dollars ought to be ample for the entertainment of the congressional committee on buildings and grounds for the brief time it was here, and the few expenses incurred."

A resolution to pay $4,000 to the Rev. Joseph Toner for the destruction by fire of the St. Lawrence Catholic church in Kincaid street, was referred to the subcommittee on rebates and assessments.

Upon the recommendation of Supt. A. B. Shepherd an ordinance was approved for the payment of meter employes out of the regular appropriation of the bureau of water, instead of out of the filtration bond fund, as formerly.

HEAD OF REPUBLIC IS BURIED.

Body of President Quintana Is Laid to Rest With Imposing Ceremonies.

BUENOS AYRES, March 14.—The funeral of Dr. Manuel Quintana, president of the Argentine republic, took place today. The body was first transported through crowds of people from the palace of the government, where it had been reposing in state since yesterday, to the cathedral. The pallbearers were President Alcorta and the cabinet ministers.

The casket was followed by the diplomatic corps, all the chief functionaries of the government, delegations from the army and navy and detachments of sailors from the German cruiser Panther and the Italian cruiser Umbria. The services at the cathedral were imposing, and at their conclusion the body was taken to the cemetery. Mourning emblems were displayed throughout the city and all stores were closed.

Man Sells Cow to Satisfy Thirst.

William J. Adams of Beechwood boulevard, near Hazelwood, was held for court yesterday morning to await trial on a charge of non-support. His wife, who appeared against him, said that he had not contributed to her support for six years. The climax was reached Saturday night when, it is charged, he took one of the family cows and sold it for $25, spending the proceeds for drink.

FIFTEEN LET GO BY MR. FAIRMAN

County Recorder Dismisses Seven Men and Eight Girls, Replacing Them With Others.

M'GAREY'S BROTHER IN AGAIN

Fifteen clerks in the office of County Recorder Fairman will be discharged today, and 15 other clerks will replace them. William McGarey of the Twenty-eighth ward, is one of the clerks appointed. When the former recorder, O'Neil, went into office, McGarey, who is a brother of Alderman D. J. McGarey, was a clerk. He was promptly dismissed by O'Neil. Recorder Fairman gives him back his old job, that of counter clerk. Another clerk appointed by Mr. Fairman is a man named Johnson of Springdale, who has not been employed in the office before. He is an index clerk. He and McGarey will receive $100 a month each. Five clerks of the night force, men employed at night on the reindexing of the records, will be discharged today and replaced by five other men. The pay is $75 a month. Eight girls, who get $65 a month, will today make room for eight new girls in the recorder's transcribing room.

The grand jury yesterday ignored the bill in which Detective Homer Crooks was charged with intimidating voters in the Twenty-first ward at the November election, and placed the costs on the county. A like charge against Edward J. Edwards was also ignored.

Robert K. Cochrane of Allegheny, who was defeated for the Republican nomination for recorder by John A. Fairman, is a candidate for sheriff.

A meeting of representatives of the Democratic, Lincoln and Prohibition parties will be held in Philadelphia next week to discuss the joint gubernatorial nomination. Homer L. Castle, who is indorsed by the Prohibition state executive committee, said yesterday he was a candidate for the nomination of the Democrats and Lincolnites. If a disagreement between the Democrats and Lincolnites occurs, Mr. Castle says, it will be because the Democrats, who furnish two-thirds of the votes, will insist upon a Democrat, and the Lincolnites will insist that, as they helped the Democrats elect Berry state treasurer, the Democrats ought to reciprocate.

WARDENS RECEIVE WARNING.

Dr. Kalbfus and Joseph Berrier Receive "Black Hand" Letters From Unknown Writers.

HARRISBURG, March 14.—(Special.)—Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the Pennsylvania state game commission, and Joseph Berrier, chief warden of the commission, today received "Black Hand" notices in Italian, warning them to "Watch out" for the writer, who does not sign the paper.

The notices were in Italian and are supposed to have been written by foreigners whom Dr. Kalbfus has prosecuted recently for violating the game laws. Both notices were signed "Mano Nera," the regular Black Hand signature, and contain the outlines of a hand carefully blackened with ink.

HISTORICAL NOTES BRING HIGH PRICE

LONDON, March 14.—The original draft in Lord Nelson's handwriting of the historical "general memorandum" to his captains at the battle of Trafalgar was sold at auction at Christies' today for $18,000. The purchaser was a bookseller, who was reported to be acting in behalf of a collector, but the bookseller denied so doing, and said he bought the document to remain in England, adding that he was ready to hand it over to the British museum for $18,000.

REBEL LEADERS ARE BEHEADED IN CHINA

CANTON, March 14.—The leader of the rebels of Kuang Si province and three others, who were implicated in the attack on the house of the Rev. Dr. Andrew Beattie, the American missionary, at Fati, in February, were beheaded March 12. The rush of applicants for shares of the Canton-Han Kow railway issued today was so great that the streets were blocked with Chinese, and soldiers were called out to maintain order.

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES.

The senate, on motion of Mr. Culbertson, adopted a resolution calling upon the secretary of war to send to the senate copies of all reports on the recent attack by United States troops on Mount Dajo, Jolo islands.

Speaker Cannon extended an informal reception in his office at the capitol today to delegates to the National Consular Reform association in this city. Speaker Cannon assured the party that he favored consular reform, but said: "However, gentlemen, it is always hard to tell what the house will do. God only knows, and sometimes I doubt if He knows what the senate will do."

By unanimous vote house committee on elections No. 3 decided to recommend the seating of Delegate Jonah K. Kalanianaole of Hawaii, whose seat was contested on the ground of fraudulent election methods.

The legislative committee of the American Bankers' association, headed by Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines, appeared before the house committee on banking and currency in support of the bill authorizing national banks to lend money on farm lands and the bill permitting such banks to lend 10 per cent of their paid up capital and surplus to one borrower. The committee also urged elastic currency legislation.

Representative Hardwick of Georgia will introduce a bill empowering the house committee on the election of president, vice president and representatives in congress to summon and swear witnesses in an investigation of the expenditures in the last three presidential campaigns. This investigation is provided for in a bill introduced by Representative Cockran of New York.

Representative Hearst of New York introduced a bill prohibiting secret rebates, discriminations and concessions, and providing imprisonment of from one to 10 years as a punishment for giving or receiving such concessions or rebates.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and other labor leaders appeared before the house committee on judiciary in opposition to the Gilbert bill, which provides that restraining orders or injunctions in labor cases cannot be granted without first giving due notice to the opposite party.

Secretary Root addressed the Consular Reform convention, pledging that President Roosevelt and the state department will do their best to accomplish desirable results in the improvement of the consular service. The convention adopted a report calling on congress to provide by legislation for placing the consular service on a plane comporting with the dignity and needs of the country.

GRAND TO LIVE.

And the Last Laugh Is Always the Best.

"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman, "now I laugh to know there is."

"Since childhood I drank coffee as freely as any other member of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl, and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down, till last winter at the age of 38 I seemed to be on the verge of consumption. My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look! What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting.

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged.

"Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum Food Coffee. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change. I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled. The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong.

"I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marveled at the change, and when they inquire what brought it about I answer, 'Postum Food Coffee, and nothing else in the world.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Most of the monthly magazines are published between the twentieth and thirtieth of the month. Ninety-five per cent. of the monthly publications come out within the space of nine days. Two-thirds of the month are left to the undisputed influence of the weekly. The manufacturer who advertises in THE SATURDAY EVENING POST has from two to three weeks in which he talks to his customers without the competition of competitors who talk through monthlies alone.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST has met an eager reception and a large circulation because the people of this country wanted something good to read as often as once a week.

If four million people can be induced to buy a weekly every week, these same people can be induced to take an interest in your goods every week instead of once a month.

The Watch-Dog in your Vest Pocket

YOU can buy Health Insurance now.

Several good "Accident" Companies sell it.

Sixty dollars per year will bring you $25.00 per week, for every week you are Sick.

But, your time alone may be worth far more than that.

And $200 per week might not pay for your suffering.

That's why "Cascaret" Insurance which prevents Sickness, is worth ten times as much money as other "Health" Insurance.

Yet "Cascaret Insurance" will cost you less than Ten Cents a week.

That gives you a "Vest Pocket" Box to carry constantly.

"Indigestion" means food eaten but only partially digested.

"Constipation" means food retained in the body undigested too long, till it decays.

It then supplies the poisons of decay to the system, in place of the nourishment it might have supplied.

Isn't that a tremendous handicap worth insuring against?

What does it cost to Cure Constipation or Indigestion, with their train of small and great ills, and to Insure against a return of them?

Not so very much.

One 10 cent box of Cascarets per week, at most, perhaps half that.

One candy tablet night and morning, taken regularly for a short time, is warranted to cure the worst case of Constipation or Indigestion that walks the earth.

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you.

Because 90 per cent of these ills begin in the Bowels, or exist through poor Nutrition.

No,—they act like Exercise on the Bowels, instead.

They stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to contract and propel the Food naturally past the little valves that mix Digestive Juices with Food.

The time to take a Cascaret is the very minute you suspect you need one.

—When your tongue is coated a little.

—When you have eaten too heartily, or too rapidly.

—When you have drunk more than was good for your digestion.

—When you have a touch of Heartburn, Gas-belching, Acid-rising-in-throat, or a Coming-on-Cold.

It costs only 10 cents. At any druggist.

HEPBURN BILL MUST BE AMENDED

COURT REVIEW NOW CERTAIN

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The fight in the senate over the railroad rate bill is on in earnest. Senator Raynor of Maryland, made a speech today and it developed a running fire of debate that was full of life and interest. Senator Knox was drawn into the discussion and was busy asking and replying to questions that have a bearing upon the bill, and the various propositions brought forth.

Senator Knox stated he believes the Hepburn bill is unconstitutional as it now stands with no provision for court review of the interstate commerce commission's findings. Senator Raynor, who announced he would vote for the bill whether certain amendments that he proposed were adopted or not, also agreed that the bill is unconstitutional, but for a different reason than that given by Senator Knox. He claimed that the penalty clause made it unable to stand the test of the courts.

Senator Foraker had no hesitation in declaring that the bill is unconstitutional for half a dozen reasons.

Mr. Tillman, the Democratic senator who is in charge of the bill, did not deny the statement credited to him that he was of the opinion that a train could be run through the bill so many are the unconstitutional openings in it.

Court Review Is Certain.

In view of this general sentiment it is evident that the Hepburn bill will undergo very material amendment before it becomes a law. It is now certain, as stated in The Gazette this morning, that a court review provision will be incorporated in it. Senator Aldrich, who is leading the fight for such an amendment, announced to the friends of the bill today that the opposition was ready for a vote on it at any time. They are convinced that they have enough votes to incorporate in the bill the amendments they are insisting upon and, that done, all are willing to vote for the bill.

When Senator Raynor was arguing against a court review that would cause lengthy litigation he stated that it would require three years to get a final decision on a contested rate, and by that time the decision would be useless. Senator Knox called his attention to the expedition law framed by himself while attorney general and passed by congress, under the terms of which appeal is taken direct from the United States circuit court to the supreme court, such cases having precedence over others. The Northern Securities case was conducted under the terms of this law, and in it a final decision was secured from the supreme court within six months from the date of beginning the action. This expedition law, Senator Knox stated, has been extended to the interstate commerce laws, and therefore, there would be no long delays in deciding appeals from the commission's findings.

Sixty Days Would Do.

Senator Knox made a short speech in which he called attention to the fact that it is admitted by the friends of the Hepburn bill that it admits of unlimited appeals from the commission as it now stands. But under the terms of the court review amendment framed by Mr. Knox, there is a limitation, and frivolous appeals are prevented.

Senator Knox thought that 60 days would be sufficient to take any one of these cases through the courts. Senator Rayner believed that not less time than 18 months would be necessary for the process, while Senator Tillman called attention to the fact that there were 60 cases in the federal courts in Pennsylvania which have been pending for 17 years.

ISADORE RAYNER,
Senator from Maryland, who was one of the leaders in yesterday's debate upon the rate bill.

Senator Knox stated in reply to Senator Tillman that he had recently received from the Pittsburgh judge before whom these cases were brought, complaints of the criticisms in the senate of his course. The judge had stated that the complainants had made no move in the cases for two years.

"Naturally, they would get tired after trying for 15 years," responded Senator Tillman.

Senator Tillman called attention to the fact that he (Tillman) had presented a measure that had been highly spoken of by both Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Foraker.

Senator Foraker interrupted to again express his appreciation of the South Carolina senator's bill. "It is blunt and brusque, like the senator himself, but like the senator, it gets there just the same," he said, and the senate laughed uproariously.

Mr. Aldrich declared that Mr. Tillman had become so enamored of the house bill that he had deserted his own measure, and this accusation Mr. Tillman vehemently denied. "I never deserted my baby," he said, "but the senator from Rhode Island insisted upon putting his own dress on it; that was distasteful to me, and the bantling is sleeping peacefully in one of the pigeon holes in the room of the chairman of the committee on interstate commerce, Mr. Elkins. Then some one dropped another kid in my house and I am holding it. I don't deny that I am suspicious of the paternity of the brat, and of the brat itself, but knowing the difficulties in the way of getting a bill on which the committee could agree, I voted to bring the house bill into the senate so that we could discuss it in the open."

Senators Foraker and Lodge took exception to Senator Rayner's contention that the railroads have interfered in the framing of the bill, and Mr. Foraker also expressed himself as dissatisfied with the intimation that the railroads are represented on the floor of the senate. Mr. Dolliver expressed displeasure with the plea for amendments, and went so far as to say that the help of such friends as Mr. Rayner could very well be dispensed with.

When Senator Rayner suggested that some railroad lawyer had been instrumental in framing some parts of the bill, Senator Foraker asked what lawyer he had in mind.

"Not you," responded Senator Rayner. He added that the suggestion had applied to the provision for the suspension of the findings of the interstate commerce commission.

Senator Foraker asked then if reference had been made to Mr. Dolliver, and he replied in the negative, adding that he had the names of the lawyers and could give them.

"It is the first time," responded Senator Foraker, "that I ever heard that there had been a railroad lawyer engaged in the preparation of the bill, but I had suspected it all the time."

DEPEW'S ABSENCE TO BE PERPETUAL

New York Senator Will Never Resume His Duties at the National Capital.

PLATT SAYS HE'S VERY SICK

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The opinion is becoming prevalent here that Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York will never again resume his seat in the United States senate. This opinion was supported by the statement made today by Mr. Depew's colleague, Senator Platt. Mr. Platt, himself weak and not in good health, stated that the reports that Senator Depew was confined in a sanitarium were untrue, that he is at home in New York and that he is a very sick man. Senator Platt made no attempt to hide the fact that Mr. Depew is seriously ill, but he denied unqualifiedly the report that he is failing mentally and has reached the stage where he is kept in close confinement.

For several days there has been much speculation regarding Senator Depew's condition. Inquiries of his friends and his secretary elicited no definite information. It was reported that he was in New York and there inquirers were told that he was in Washington. It was this secrecy that gave rise to the rumors of his failing mentality. Rumor had it that he was confined in a sanitarium and the most sensational details were connected with the story. Finally his family admitted that he was under the doctors' care in New York, but they denied that he was seriously ill. But Senator Platt's statement today is taken to mean that Mr. Depew's term of public service is about at an end and the news of his resignation would occasion no surprise at any time.

Senator Depew was opposed to the joint statehood bill that admitted Arizona and New Mexico as one state. The opposition was desirous of pairing him with a senator who was in favor of the bill and Senator Platt, himself unable to be present on the day of the vote and being paired with Senator Kittredge, wrote here stating that he knew his colleague's views and that he would like him paired. But the statehood forces refused to make the pair without the personal authorization of Senator Depew. Attempt was made to get into communication with Mr. Depew, but his family declined to permit a letter to reach him and the result was that he lost his vote on the measure. It was taken for granted then that he was too ill to even consider this subject.

NEW POSTOFFICE PROJECT RECEIVES ENCOURAGEMENT

Congressman Burke Will Have Another Hearing Before the Committee—Another Site Suggestion Which Is Not Feasible.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Representative Barthoidt, chairman of the house committee on public buildings and grounds, held a conference with Secretary of the Treasury Shaw today and found that the condition of the treasury is such as to warrant a fair-sized public building bill at this session. There is now a surplus of a million or so in receipts and the deficit that has worried the leaders of congress for the past two years is entirely wiped out. This fact has a direct bearing upon the chances of an appropriation for a new postoffice at Pittsburgh and enhances them very materially.

Representative Burke was informed today by Mr. Barthoidt that he would be given a hearing before the committee finally passes upon the Pittsburgh proposition. This will be within the next two weeks.

Mr. Barthoidt has received from two Pittsburgh men a proposition that the alley in the rear of the postoffice be vacated and enough property in the adjoining block be purchased to build an addition to the present postoffice. They state that this property can be bought for $500,000.

This plan has been fully considered by Mr. Burke and the supervising architect of the treasury and it is not considered feasible. The block bounded by Third and Fourth avenues, Grand street and Cherry alley would make a desirable location for the new building, if it contained more space and the cost would not be so great. It is valued at about $1,500,000 and it contains only 48,000 square feet or 7,000 square feet less than the space desired. There are a number of other reasons why it will not answer the purpose.

BEGGARS HAVE MONEY.

Gang Raided in Allegheny Pay Promptly When Fined.

Magistrate Abernathey, at Allegheny Central station, had nine "yeggmen" at the morning hearing yesterday, and each was fined $25 and costs, except one who had no legs. He was discharged and ordered to leave town. In the opinion of the magistrate it pays to be a beggar in Allegheny, for rather than spend 60 days at the workhouse the other eight managed to raise $223 60 to pay for their liberation.

Samuel Johnson, a negro, was held for court under $500 bail on charges of larceny and malicious mischief. It was charged he started a stampede in the boarding house of Mrs. Margaret Bier at 38 East Lacock street on Tuesday night, slashing furniture with a large knife and playing handball with everything that was not nailed down.

FROM AVILA TO GRANADA.

Elmendorf's Closing Lecture Will Deal With Interesting Points in Spain.

Dwight Elmendorf will lecture this evening in Carnegie Music hall, Pittsburgh. This is the last lecture in this course of five, and the subject is Spain from Avila to Granada. Because the Moors invaded Spain and there reached their highest degree of development, this country is enveloped with a charm that the Spanish themselves could never give it.

After visiting the northern and central Moorish towns, the journey is continued to Granada, a wonderful contrast to the other portions of Spain on account of the irrigation introduced by the Moors.

STATEHOOD BILL MAY BE POSTPONER

Cannon Suggests Possibility of Measure Going Over to Adjourned Session.

CAUCUS CALLED FOR TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Whether the caucus on statehood to be participated in by Republicans of the house tomorrow afternoon is to "bind" those who attend has been an absorbing topic of discussion among "insurgent" members of the party today. No conclusion has been reached. For this reason a conference of those Republicans who wish to concur in the senate amendments has been called for 1 o'clock tomorrow. At this conference it will be determined whether insurgents shall attend the caucus or shall stay away. It is stated by "insurgents" that they have been urged to attend the caucus on the ground that it is to be a "conference" and not a caucus. However, there are varied views as to the binding effect of either a caucus or conference. Some members contend that neither bind the participants, while others hold that conferences do not bind, while caucuses do.

Speaker Cannon says he has not yet lost faith in the overwhelming Republican majority which voted for the house bill. He has received many telegrams today, and admits that influences are working to secure a concurrence in the senate measure. The caucus tomorrow will, he says, determine this point.

The speaker says he has not read the statehood bill, as amended by the senate, but has been reliably informed that it contains amendments of such character that if any member made the point of order, it would have to go to the committee on territories under the rules. Mr. Cannon made the significant remark that people seem to forget that there was three months of the present congress—alluding to the coming short session—in which the two houses might get together on the statehood bill.

He says there will be a conference between the two houses on the measure, but the allusion to the short session in this connection is taken to mean that should the caucus tomorrow develop a lack of votes to maintain the house bill, the matter of house action may be postponed until the next session of congress.

TAFT TALKS OVER MATTERS WITH HIS THREE BROTHERS

NEW YORK, March 14.—Secretary of War Taft was in conference in this city today with three of his brothers and several intimate friends. Asked specifically as to the possibility of his acceptance of the supreme court associate justiceship, Mr. Taft said that manifestly he could not discuss the matter. He maintained that his conference with his brothers was but an informal family affair. Secretary Taft's brothers are Henry W. Taft of this city, Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati and Horace D. Taft of Watertown, Conn.

Weak Women Made Strong, Sick Women Made Well.

The record of cures effected by this remedy is without a parallel. Thousands of testimonials received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women.

It is composed wholly of medicinal principles extracted from the roots of native, American forest plants, pure triple-refined glycerine of proper strength, being used instead of harmful alcohol both in extracting and preserving these medicinal principles.

IT IS A POWERFUL INVIGORATING TONIC

imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," run-down," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or school room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

AS A SOOTHING AND STRENGTHENING NERVINE

"Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus' dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the organs distinctly feminine. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

CURES OBSTINATE CASES.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful periods, unnatural suppressions and irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the uterus, inflammation, pain and tenderness over the ovaries and kindred ailments.

FREE CONSULTATION.

An invitation is extended by Dr. Pierce to every sick and ailing woman to consult him by letter. There is absolutely no charge or fee for this consultation. Every letter is carefully considered, fully answered, and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE BADGE OF HONESTY.

Each bottle of the above medicine bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places this medicine in a class all by itself. It cannot be classed as a patent nor secret medicine, for it is neither—being of known composition.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS

cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness or constipation of the bowels; loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heart burn," pain and distress after eating and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious grannies, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

How to live in health and happiness, is the general theme of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work on medicine and hygiene, containing over 1,000 pages and more than 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

All Pure Beer Is Not Good Beer

Superiority of Quality is the Test.

MOST beer, no matter by whom brewed, is clean, pure and sterilized.

o o o o o

Clean, pure beer may be made from almost any cereal—and may be aged and sterilized, but it will not necessarily be good beer.

CORN OR OTHER CHEAP MATERIALS WILL NOT MAKE GOOD BEER.

The maximum of Quality is not there.

The brewers of Corn-made beer can and do justly claim purity, cleanliness and freedom from germs.

But they cannot justly claim quality.

o o o o o

Science and experience have proved that good beer MUST contain two essential ingredients—HOPS and BARLEY, and for pale beer a small percentage of rice.

But it is much cheaper to use Corn-Grits as a substitute for Barley-Malt.

o o o o o

We use those materials which are recognized in the science of brewing as the essential elements for a really healthful, palatable, honest and superior beer; and of these only the very best, regardless of cost.

Not a grain of corn ever enters our brewery in any manner or for any purpose.

o o o o o

Our storing capacity of 600,000 barrels, exceeding that of any two other breweries in the world, enables us to lager (age) our beer from four to five months.

RAILROADS ARE OUT OF MARKET

NO REACTION IS EXPECTED

While the feeling of uncertainty that pervades the industrial situation the country over was reflected during the past week in the iron and steel market, the principal interests report that specifications have been coming in in goodly number, and that inquiry has been excellent. One of the largest independent steel mills has been, and is still, turning down orders for light rails, while structural material remains in great demand.

The railroads, however, are not coming into the market with such large contracts as was expected at this time. On February 28 of last year prices were advanced because of the tremendous buying movement on the part of the railroads. It is believed by steel interests that the railroads will come into the market as soon as the coal strike situation is cleared up, and some of the legislatures, which have been considering antagonistic measures, adjourn. Many of the larger buyers in the iron and steel trade are watching the railroad buying movement, and it is believed that once the railroads come into the market, a general buying movement will begin that may possibly eclipse that of last fall. However, the market as it stands is a good one and there are no real indications that a reaction has set in. Plates and scrap have been quiet, but other finished lines are in good demand.

Bessemer and foundry iron is quiet, as large consumers are not inclined to commit themselves on their quarter delivery at this early stage, with the coal situation in such an uncertain position. Coke is firm at quotations, while the cheap grades are strong at quotable prices.

Current Quotations.

Pig iron—Bessemer, valley, $17 00@17 75; Bessemer, Pittsburgh, $18 45@18 60; No. 1 foundry, $18 00@18 95; No. 2 foundry, $18 25@18 45; grey forge, $17 10@17 60; basic, Pittsburgh, $18 30@18 45.

2½-inch and larger, over 23 feet long, 10 per cent extra.

Scrap—Gross tons, Pittsburgh market, No. 1 heavy steel, $18 00; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22 00; No. 1 cast scrap, $15 50@16 00; old car wheels, $17 00@18 00; recolling rails, $18 25; wrought iron piling scrap, $20 00; standard iron car axles, $28 50; standard railroad steel car axles, $28 50; standard railroad steel car axles, $23 50; steel axle turnings, $15 50; machine shop turnings, $14 75; old standard section iron rails, $23 50; new bundled sheets, $15 50; clean cast borings, $11 25; railroad leaf spring steel scrap, $15 50; burnt cast scrap, $13 00; low phosphorus and sulphur melting steel scrap, $20 50; low phosphorus steel punchings, $19 00.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware market continues to move along in very good fashion, the trade evidently feeling, judging from their orders and their insistence on shipments, that spring is almost here, and that they must be fully ready for business when it comes. The demand for goods covers practically all lines, season goods as well as general lines, and is, as we say, for immediate shipment. The recent large purchases of window glass have had a very strong effect on the matter of prices in this particular commodity, and has had a tendency to spurt up business somewhat. Other goods in this line are moving very well, paint agencies being established and good stock going for. Wood and brushes, varnishes and lines that are in this particular class are moving out in good quantities. Business in bicycles and sundries continues active, the trade in these particular lines feeling they are about up to the opening season and are getting their lines in shape to sell goods. Prices in a general way are firm, manufacturers still reporting themselves very busy and unable in many cases to fill orders with any degree of promptness.

The Bindley Hardware Company furnished the following quotations: Columbia pocket knives, discount 25 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70, 10 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base. No. 26, $2 25 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, the ton, $24 00; window glass, first three brackets, 90 and 20 per cent; above, 90 and 20 per cent; Albion sewing machines, discount 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; hay forks, 60 per cent.

MOROCCAN CONFERENCE IS AT A STANDSTILL

ALGECIRAS, SPAIN, March 14.—The Moroccan conference has reached a peculiar stage and it is completely helpless to solve the deadlock which has arisen over the remaining details of the police and bank questions. The sessions are temporarily suspended without knowing when they will be resumed. The French and German delegates are bound by their instructions and therefore are unable to make any further concessions and the conference not having judicial or legislative powers cannot settle the differences by a majority.

POLICEMEN PAY FOR WINDOW BROKEN BY BOYS

Policemen attached to No. 3 station house turned philanthropists last night. A riot call had summoned a squad to Penn avenue and Thirteenth street, where a crowd of boys, while snowballing, had broken a window in Louis Mormen's barber shop. Instead of making any arrests, however, these generous-hearted bluecoats, probably remembering they were once young themselves, sent the boys skitting and then dove down into their pockets and contributed the price of Mormen's broken window.

MINERS' TROUBLES AFFECTS PIG IRON

Talk of Coal Strike Causes the Placing of Moderate Sized Orders.

CLEVELAND, March 14.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: Although in some centers there is a diminution in orders for finished materials, this condition is exceptional and nearly everywhere business is brisk and mills are unable to keep up with specifications. In pig iron the market is somewhat irregular, especially in the south. The increased probability of the strike of coal miners is causing heavy buying of coke. The improved demand for southern iron has brought on lower quotations and $13 75, Birmingham, for No. 2, is now openly named, while 25 cents lower has been done. There is, however, much in favor of the buyer, as stocks are low, consumption continues at a heavy rate, the car supply is irregular, and the strike is not to be ignored. In the north prices of foundry iron are firm, although there is some weakness in southern Ohio. The American Bridge Company closed orders for about 10,000 tons of material during the week, among the contracts being one for 3,200 tons for Chicago office buildings. Active preparations are being made for extensive building operations in all parts of the country. Large consumers came into the market a few days ago in Chicago and placed orders aggregating from 4,000 to 5,000 tons for bar iron at $22 00 to $23 00 a ton, but the market in that city has since advanced. The demand for bar iron is irregular and little is being sold at more than $24 00.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Iron Age will say tomorrow: "Satisfactorily the pig iron industry remains in very good shape with production slightly curtailed and stocks apparently still declining. The capacity of the furnaces in blast on March 1 was 479,750 gross tons a week, as compared with 483,156 tons a week on February 1. During February the furnaces of the steel companies did not produce as heavily as expected, making 1,216,760 tons, while the merchant furnaces produced 677,272 tons. The production in February, a short month, was 1,894,032 tons, as compared with 2,068,888 tons in January, the record month.

"Partial reports indicate that stocks are still falling off slightly in the northern districts. Full returns from the merchant furnaces of Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia show that stocks on hand, which amounted to 144,832 tons January 1, 1906, fell to 110,066 tons February 1 and 102,351 tons March 1. The southern companies made every effort to ship iron prior to March 1, when the advance in freights went into effect. The uncertainties as to fuel supply are having a considerable effect upon the pig iron markets. A strike in the anthracite regions does not usually seriously curtail the output of pig iron. Our records show that during the five months' anthracite coal strike of 1902 the production of pig iron in the Schuylkill, Lehigh, Lebanon and Susquehanna valley and in New Jersey averaged a monthly curtailment of roughly 20,000 tons, which would not very seriously disturb the industry. Current business in pig iron is limited to early requirements and there is a steady flow of moderate-sized orders, which are encouraged by the talk of possible strikes among the coal miners.

"In the rail trade some very good inquiries have again appeared. This includes 25,000 tons from one transcontinental line, 15,000 from another road and 20,000 from the Guayaquil and Quito road. Among the orders placed during the last few days is 15,000 tons for the Pere Marquette and 10,000 tons for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, carrying the orders for that line to about 32,000 tons. The requirements for trolley lines continue exceedingly heavy.

"Requirements for structural material are still very heavy and promise to come out in further quantities. During the first half of the month the leading interest booked 18,000 tons and other mills are taking large quantities. Bars have weakened further east and west and there are reports that $1 50 Pittsburgh has been done for good iron bars. In the cast iron pipe industry some pretty good contracts are being placed and some large ones are in sight."

Date Set for Blackburn Trial.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 14.—A special from Asheville, N. C., says: Judge Pritchard and Judge Boyd have signed a joint order for the holding of a special term of court at Greensboro, on April 17, for the trial of Congressman Blackburn, indicted by the grand jury for accepting a fee for service performed before a government department. Judge Goff has been designed as the trial judge.

IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE

BY EMILE GABORIAU

"If my version is accepted," replied M. Folgat, "the rest follows as a matter of course. But will they accept it? On the day he was arrested, M. de Boiscoran, trying to find an excuse for having been out that night, said he had gone to see his wood merchant at Brechy. That was a disastrous imprudence. And here is the true danger, for the rest amounts to nothing. There is the water in which M. de Boiscoran washed his hands when he came, and in which they have found traces of burnt paper. We have only to modify the facts very slightly to explain the circumstance. We have but to state what M. de Boiscoran really did with a slight change in the motive. M. de Boiscoran is a passionate smoker; that is well known. He had taken with him a good supply of cigarettes when he set out for Brechy, but he had no matches. And that is a fact. We can furnish proof, and to this task the two lawyers were still devoting themselves when Blangin, the jailer, called to them through the wicket, that the prison doors were about to be closed.

"Five minutes more, my good Blangin," cried Jacques. And drawing his two friends aside, as far from the wicket as he could, he said to them in a low and distressed voice, "A thought has occurred to me, gentlemen, which I think I ought to mention to you. I am sure that the Countess de Claudieuse must be suffering terribly since I am in prison. However certain she may be that she has left no traces behind her that would betray her, still she must tremble at the idea that I may, after all, tell the truth in self-defense. She would deny it, I know; for she is doubtless confident that she is so sure of her prestige, that my accusations would not injure her marvelous reputation. Nevertheless, she cannot but shrink from the scandal. Who knows if she might not furnish us with the means to escape from the trial, so as to avoid this exsure? Could not one of you gentlemen make an attempt to influence her?"

M. Folgat was a man of quick resolution. "I will try," he answered, "if you will give me a line of introduction."

Jacques immediately sat down, and wrote as follows:

"I have told my counsel, M. Folgat, everything. Save me, and I swear you eternal silence. Will you let me perish, Genevieve, when you know I am innocent?" JACQUES."

"Is that enough?" he asked, handing the lawyer the note. "Yes; and I promise you I will see the Countess de Claudieuse within the next 48 hours."

Blangin was already growing impatient; and the two advocates had to leave the prison without further delay. As they crossed the Place du Marche Neuf they noticed a number of boys and girls following a wandering musician, who, strumming on a wretched fiddle, sang, with all the local accent, an old ballad of Saintonge:

"In the spring, mother Redbreast
In the bushes made her nest,
The good lady!
In the bushes made her nest,
The good lady!"

Instinctively M. Folgat fumbled in his pocket for some sous, when the musician came up to him, held out his hat as if to ask for alms, and whispered, "You do not recognize me?"

The advocate started. "You here!" he said.

"Yes, I myself. I came this morning; I was watching for you for I must see you this evening at 9 o'clock. Let me in by the little garden gate at the back of M. de Chandore's house." Then, taking up his fiddle again, the minstrel wandered off listlessly, singing as he went:

"And a few short weeks later,
She had a wee, a wee bit birdy."

CHAPTER XXIII.

The great lawyer of Sauveterre had been far more astonished than M. Folgat at this unexpected and extraordinary meeting. As soon as the wandering minstrel had left them, he said to his young colleague, "You know that individual?"

"That individual," replied M. Folgat, "is none other than the agent whose services I have engaged, and whom I mentioned to you."

"Goudar?"

"Yes, Goudar."

"And you did not recognize him?"

The young advocate smiled. "Not until he spoke," he replied. "The Goudar whom I know is tall, thin, beardless, and wears his hair cut like a brush. This street musician is short, full-bearded, and his long, smooth hair falls over his shoulders. How could I recognize my man in that vagabond costume, with a violin in his hand, and a provincial song set to music?"

M. Magloire smiled too as he said, "After all, what are professional actors in comparison with these men! Here is one who pretends having reached Sauveterre only this morning, and who knows the country as well as Fumenee Cheminot himself. He has not been here 12 hours, and he speaks already of M. de Chandore's little garden gate."

"Oh! I can explain that circumstance now, although, at first, it surprised me very much. When I told Goudar the whole story, I no doubt mentioned the little gate in connection with Mechinet."

While chatting they had reached the upper end of the Rue Nationale. Here they stopped, having different roads to take to return home. Before separating, M. Magloire inquired of his colleague if he were quite resolved to see the Countess de Claudieuse, and on receiving an affirmative reply he advised him to be very prudent, no matter what might happen. "Above all," he added, "do not lose your temper. Remember that a scene with her would compel us to change our whole line of defense, and that that is the only one which promises any success."

"Oh, do not fear!" replied M. Folgat, and then, having shaken hands once more, they parted.

On reaching the Baron de Chandore's residence, M. Folgat found every one waiting for him in the drawing room. He was surprised to see how mournful and dejected all the prisoner's relatives and friends appeared to be. "Have we any bad news?" he asked, with a hesitating voice.

"The worst we had to fear," replied the Marquis de Boiscoran. "We had all foreseen it; and still, as you see, it has surprised us like a clap of thunder. In a word, the court has ordered the trial!"

"It is still a great secret," added Denise; "and we only know it, thanks to the indiscretion of kind, devoted Mechinet. Jacques will have to appear before the assizes."

At this moment she was interrupted by a servant, who entered to announce that dinner was on the table. They went into the dining-room, but, under such circumstances, none of them had any appetite to eat, and, with the exception of Denise and M. Folgat, no one seemed inclined to talk. From Mademoiselle de Chandore the young advocate learned that the Count de Claudieuse was decidedly worse, and that he would have received the last sacraments that very day had it not been for Dr. Seignebos' decided opposition; for the physician had declared that the slightest excitement might kill his patient. "And if he dies," added M. de Chandore, "that is the finishing stroke. Public opinion, already incensed against Jacques, will become implacable."

However, the meal came to an end; and M. Folgat then immediately acquainted Denise with Goudar's arrival and requested her to give him the key of the little garden gate. Nine o'clock was just striking when the spurious minstrel was heard approaching down the lane; M. Folgat at once set the door ajar, and a minute later Goudar, still carrying his violin, slipped into the garden. "A day lost!" he exclaimed, without thinking of saulting the young lawyer—"a whole day; for I could do nothing till I had seen you."

He seemed so angry that M. Folgat tried to soothe him by complimenting him on his disguise. On this occasion, however, Goudar was not open to praise. "What would a detective be worth," he replied, "if he could not disguise himself! A great merit, forsooth! And I tell you, I hate it! But I could not think of coming to Sauveterre as a detective. Ugh! Everybody would have run away; and what a pack of lies they would have told me! So I had to act that hideous masquerade. To think that I once took six months' lessons from a music teacher, merely to fit myself for the character! A wandering musician, you see, can go anywhere, and nobody is surprised; he goes about the streets, or he travels along the high-road; he enters yards, and slips into houses; he begs for alms; and in so doing, he accosts everybody, speaks to them, follows them. And as for my precious dialect, you must know I was here once before, engaged during six months in hunting after a gang of coiners; and if you don't catch a provincial accent in six months, you don't deserve to belong to the police. And I do belong to it, to my wife's great distress and my own disgust."

AT THE THEATERS

Plays By Shaw and Fitch and Other Dramatic Novelties Promised Next Week.

Mr. Arnold Daly will come to the Belasco theater next week, presenting two plays of the much talked of Bernard Shaw—"Candida" and "You Never Can Tell." The former play will be presented on Thursday and Saturday evenings, and "You Never Can Tell" the rest of the week. Mr. Daly has his New York casts and productions.

Clyde Fitch's play, "Her Great Match," a comedy in four acts, is the vehicle which Miss Maxine Elliott is using this season. It had an engagement of more than three months on Broadway, New York, at the beginning of this season, since which time it has been successfully presented in the principal cities. It comes to the Nixon next Monday night for an engagement of a week, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Miss Elliott was here last in another play by the same author, and added to her many local admirers at that time.

Fiske O'Hara, a new star, who has recently been launched in the theatrical world, comes to the Alvin next week in a new Irish comedy drama, "Mr. Blarney from Ireland," should prove an especially attractive feature for this house. It is the first Irish play ever seen in this country with all the scenes laid in and around New York. Moreover, it introduces a star with exceptional gifts as an actor and singer.

Delight Borsch and a dozen winsome sprites have lifted the broomstick witches out of "The Isle of Spice" and transplanted in vaudeville. They are in the Grand's bill for next week. Among the other acts on the Grand's bill are the following: Salerno, juggler extraordinary; Nicholls sisters; Trovollo, the popular ventriloquial artist, and Theresa Dorgeval, a Parisian soprano of renown.

The Vance and Sullivan company claim to have a genuine novelty this season in the new Owen Davis play with the rather unique title, "How Baxter Butted In," which is described as embracing the foremost features of modern melodrama, with the rural accompaniment of domestic comedy, and as such may be truthfully termed a theatrical innovation. As a scenic production it will be found a most complete affair, and the cast employed includes the names of several clever actors, including Sidney Toler.

Burlesque will be seen next week at the Gayety when the "Parisian Widows" come to that popular playhouse. The olio is made up of Honan and Kearney, Irish comedians; the three musical Keltons, Owens and Randall, comedy jugglers, the Valmore sisters and Ben Welch, the premier Hebrew comedian.

The Academy offers the "Jolly Girls" next week, one of the latest and most successful musical extravaganzas. Everything is new and up-to-date. A decided novelty is introduced in the "radium dance," which for real sensationalism surpasses anything of its kind yet produced. The cast is a large one, headed by Sam Sidman.

Salary Too Small, Judge Quits.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., March 14.—Judge W. C. Marshall of the Missouri supreme court, filed his resignation with Gov. Folk today to take effect April 1.

In his letter of resignation, Judge Marshall stated that the sole reason for his action was the fact that he did not consider the salary adequate for the office. A supreme judge's salary is $1,000 less a year than that of a judge of the St. Louis court of appeals.

Greater Pittsburgh Up Today.

Owing to the absence of Attorney D. T. Watson, who is in Philadelphia, the argument on the Greater Pittsburgh case which was scheduled for yesterday was postponed until today.

PIRATES ARRIVE AT HOT SPRINGS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., March 14.—(Special.)—A genuine thunder storm, the first seen by the Pirates since last fall, was encountered when their train reached Little Rock today, and the rain fell in torrents all day, making practice impossible. After ploughing through snow-covered fields and towns for several hundred miles, the thunder and lightning were welcomed as harbingers of spring, and the assurances of favorable weather which Hot Springs admirers of the game have bestowed, are otherwise gloomy day for the Pittsburgh players.

Capt. Clarke was at the station when the train pulled in, looking brown as a berry and fit to enter the pennant chase at once. His handclasp was characteristically hearty and there was an amount of good-natured bandinage in which even President Dreyfuss did not escape. Clarke was impressed with this climate, and Gilpatrick, Chase and Phillippi, who were slightly indisposed when they reported last spring.

Arrangements at the Eastman had been perfected by Clarke before the arrival of the party, and Mr. Dreyfuss' threat of change in hotels if accommodations were as poor as last year had the desired effect. Instead of placing six or eight men in one room, each room contained more than three, and all the indications point to a comfortable sojourn from the start.

Nealon, Sheehan and Meskiman, the California trio, were expected at Benton, but their train was three hours late there, and a little later a telegram from them, dated at El Paso, stated that they will not arrive until Thursday. The eagerness to greet the coast crackerjacks is not confined to Capt. Clarke, but is shared by all the members of the Pirate bunch.

Capt. Clarke and Mr. Dreyfuss were in consultation at the hotel for a short time, and when Clarke left his room he notified the men to assemble at 2 o'clock for instructions. At that hour they met in his room and were told that they would be expected to go to Whittington park early morning and afternoon of this week. They will devote two hours in the forenoon and a like period in the afternoon to running and throwing, and if the weather is favorable they will walk to and from the park, this latter provision being optional, however.

There will be no games this week, but if the weather is good and the men show the form that is expected by Monday, the Pirates and Yanigans will then begin their annual spring series. The absence of Al. Pratt from the party will necessitate the selection of another business manager and President Dreyfuss's choice will be one of the players or one of the newspaper men accompanying the party.

Both Clarke and Dreyfuss express themselves as well pleased with the condition of the men, and the cheerfulness furnishes evidence of their sincerity.

The players spent the day in the hotel or in renewing acquaintances in Hot Springs. They are favorites here, whether individually or collectively. The coming or going of a party of 20 ordinarily causes no comment in Hot Springs. Most of the population is transient, but the annual visit of the Pittsburgh players is looked forward to by the resident population. "They are such a jolly, gentlemanly set of fellows," explained a merchant.

The ponies are going in spite of the rain, and many of the players went out to the track for the first time. There they met a number of Americus and National leaguers and there was an interesting party of ball-tossers in the paddock during the afternoon and another in the stand.

Tomorrow morning practice will begin. Chauncey Bill Stewart, official umpire, is not expected until Monday. Harry Smith will report here within a few days, but it is doubtful if Peitz will be with his team mates before the opening of the playing season.

South Side a Winner.

MEADVILLE, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—The South Side champions defeated the Americus club tonight in a spirited game of basketball, 28 to 14. South Side arrived here with but four players, as Anderson was expected to meet his team here. They filled in with a local player, who did very well. The first half resulted in favor of the home team, 11 to 8. Lineup:

BUTLER APPLIES FOR A LEAGUE FRANCHISE

WASHINGTON, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Frank Jude, the Indian left fielder, last year with the Washington Independents, and signed to play with the Toledo club of the American association this season, has written Manager Seaman of the Washington club of the P., O. and W. Va. league that he would like to play here again this year. Judge will graduate from the Carlisle Indian school this month.

ALTOONA, PA., March 14.—Pitcher Alex Pearson of Freedom, Pa., for the last two seasons on the staff of the Altoona club, has been signed for 1906 by Manager Hamilton of Harrisburg. Infielder Broderick, claimed by Brooklyn, and Outfielder Murray, have also accepted terms. Billy Phyle, just reinstated by the national commission, is to play third base for the Senators.

ALTOONA, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Tommy Claycomb, the former York and Altoona infielder, is believed to be bleeding to death tonight as a result of an artery breaking after having a tooth extracted. Heroic remedies are being employed to stop the flow of blood, but fatal results are feared by the physicians.

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Manager Stetler of the New Castle team this afternoon wrote President Andrews that he now has 13 men under contract. Stetler will arrive here Saturday from Williamsport.

WESTMINSTER CLAIMS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Westminster college claims the collegiate basketball championship of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio and is ready to defend the title in a game or a series of games to be played on a neutral floor. Westminster closed the season at Sharon, winning from the Buhl club of that place last Monday night, and having a record of 12 victories out of 14 games played.

The reports from Sharon that the Westminster team started a riot after the game are untrue. A few hoodlums threw Indian clubs, chairs and others articles at the Westminster players as they were going to the dressing rooms after the game. The players resented and a small riot ensued.

INGRAM IS OUTCLASSED BY BELLEVUE SEVEN

The Bellevue hockey team showed good form at Duquesne last evening by defeating Ingram, 9 to 1. The losers were outclassed in all points. Hays secured the only goal for Ingram, while Davenny, Gunn and Simeral secured one each for Bellevue, Ward getting three. The lineup:

Ward	C	Ross
Johnson	F	Swartz
Simeral	R. W.	J. Campbell
Davenny (capt.)	L. W.	Hays
Gunn	P.	K. Campbell (capt.)
Burns	C. P.	Knox
Shaw	G	Campbell

Referee—"Orator" Bunton.

New Castle Making a Big Bluff.

SHARON, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—That New Castle is carrying out a big bluff in order to get the other teams in the Ohio and Pennsylvania league to consent to a change in the schedule is the opinion of baseball fans here. New Castle, it is declared, has had no intention of quitting the league. The schedule, while not altogether satisfactory to the management of the New Castle team, will probably stand as it is, with possibly one or two changes. Manager Yoho of the Sharon club has written Manager Walter East of Akron to get him to make a change of one game, and it is believed that East will agree.

Bob Wood Signs With Buffalo.

GIRARD, O., March 14.—Bob Wood, the veteran baseball catcher, formerly with Cleveland and Detroit, has signed a contract to play with Buffalo in the Eastern league. He will leave tomorrow for the south for preliminary practice.

Ghent Outplays Jones.

In the Hazelwood pool tournament last night Ghent defeated Jones by a score of 50 to 42. Score by frames:

Jones	7	6	11	7	4	5	2	42
Ghent	7	8	1	7	9	6	12	50

CHICAGO, March 14.—The second series of matches in the tourney for the national amateur class A championship was completed tonight and as a result J. F. Poggenburg of New York and E. W. Gardner of Passaic, N. J., are in the lead for the honors, each having won both of his games. Gardner took the measure of Calvin Demarest today and Poggenburg disposed of C. F. Conklin tonight. The other match was won by H. A. Wright of San Francisco, who defeated Charles S. Norris of New York, incidentally scoring a run of 111. Demarest succumbed to Gardner's safety play. But Conklin was not so easily downed, and the match by him and Poggenburg developed into a fierce contest.

The first game was won by Wright of San Francisco from Norris of New York, Wright scoring 300 to Norris' 179. Wright made the high run of the tournament, as far as it has progressed, and there is an excellent chance that he will continue the high run until the tournament is closed on a neutral floor. West in the third inning, which eclipses by 33 points the high run of last year's tournament. The other high runs made by Wright were 44, 35, 32 and 25. He held the lead from the opening of the game and the result was never in doubt. Norris made a high run of 31, and his other runs were 20 and 15. The score of the game was as follows: Wright—Total, 300; high run, 111; average, 23 1-23. Norris—Total, 179; high run, 31; average, 8 11-21.

Edward W. Gardner of Passaic, N. J., kept up his record for steady, consistent playing in the second game, defeating Calvin Demarest, a young Chicago player, by a score of 300 to 235. Gardner's average was 11 14-26, an improvement of nearly five points over his game of yesterday, while Demarest fell more than two points below his first effort in a national tournament, his average today being 9 1-26. Demarest took the lead in the third inning with a run of 83, which was the highest of the game, making a number of difficult masse shots and giving a fine exhibition of nursing the balls. In the eleventh he made a run of 24, in the fourteenth one of 58, and in the nineteenth collected 23. With the exception of these four runs, his work was poor, and he was not able to get above six in any inning. Gardner's judgment of the peculiarly good cushion shots and his steady, hard playing gave him the lead in the nineteenth inning, when he made a run of 35, most of which were open table shots. Summary:

	Total.	High.	Average.
Demarest	235	83	9 1-26

The evening match between J. Ferdinand Poggenburg and C. F. Conklin was comparatively uninteresting until the contest was two-thirds finished. Then the Chicagoan began to creep up on his opponent. Poggenburg won through the long lead that he had obtained in the initial stages as Conklin was playing with more judgment and greater courage at the end. The score was 300 to 250. Poggenburg started out at a whirlwind pace, averaging close to 17 in his first 11 innings, despite three zeroes. A run of 49 in the fifth, that was stopped by a miscue on a masse, and another of 68 in the ninth, ended by a bad kiss on a single cushion shot, were the principal factors in this part of the contest. In the next 25 innings he went into double figures only four times. Conklin got within striking distance in the twenty-second inning with a run of 25. He followed this with six and 14 and in the twenty-ninth collected 34. In the thirty-fourth he counted 18, leaving the score 238 to 209. Two innings later he clicked off 29, but Poggenburg had meanwhile crept up to 296 and secured the other four on his next trial. Summary:

	Total.	High.	Ave.
Conklin	250	41	8 2-36

DIAMOND AL SCORES KNOCKOUT AT ALTOONA

ERIE, PA., March 14.—The science of 60 battles was brought into play tonight by Diamond Al, formerly colored champion of Michigan, when he put the young steel plant giant of Buffalo, George Rogers, to sleep in the fifth round of what was to have been a 15-round boxing match. The men met at catch-weights, and Rogers had the advantage every way except in knowledge of how to conduct himself. He rushed Diamond Al repeatedly, and the Detroit man protected himself as best he could until the expected opening appeared, when he landed a terrible right on the giant's jaw and Rogers toppled and fell in a heap. He was not revived for several minutes after the fight ended. In the first round, Al led but after that permitted Rogers to come after him.

Al had not been in a fight for three years and was in poor condition, while Rogers, who has participated in only four fights, was in the best kind of shape.

Standfast Defeats the Eclipse.

The Standfast pool team won another great game last night from the Eclipse team by 100 to 74. The score at the start was 48 to 12 in favor of Eclipse, but Schroeffel and Mavis began to shoot and the other fellows were never in it. Schroeffel made 35 of the next 36 balls and Mavis had two runs of 11 and 14, which put Standfast in the lead. Wernert was out of form, but played his man safe, who got only one ball more. It is seldom that better playing is seen than that of Mavis and Schroeffel. J. M. Brown will play Standfast on Thursday. Any team that would like a game address Manager A. Standfast, 808 East street, Allegheny. Scores:

South Side Wins at Meadville.

MEADVILLE, PA., March 14.—The South Side basketball team defeated the Americus in a fast game here this evening. The entire game was played under A. A. U. rules, and the game never lagged. The Meadville team were outweighed 45 pounds to the man by the visitors, but won the first half 11 to 8. The locals were too light to do anything in the final half and lost the game. Score:

Billy Inlow in a Bad Way.

ALTOONA, PA., March 14.—(Special.)—Pugilist Billy Inlow of this city, whose work in the ring has attracted attention, is lying at death's door from blood poisoning. Ten days ago, while using a pair of swinging tongs in the Pennsylvania railroad blacksmith shop, the big fellow slipped and in falling cut a deep gash in his head, which, with alleged improper surgical treatment, caused his present condition.

Kress Beats Apple at Pool.

On the South Side yesterday in a pool match, Ben Kress defeated Charles Apple of Jeannette by a score of 164 to 44 for 350 a side. Kress had an easy time of it. The referee was Flinn and the scorer Seabright.

FEDERAL TEAM AGAIN WINS

RESULTS OF OTHER MATCHES

The Federals and North Braddocks, the two teams which expect to uphold the reputation of this section at the National tournament at Louisville, indulged in another practice game on Seng's Braddock alleys last night, and the Federals corralled the three games. The best game was the last, which the Federals won 904 to 882. The first two games were the results of reviving from a hearty supper. Phil Saul was the heavy bowler with 224. Gerstbrein did fine work, as also did W. Seng, Schuler, Fitzharris and Harris. Scores:

All the 12 teams of the Bankers' league participated in their regular scheduled meet on the Club alleys last night. Scores above the ordinary for that league were the rule all around. The champion Farmers won all three games from their opponents, the Mellors, and most all the other teams had a hard tussle to win two games in the series. The high individual rollers were Young, Hamnill, Woodburn, Boyle, Tessmer, West, McDonald, Thompson, Hutchinson and McLean. Boyle was the star with two 200 scores and best average and McLean had high score of 235. Games and scores:

The Sharpsburg Ducklets will meet the Superior duckpin team at Millvale on the Sirlin alleys this evening. All Sharpsburg players are requested to report early.

The Millvale Ducklets would like to play the Friendships on the Millvale alleys Friday evening. Please answer through the papers.

The duckpin match between the Casinos of Wilkinsburg and the Imperials of the South Side was claimed by the Casinos on forfeit, as the latter team did not put in an appearance at the Casino alleys in Wilkinsburg last night.

Haymaker and Ely are requested to meet Pochaible and Dimling on the Fifth Avenue alleys tonight instead of Friday night, as per schedule in the two-man league.

Manager McGrath is making preparation to entertain a big crowd on the Wylie Avenue alleys tonight to witness the first match between the Unitys and Ungers to decide the championship of the Pittsburgh section. Both teams are at present tied for first honors and the second and deciding contest will be played on the St. Joseph alleys Tuesday night. Capt. Wilson is appointed the official referee in the series.

Following is the schedule for the Twin City league on the Federal alleys for the next two weeks:

NEW DUCK PIN RECORD.

Mt. Washington Averages 488 and Jones Has High Score of 150.

Six teams of the Allegheny County Duckpin league met in their regular meet on the different alleys last night and the result was that some county records were smashed. In the first contest the Mt. Washingtons completely swamped the Southerns on their home alleys by defeating them in all three games and in this contest the Mt. Washington shown brightly by making two records. They made the best team record to date, 488 1-3. The star individual bowling was by Jones, with a high score of 150, and the splendid average of 124 2-3. This is a record here, and is possibly one of the best made anywhere in the country. The previous high score in this league was 141.

The Arlington-Liberty match resulted in a clean sweep for the Arlingtons, they winning all three games by close margins. Scores:

SHADYSIDE WINS SECOND POSITION

Defeats Pittsburgh College Preps 7 to 1, in the Windup of School Hockey League.

A DISPUTE OVER PLAYERS

	Won.	Lost.	Tie.	Pct.
Pittsburgh High School	6	0	0	1,000
Shadyside Academy	3	3	1	.500
Wilkinsburg High School	2	3	1	.400
Pittsburgh College Preps	1	2	1	.333
East Liberty Academy	4	4	0	.000

Ches. Babst's Shadyside academy seven captured second place in the Interscholastic hockey league championship series yesterday afternoon by beating the good Pittsburgh college Preps, 7 to 1. It was the wind-up of the league for the season, and second place was at stake.

The Bluffites put up a stubborn resistance in the first half, but the former champions went through them in the last half, scoring six goals. Dashbach, at goal, made some pretty and clever stops in the first half.

Both teams played with six men. Charlie Duffy, the captain of the Prep team, had "Wink" Dowling of Pittsburgh High school in a uniform intending to play him. When Babst heard of this he told Clarence Overend, a former Shadyside captain, to get in a uniform and play for his old team. The captains then got together and argued. Duffy said he had but seven men, and could not lay off Dowling. Babst came back with the proposition that each play but six men. This was agreed to. Babst sat Stolzenback on the bench.

The game was warmly contested, and in the second half Referee Overend was busy watching the players who were tripping and swinging their clubs. "Sun" Fleeger was the chief offender, and he was benched twice in the second half for tripping.

Heron shot the first goal in the opening period from a scrimmage. Myers dribbled through the entire Shadyside team and shot goal. Heron went up the field and passed across the ice to Bob Patterson, who shot goal. Heron followed this performance with a run along the side of the rink and shooting into the cage. Fleeger shot the fourth goal from a scrimmage, and Heron followed with another after a run. Patterson went up alone, and shot goal, and Fleeger got through the Preps' defense and shot the last goal. The line-up:

Shadyside—7.		P. C. Preps.—1.

Stockholders of the Allegheny Valley Decide Not to Go With Pennsylvania Just Now.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—At a meeting held here today by the stockholders of the Allegheny Valley railroad it was decided to postpone action for the present on the proposition to merge that road with the Pennsylvania railroad. No reason was publicly announced for the postponement. The stockholders of the Pennsylvania railroad approved the proposition at their meeting on Tuesday.

The board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad today approved the appropriation of $1,000,000 to cover the cost of improvements on the United railways of the New Jersey division, New York division and the Philadelphia division. Half of the appropriation is for the completion of the work being done in Camden, N. J., in connection with the West Jersey & Seashore railroad electrical improvements.

TWO NATIONS WILL HONOR JOHN PAUL JONES' MEMORY

President Roosevelt, the French Ambassador and Others to Speak at Interment Ceremonies.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Bonaparte is perfecting arrangements for the ceremonies attending the final interment of the body of Commodore John Paul Jones at the naval academy on April 24. Invitations to attend will be issued to the President and cabinet, congress, leading officials of the government, officers of the army, navy and marine corps, the principal officers from the patriotic societies of the country and of the members of the French embassy in this city.

The program includes addresses by President Roosevelt, M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, Gen. Porter, formerly United States ambassador to France, and Gov. Warfield of Maryland. Secretary Bonaparte will preside and introduce the speakers.

In addition to the French ambassador and his suite, France will be represented by a squadron of warships especially detailed for the purpose and the United States navy will be represented by the battleship squadron commanded by Rear Admiral Davis and a cruiser squadron commanded by Rear Admiral Bradford, both of which are attached to the Atlantic fleet commanded by Rear Admiral Evans. It being a naval function no United States troops will be present.

THE THREE RIVERS

CINCINNATI, March 14.—(Special)—At 6 p. m. the Ohio river was 16.6 feet and falling. On account of the thaw of the past few days rivermen expect that the river will be stationary for several days. There is every prospect of a high river if a cold spell does not set in. The towboat movements were: The J. T. Hatfield, which arrived early this morning from the Kanawha river with coal; the Joseph B. Williams, passed up late tonight with a tow of empties for Pittsburgh. Cloudy and colder.

LOUISVILLE.—River rising; in canal, 7.4 feet; on falls, 5.2 feet; below locks, 17.9 feet. Raining.

MORGANTOWN.—River 8 feet 6 inches and stationary. Cloudy.

GREENSBORO.—River 8 feet 8 inches and stationary. Five inches of snow. Cloudy and cold.

WARREN.—River 1 foot 1 inch. Cloudy and cold.

STEUBENVILLE.—River 7 feet 3 inches and rising. Down—Tornado. Cloudy and cold.

OIL CITY.—River 1 foot 7 inches and falling. Cloudy and cool.

WHEELING.—River 7 feet 7 inches and rising. Departed—Kanawha, Charleston, 7 a. m.; Ben Hur, Pittsburgh, 2 p. m.; Beatie Smith, Parkersburg, 2 p. m.

MARIETTA.—River 8 feet and falling. Cloudy. Lorena up at 8 a. m.; Greenland at 3 p. m. and Kanawha down at 4 p. m.

POINT PLEASANT.—River 16 feet 8 inches and rising. Raining. Down—Keystone, J. B. Lewis. Up—Boaz.

GALLIPOLIS.—River 14 feet and rising. Cold and raining.

PARKERSBURG.—River 9.5 feet and rising. Clear and mild. The Bedford left for Wheeling, the Greenland for Pittsburgh, the French for Creston, the Kanawha for Charleston.

WHARFBOATS TO BE SOLD.

Receiver Will Sell Packet Line Property on March 24.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 6.4 feet and the river was rising.

It was announced yesterday by Attorney George W. Acklin, receiver for the Pittsburgh & Morgantown Packet Company, that the property of the company would be offered at public sale at the Pittsburgh wharfboat at 11 a. m., March 24. The property includes the wharfboats owned by the company at Morgantown, Brownsville, Point Marion, Fredericktown, California, Believernon, Charleroi and Monongahela City. Whoever secures these boats will control the Monongahela river trade, and it is expected the bidding will be spirited. The steamers were sold some time ago and are not included in this sale.

The river is rising slowly, and unless a cold wave comes, the stage will be a fair one in a few days. The weather predictions are for a cold snap, however, and there is little hope for more water.

The Queen City arrived yesterday morning with a good cargo and left down the river at 4 p. m. Part of her consignment was a large number of horses. The Greenland from Charleston and the Lorena from Zanesville are due today. The Greenland will go out tomorrow at 4 p. m. The Lorena will not leave until Saturday at 4 p. m.

JURY ACQUITS; JUDGE PUNISHES

Jamboree in Court Gets L. E. Glenn Into Serious Trouble With Bench.

NEGROES GIVEN LONG TERM

Judge McClung made an example of a defendant who came into court under the influence of liquor and acted in an unruly manner while in the witness box. Although acquitted of the charge of larceny, L. E. Glenn was fined $25 for contempt of court, and given a jail sentence of 48 hours. He was told, in addition, that he would stay in jail until the fine was paid.

William Hewitt, James Horton and Frank Jackson, negroes, arrested in a raid on an Alder street house, in which a mock marriage was in progress, a young white boy being the groom, pleaded guilty to half a dozen charges of felony. Hewitt will serve six, Horton seven and Jackson eight years in the penitentiary. John Farr, who pleaded guilty to a like crime with which the negroes were charged, got six years to the same institution. The jury in the case of E. Ludivinsky, alias F. Cohen, charged with the larceny of jewelry and silverware valued at $2,500, from Freda Cohen, his fiancee, could not agree, and was discharged after being out 48 hours.

In the United States circuit court the Denver engineering works of Denver, Col., entered suit against State Supreme Court Justice John P. Elkins and Lawrence Eyre, to recover $9,500, alleged to be due for furnishing machinery at the mine of the defendants at Parral, Ariz.

Want the Union Enjoined.

The Lutz & Schramm Company began equity proceedings against T. J. Minahan, organizer of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; C. C. Douglass, president, and other officers of Iron City Trades council; Albert Young, organizer of the Teamsters' union, and several others of its officers, for an injunction against them. The company sets forth it discharged three teamsters on January 16 for cause, and four others left because the company would not reinstate those discharged. Others were employed and the company refused demands to reinstate the seven made by the Teamsters' union. It was alleged Minahan and some other officers threatened to report such refusal to the various trades councils interested, declaring they had $50,000 to expend to gain their end. It is alleged a boycott was declared on or about March 8 and circulars to this end posted throughout Allegheny and elsewhere, over the Teamsters' union name, and the indorsement of the trades council.

The plaintiff denies it ever discharged a teamster for belonging to the union, as these circulars allege, or that it is opposed to union labor. It also denies any controversy over hours or wages, but says it retains the right to discharge employes for good reason. A hearing is set for Friday.

The liquidating trustees of Zug & Co. secured a rule on the stockholders to answer a petition asking permission to sell the business as a whole.

A. S. Hunter and others seek an injunction against Cohn, Frank & Co. and W. K. Levy, manager. The plaintiffs say they own 447 Wood street, which the defendants leased for three years from April 1, 1903, at $7,500. It is alleged the Real Estate Trust Company, now agents for the building, has leased it to W. B. Loveless & Co. George W. Pulen, an employe of the trust company, filed an affidavit in which he says Cohn threatened to dismantle the interior of the building if it cost him $1,000, to answer to court.

Oakdale Is Given Judgment.

Judge Shafer entered judgment for the plaintiff in the suit for Oakdale borough against James Keenan and others, and refused a new trial. The action was on a tax collector's bond.

James P. Sullivan asks $1,000 damages from the Pennsylvania railroad. He says he got a ticket to East Pittsburgh and on the train found the train did not stop until Wilmerding, where he was arrested after he had explained to the conductor he had no money to pay the difference in fare.

Martha and James Laster demand $10,000 from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, alleging Mrs. Laster was assaulted and ejected from a moving train after paying her fare.

Common pleas court No. 1 granted a decree in divorce to Elmira C. Wray from James S. Wray, on grounds of cruelty.

Mary E. Hampson was refused a decree from Charles Hampson on grounds of cruelty and indignities, the court says the libel shows they had lived in the same house until the libel was filed.

THE luncheon which Mrs. William Harris gave at her home in Anderson avenue, Shadyside, yesterday afternoon, was a thoroughly charming affair. It was given in honor of Miss Marion Maurer of Harrisburg, who is visiting Mrs. Charles P. Matheson of Stanton avenue, and Miss Gladys Doty of Butler, who is the guest of Mrs. John Wilson, Jr., of Mellon street. The guests also included Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. Wilson. Covers were laid for 20, and following the luncheon the afternoon was spent at euchre, for which prizes were awarded to Miss Jean Bunton, Mrs. Ralph W. Allison and Mrs. John Wilson, Jr. In tribute to St. Patrick the decorations in the dining room were done entirely in green and white. White carnations, mignonette and shaggy asparagus springerit were combined in the centerpiece. Green candles in the candelabra were shaded in the same color, and the favors were miniature high hats to which were attached tiny pipes. Pink azaleas and carnations were used to decorate the drawing room, which apartment was occupied by the card tables. The tally cards were cut in the shape of pipes with jovial Irish faces painted on the bowls. Miss Maurer expects to leave for her home today, but Miss Doty, at the conclusion of her visit with Mrs. Wilson, will be entertained at the home of Miss Jean Stone in North avenue, Allegheny, for some time.

Mrs. Keefer is Hostess.

Beautiful little embroidered silk and hand-painted card cases were the prizes awarded by Mrs. W. W. Keefer at her five hundred party yesterday afternoon. They were won by Miss Harrison and Mrs. Miller. The card party followed a luncheon which Mrs. Keefe gave at her home in Stanton avenue. Covers were laid for Mrs. Reed Blair, Mrs. James Bonar, Mrs. Harry C. Fricke, Mrs. Peter Keeling, Mrs. S. N. McClinton, Mrs. Thomas Griffiths, Mrs. John H. Carlin, Mrs. Thomas Carlin, Mrs. Franklin Hockensmith, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. George D. Breck, Mrs. H. S. Evans, Mrs. D. D. Williams, Mrs. William McManus, Mrs. William McKenna, Mrs. G. E. Turner, Miss Harrison, Miss Thompson and Miss Schleiter. White sweet peas and yellow daisies were used in the decorations and the favors were little pen wipers, hand painted in jonquils. A dinner was given by Mrs. Keefer in the evening, her guests including several of the luncheon guests and their husbands. They were Mr. and Mrs. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. John Carlin, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. McManus, Mr. and Mrs. McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Fricke and Mr. and Mrs. Keeling.

Farewell for Mrs. Russell.

At the close of Mrs. William Flinn's luncheon yesterday afternoon, the guests were presented with little souvenir booklets inscribed with the verses of "Auld Lang Syne," which were sung just before leaving the dining room. The luncheon was given at Mrs. Flinn's home in North Highland avenue in honor of Mrs. Robert M. Russell, whose husband has resigned the pastorate of the Sixth United Presbyterian church to become president of Westminster college at New Wilmington. The guests, 27 in number, were the wives of the elders and trustees of the church, together with a few of Mrs. Russell's most intimate friends. Violet and pale blue were the colors chosen for the luncheon. The centerpiece was a silver basket filled with violet flowers tied with pale blue ribbons. The place cards were embroidered in violet, with the monogram of the hostess, and the little souvenir booklets were bound in the same color.

New York Girl Is Honor Guest.

Miss MacLean of New York, who is visiting Miss Stella Johnson of Bartlett street, Squirrel Hill, will be honor guest at a bridge party which Miss Johnson is to give next Monday afternoon. Yesterday Mrs. Harry S. Gilson of Riverview avenue, Allegheny, was hostess at a luncheon of 15 covers in Miss MacLean's honor, the other guests being Mrs. Marshall McCombs, Mrs. R. S. Wheeler, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Miss Palmer, Miss Carrie Palmer, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. Harry Naylor, Mrs. Gustave Langenheim, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Miss Thomas, Miss Strouss, Mrs. Frank Bell and Miss Johnson. It was a St. Patrick's luncheon and was marked by appointments of green and white. The place cards were dainty green water colored sketches, and the favors were green heart-shaped bon bon boxes surmounted by tiny shamrocks.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Several friends and relatives who attended the wedding in 1856 will be present tomorrow at the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Shearer of Edgecliff. Mr. and Mrs. Shearer, the former of whom is 77 years of age and the latter 71, will be at home all day to their neighbors, while friends from a distance will be received from 2 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Both Mr. Shearer and his wife were born in Westmoreland county. They were married in Bethel Methodist Episcopal church, six miles from their present home, the bride having been Miss Martha Kennedy. Their children are Mrs. Alice Sorbie of Oakmont, John Shearer of Edgecliff and Clifford Shearer of Emlenton. The grandchildren are Clifford, Stewart and George Shearer, and Agnes and Martha Sorbie.

Stewart-Smith.

The wedding of Miss Nell Priscilla Stewart and Charles Huntley Smith took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart, in Etna. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Paul Weyand, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends of the two families. The bride wore a dainty gown of white lace over silk. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Martha Florence Stewart. Late in the evening the couple departed for a wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home after April 25 in Aspinwall.

Will Wed in New Home.

The wedding of Miss Emma Kiser and Simon Steele Smith will take place late in April in their new home in North avenue, Wilkinsburg. The engagement was announced a short time ago by Miss Kiser's sister, Mrs. W. F. Young, also of Wilkinsburg, who gave a dinner for the purpose of making public the engagement.

To Observe First At-Home.

Mrs. Thomas Steel Schultz will observe her first at-home in the Bellefield dwellings this afternoon, and will be assisted by Mrs. Andrew W. Mellon, Mrs. Hay Walker and Miss Ethel Byram. Mrs. Schultz will be at home on the remaining two Thursdays in this month, these having been her at-home days, set at the time of her marriage in February.

Will Entertain for April Bride.

Mrs. Charles P. Ingham of the Elwood apartments, Elwood and Summerlea streets, East End, will entertain during the early part of April in honor of Miss Kathryn Moore. Miss Moore's wedding to James R. Coll will take place during the latter part of the same month, but as yet neither the date has been set nor the place selected. Miss Anne Martin of Observatory avenue, Allegheny, will also entertain for Miss Moore.

Smith-Edwards.

At the residence of the Rev. Dr. W. S. Fulton, McPherson boulevard, Point Breeze, Miss Cornelia Smith and Harry Edwards were quietly married at noon yesterday. There were no attendants and only relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. Fulton. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Edwards left for the northern part of New York state, which they will tour before being at home in New York city.

Notes of People and Events.

Mrs. C. P. Machod, well known in Wilkinsburg musical circles, will leave Saturday for Philadelphia where she will reside in the future.

Mrs. J. J. McKenna of Craft avenue, has as her house guest, Mrs. E. J. Anzer of Youngstown, O.

Mrs. G. C. Dellenbach and daughter, Miss Hestre Dellenbach expect to sail next Monday from Savannah to New York. They have been in the south since the first part of January.

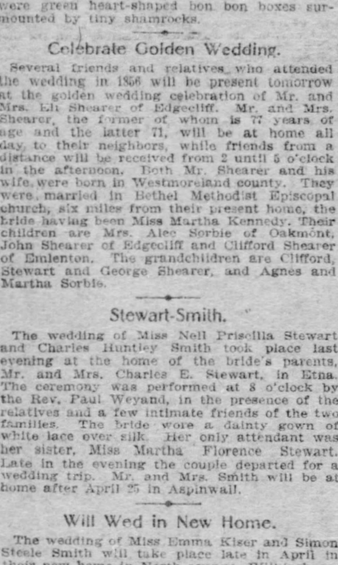
Mrs. Mary F. Christy of Sharpsburg has announced the engagement of her daughter, Nora Ada, to William Hugh Stanton. Their wedding day has not been set, but is expected to be an early event.

The Ladies' Circle of Major Lowry G. A. R. post, No. 548, of Wilkinsburg, will hold a rummage sale today and tomorrow.

Salmon Cutlets.

Salmon is the housewife's comfort. A unique way of serving this fish and one that will find instant favor is salmon cutlets in paper cases. Take slices an inch thick from the middle of the fish, wrap them separately in oiled paper and fry in boiling fat. When done take them out, drain and serve with the paper still on. Anchovy sauce is an attractive addition to this dish and should be passed in a boat.

THE GAZETTE PATTERN.



(No. 5573.) Girls' Dress.

A pretty design for a frock that is especially suitable for school wear is here shown in dark red serge, trimmed with black braid. A lining supports the full blouse waist, which is gathered to a yoke. A broad sailor collar is a pleasing addition to the mode, although it may be omitted if desired. The sleeves are moderately full, finished by a deep cuff. Several materials are adaptable, such as cashmere, mohair, challis, pongee and linen. The medium size will require 3⅞ yards of 36-inch material.

Girl's dress No. 5573. Sizes for 8, 9, 10, 12 and 14 years.

The pattern here illustrated will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents.

THE GAZETTE FASHION.

A Hat for Easter.

The status of the fashionable hat for spring has been definitely settled, and there is joy among the nations who boast of their well-dressed women. To be sure, there are several authoritative styles, for Dame Fashion is cultivating that most gracious characteristic of trying to please all of her admirers; consequently there is a distinct mode for all the different types of beauty. In the forefront of fashionable millinery ranks, however, is the new French sailor with round brim and mushroom crown, an example of which is sketched here. The hat is of finest white French straw, the crown being fluted under a band of black velvet ribbon. A single white silk and velvet orchid reposes at the left side amid clusters of shaded green leaves, from which rises a luxuriant black aigrette. A cache peigne at the back is covered with loops of black velvet ribbon. Black and white hats are the acme of smartness for spring, and nothing is better suited to a not too elaborate wardrobe, since they go well with almost any costume.

Tact in the Home.

In that very human doctument, Herbert Spencer's "Autobiography," the great philosopher refers with much feeling to his mother. He deplored her absence of tact, saying she "was too simple-minded to think of maneuvering, or if, exceptionally, she attempted it, she showed her cards in an absurd manner." Thus she sacrificed herself until she brought on in later years "a state of chronic exhaustion." The final statement is almost tragic: "She was never sufficiently prized."

This is the story of millions of homes, a tragedy which a little tact in many cases might prevent. In the end the results fall heaviest upon the wife and mother. It was this way in the Spencer family. When it was too late, the husband saw and the son regretted but the wife and mother "had reached the state of exhaustion" when nothing much mattered.

Said the ancient sage: "The goodness of gold is tried by the fire, the goodness of women by gold and the goodness of men by the ordeal of women."

We may invert all this and say that the success of the modern home, individually and collectively, depends upon the tact and judgment rather than the self-sacrifice of the wife and mother. Her courage turns ill luck, her systematic conduct of the house gives rest and nourishment, her tact conciliates each to mutual forbearance and duty and the resultant effect is what we know as the American home, which, whether we appreciate it or not, is the end and aim of all our labors.

In setting ideals and expecting others to live up to them we sometimes forget that we may be throwing a boomerang.

THE CLUBS

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

Shall Immigration Be Restricted?

That immigration should be restricted was the verdict of the members of the New Era club yesterday afternoon. The vote was taken at the conclusion of a debate brilliantly conducted by eight women on the subject, "Shall Immigration Be Restricted?" Mrs. Franklin P. Iams opened the question, taking the negative view and contending that the doors to this country should be opened to all, white, black, red and yellow. We have no right to keep out those who would come in, she said, arguing for her cause that there is no overproduction and no over-population to be feared. "We want to have the immigrants in great numbers to do the work there is no one else to do, and they have helped to lift up the country to the leading place among nations." Miss Helen Grimes, Mrs. George F. Brown and Miss Sara Sweeney supported Mrs. Iams in her plea for unrestricted immigration. Miss Sweeney particularly being most earnest in her argument, which was based on the text, "Am I my brother's keeper?" and replying in the affirmative.

The affirmative in the debate was taken by Mrs. Mattie Patterson, whose arguments were of a very practical nature. Mrs. Patterson said: "It does not matter so much just now whether immigration be restricted or not, but there is a time coming when we must count the cost. Because we have the immigrants in such great numbers in this country and because they are still coming we need more and larger jails and philanthropic asylums. There is the danger of their becoming public charges not only themselves, but their children also, because of the character of those who are coming in now." Following Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. William D. Grimes, Mrs. William J. Askin and Mrs. W. C. Butterfield spoke, all on the affirmative side. When the vote was called for the strength of Mrs. Patterson's practical arguments and those of her followers in the affirmative was felt in the result, which showed the New Era club in favor of restriction.

The meeting was one of the best attended of the year, the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association being taxed to its utmost capacity. Mrs. Albert E. Duckham was the leader for the afternoon and under her direction the program included, beside the debate, a couple of papers, "The Prevalence of the Philanthropic Spirit," by Mrs. William D. Grimes, and "Some Model Workshops," in which Mrs. John Clark Wallace described the factory of the National Cash Register Company, the Roycroft shops, and H. J. Heinz and McCreery's in Pittsburgh. The music for the afternoon consisted of a group of songs by Mrs. James B. Lantz, who was accompanied by Miss Emma Ewing. Mrs. Iams introduced a resolution of regret because of the death of Miss Susan B. Anthony and an appreciation of her character and womanliness as a champion of women, which was unanimously adopted. The club also decided to raise the money for the fund from which it makes its appropriations to civic and charitable institutions by private subscription.

Proceeds for Free Kindergartens.

The long-anticipated kindergarten benefit is over, the matinee in the Nixon yesterday afternoon being a great success financially and socially. Miss Viola Allen as Betty Singleton in "The Toast of the Town" was the attraction, and in appreciation the benefit committee of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association sent over the footlights to Miss Allen a beautiful basket of spring flowers, yellow jonquils, daffodils and narcissus. The house was crowded, every seat being taken, while the boxes were filled with parties, most of which were entertained at luncheon before the matinee. With Mrs. James I. Buchanan, the president of the association, who entertained her guests at luncheon in the Duquesne club, were Miss Susan Blow, who is lecturing in Pittsburgh; Mrs. F. F. Lovejoy, Mrs. James H. Reed, Mrs. Frank G. Bryce, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Miss Julia M. Harding and Miss Buchanan. Mrs. Edward M. Bigelow's box party included Mrs. Marcelin Cote Adams, Mrs. William M. McKelvy, Mrs. George L. Peabody, Miss Mary Armstrong and Miss Bessie Bennett. Mrs. William Flinn's box was occupied by Mrs. George Hamilton Flinn and Miss Margaretta Frew. Miss Matilda Clarkson, Miss Anita Jones, Miss Jenny Bradley and Mrs. Russell K. Forsyth. Mrs. H. C. Frick gave her box to a party of friends. Mrs. M. K. Salsbury was out of town and a few friends made a small box party. The Heinz box was occupied by the family party. With Mrs. Samuel Pickering in her box were Mrs. Edward Haines Small, Mrs. Henry Oliver Evans, Mrs. Adolphus G. Nelman, Mrs. James W. Chesebrough, Mrs. A. E. Masten and Miss Perkins. Several theater parties occupied seats in the parquet. Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh having with her a party of a dozen friends, including Mrs. Samuel J. Irvine, Mrs. L. C. Carson, Mrs. Thomas Morris, Mrs. E. L. McGrew of Crafton, Mrs. John Zugschwert, Miss Anderson of Tyrone, Miss Gardiner, Miss Hannan, Miss Dixon, Mrs. H. J. Lewis and Mrs. Arthur Boyd.

Talked on Art Glass.

An interesting address was given yesterday afternoon before the Teachers' Art club by John L. Arbogast, the subject being "Art in Glass." Mr. Arbogast spoke of both imported and the American product in art glass, exhibiting fine examples of cut glassware, and lamp shades in the mosaic and opal, dwelling particularly on the mechanical skill which is required to bring this latter kind of art work to its highest degree of perfection, when a perfectly uniform thickness must be secured in order that the color of the glass may not change at varying distances. He gave a large part of his talk to work in leaded glass. The meeting of the club was very well attended. At the next meeting sculpture will be taken up.

Education for Power.

The department of education, Miss Jeannette McCready, chairman, had charge of the meeting of the Sewickley Valley Woman's club in the Edgeworth club house yesterday afternoon. The Rev. George D. Crissman, Ph. D., pastor of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church, gave an address on "Education for Power."

Easter at the Settlement House

Plans are being made for an exhibition and sale of the work of the girls in the Saturday afternoon sewing class in the Soho baths settlement house the exhibition to be conducted near Easter. The sewing class has been in the care of Mrs. James C. Dick and some of the girls have made good progress in learning how to sew. On Monday evening, April 8, the members of the Welcome club, composed of girls of the neighborhood, will give an entertainment in the settlement house and will present a program in which some of the girls themselves will take part in song, dialogue and tableau, several well-known singers also contributing to the program. Invitations will be extended to the parents and the friends of the girls to attend both the exhibit of sewing and the evening entertainment.

Council's Musical and Tea.

Prominent among the club affairs of today will be the musical and tea given this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Bellefield club house by the Columbian Council of Jewish Women. Selections from the cantata of "Esther" will be sung, the day being celebrated as the Purim festival day, the actual Purim festival having occurred last Sunday. Purim is observed in celebration of the deliverance of her people by Esther. A paper on "Freedom" will be read by Mrs. W. H. Cohn and Miss Irma Klingbacker will discuss current topics. Purim tea will follow the program.

Lecture on the Slav.

Miss Emily Green Balch, associate professor of economics in Wellesley college, will lecture this evening in the auditorium of the East Liberty branch of the Carnegie library under the auspices of the training school for Children's librarians, which extends a cordial invitation to all who are interested in her subject to attend. Miss Balche will lecture on "The Slav Immigrants—Who, Whence and Why?"

Notes of the Clubs.

A meeting of the Joint Committee of Women's Clubs for carrying on summer playgrounds and vacation schools in Allegheny will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the office of the superintendent of the Allegheny Carnegie library.

This afternoon Miss Sybil Carter will give an exhibition and sale of Indian laces in the home of Mrs. Cortlandt Whitehead, in Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside.

Vanity is mortal, moral and physical. Lack of it in any one of these phases is weakening—obviously so. If we notice this, as we all do, in the merest social intercourse, where the charm is ever to the person who is strongest in his belief of himself, how much more is it manifest in business where aggression is the necessary policy?

The people we think to be our enemies are often safer than those we suppose to be our friends.

GEORGE ADE, "IN PASTURES NEW"

AUTHOR OF "ARTIE" GIVES BATTLE TO THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

GEORGE ADE

What He Has Done

He left Purdue University in Indiana and "broke into" the newspaper business at Chicago. He was the "long legs" on the Chicago "News," getting assignments at first that covered more miles of streets than space in the paper. He developed into a splendid descriptive writer, but fame didn't come until "Fables in Slang" were started as a daily editorial page feature.

"Artie" followed soon afterwards and Ade's fame was made and royalties began to flow. He wrote "The Sultan of Sulu," a comic opera satire on our Philippine possessions. It was a hit, and Ade left newspaper work and in rapid succession completed "Peggy from Paris," "The College Widow," "The County Chairman," "The Bad Samaritan" and "Just Out of College." From these plays and from his books Ade draws royalties said by some of his friends to be not less than $3,500 a week.

GEORGE ADE, THE INDIANA HUMORIST,
Now In London, Where He Is Writing "In Pastures New" For Sunday Gazette Readers.

GEORGE ADE

What He Actually Is

He's a tall, thin, slightly round shouldered Indianian possessed of a soft, low voice, a wealth of dry humor and naive, slangy observations, but he's stingy with his conversation.

He's a modest man of about 35 years, who, by the penning of picturesquely scrambled language, first gained fame and then fortune, yet the measure of his hatband has not increased a fraction since the days when, as an indefatigable reporter, he wrote vastly more for vastly less.

He lives in a beautiful home at Brooke, Indiana, when home, and at the Holland House in New York when resting, for his recreation is taken in the metropolis and his work is done in the Indiana solitudes.

He is single, despite the fact that rumor has insisted within the past three years in engaging him to a number of charming ladies.

George Ade "In Pastures New" is the telling title of a series of vastly interesting letters which the Indiana artist in slang is now in London preparing for "Sunday Gazette" readers.

In furtherance of a laudable desire to overcome the mysteries of Chaucerian English, the premier promotor and purveyor of scrambled language has crossed the ocean and today in London he kneels and drinks deep from the fount of unadulterated Saxon.

Fortunate "Sunday Gazette" readers, assured of vast entertainment from the reading of letters which at the outset promise to surpass Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad," will find in Ade's radical departure from slang stories a most delightful surprise. With the author meeting the great ones of Britain and with slang battling now and then for supremacy, he tells of his appreciation of the opportunity to "get the English language at first hand; to revel in its sublimities and to gaze down new and awe-inspiring vistas of rhetorical splendor."

The expense of this feature is enormous; justified only by the fact that Professor Brander Matthews has classed the dry Indianian as the equal of Mark Twain, and because the ever-growing charm of his books and plays makes everything from his pen eagerly sought for by the laughter-loving but thoughtful men and women of the land.

In this series of talks the author takes up the predicament in which a man finds himself when suddenly set down amidst unfamiliar scenes and strange environments. Ade, typical American, finds himself in this predicament in London. A feeling of lonesomeness overcomes him because he finds himself a foreigner speaking a strange tongue.

"A few Americans," he writes, "say fifty or more in Boston and several in New York, are said to speak English in spots. Very often they fan, but sometimes they hit the ball. By patient endeavor they have mastered the sound of 'a' as in father, but they continue to call a clerk a clerk instead of a 'clark,' and they never have gained the courage to say 'leftenent.' They wander on the suburbs of the English language, nibbling at the edges, as it were."

South Penn Company Gets Fairly Good Well in Wolf Summit Field

From all lower southwest districts nothing better than average producers were reported. In the old Wolf Summit field, in Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company drilled its No. 3 on the S. Nutter farm through the fifth sand and secured a fairly good producer for that district. The first 24 hours after the well was drilled into the pay it produced 60 barrels. On Patterson Fork, Ten Mile district, Harrison county, R. T. Lowndes & Co. have drilled their No. 12 on the R. T. Lowndes farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid. It will make an average producer for that district. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the M. P. Dye farm through the stray and found nothing but a light gas pressure. It is now drilling in the top of the Gordon. In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the same company has drilled its No. 69 on the Genine Robinson tract 12 feet into the Gordon and has developed some oil. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn company's No. 3 on the M. E. Brockover farm is a better producer than first indicated when drilled into the fifth sand pay. The well produced 105 barrels the first 24 hours. On Fallen Timber Run, Wetzel county, the Parker and Edwards Oil Company's No. 10 on the D. B. Lee farm is holding up at 75 barrels a day natural.

On Point Pleasant creek, Ellsworth district, Tyler county, the Lincoln Oil Company's test on the M. L. Workman farm is credited with producing 250 barrels for the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. In the Bens Run district, Pleasant county, the West Virginia Drilling Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Josiah Holdren farm into the Maxon sand and has a show for an 8 or 10-barrel pumper. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, William C. Edwards & Co. have completed their No. 67 on the Hazlebaker tract and have a light pumper in the second Cow Run sand at a depth of 650 feet. In the same district and on a part of the same tract, the Niagara Oil Company has drilled its No. 73 through the first Cow Run sand and has a show for a light pumper at a depth of 610 feet. On Slicer run, Grant district, Ritchie county, the South Penn Oil Company's second test on the P. M. McGinnis farm is producing 65 barrels a day from the Salt sand. This is now the best producer in the new Salt sand development in Ritchie county.

Near Buda, in Clay district, Monongalia county, the Charters Oil Company has put its test on the D. S. Lemely farm to pumping from the Big Injun sand, and it is producing 20 barrels a day. Across the state line, in the Ninevah district, in Greene county, the South Penn Oil Company gave its No. 4 on the Thomas Hineman farm a shot, but it failed to respond. Down in Cabell county, south of the Milton district, the Fought Oil and Gas Company's No. 2 on the Sarah Osborn farm is holding up at 40 barrels a day. There will be some new work started soon in the vicinity of this well.

In the Wolf Creek district, on the Ohio side, in Washington county, A. J. Lockard & Co. have completed No. 15 on the G. W. Murdock farm and has an eight-barrel pumper in the Shallow sand. In the Macksburg field, Dillon, Hess & Co. have completed No. 12 on the Elizabeth Driscoll farm and have a light pumper. In the same district J. F. Ward has completed No. 18 on the C. Schimmell farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the Buell Run sand. In the Cow Run district, in the same county, Reader & Co. have completed a test on the J. Shook farm and have a duster in the second Cow Run sand.

In the Brush Creek district, Allegheny county, Pa., Caughey, Williams & Co. have drilled their test on the Jane Skiles farm through the 100-foot sand and have a duster. It will be drilled to the lower formation for gas. In the Burgettstown field, in Washington county, several wells are due in the sand. They are located in advance of developments and their completion is awaited with interest.

FAVORABLE WEATHER OFFSET BIG NEWS

Corn and Oats Are Up, While May Delivery Shows Very Little Change.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, March 14.—Favorable weather for fall-sown wheat in the United States offset today the effect of a report of a famine in Russia and caused a steady close in the wheat market. Final quotations on the May delivery showed very little change from the closing figures of yesterday. Corn and oats were each up ¼@¾c. Provisions were a shade higher to a shade lower. During the early part of the session the wheat market was easy because of reports of snow in the winter wheat section, lower cables and a heavy movement in the northwest. Later, however, the market became strong on active covering by shorts, induced by an improved demand for cash wheat at the principal outside market and a dispatch from an English statistician claiming that Russia is now suffering from a famine. The upturn brought out increased offerings and the market again reacted. Local longs sold freely during the last hour and nearly all the gain was lost. The market closed steady. May opened ⅛@⅜c to ¼@⅜c lower at 76⅝@76¾c, sold off to 76⅜@76½c, and then rallied to 77⅛@77¼c. The close was at 77. July ranged between 76⅝c and 77¾c, and closed at 77¼c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 215,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 450,000 bushels, against 514,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 291 cars, against 302 cars last week and 179 cars one year ago.

Corn was weak in sympathy with wheat at the opening, but the market became firm as a result of buying, inspired by the small movement throughout the country. Values were also strengthened by the small local receipts. Cash houses were the principal buyers and the selling was by pit traders and commission houses. The market closed steady. May opened a shade lower at 42¾c, sold between 42⅝c and 43¼@43⅜c, and closed at 43c. Local receipts were 153 cars, with one of contract grade.

The bears made another raid on the oats market today, and brought about a moderate decline early in the session, but the loss was regained on a good demand by pit traders and commission houses. May opened unchanged at 29¼c, sold between 28⅝@28¾c and 29¼c, and closed at 29¼@29⅜c. Local receipts were 105 cars. A 5c advance in the price of live hogs held the provisions market steady, despite considerable profit-taking in pork and ribs. The volume of trading was large. At the close May pork was off 2½c at $15 70. Lard was a shade higher at $7 80. Ribs were unchanged at $8 50@8 62½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 2 cars; corn, 125 cars; oats, 102 cars; hogs, 26,000 head.

FIGHT PRICE CUTTING.

Offer Is Made to Buy All Windsor Glass at Reduction.

That the recent advance in the price of window glass is expected to stand for some time became apparent yesterday when the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company offered to purchase all the glass offered under the market price. Circulars had been issued by a manufacturing concern with factories in the mountain district, offering glass for future delivery at 10 per cent off the present selling price. The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company offered to buy all the glass that could be offered at these prices.

Sales in window glass are now being booked at the rate of 1,000,000 boxes monthly, and all factories are in operation, with the exception of that of the Pittsburgh Window Glass Company at Washington, where a strike is on because of the charge that two snappers were employed as blowers. The difference is now being adjusted and it is expected the plant will be in full operation before the end of the week.

Standard Raises Price of Gasoline.

CLEVELAND, O., March 14.—The Standard Oil Company today advanced the price of gasoline half a cent per gallon. Deodorized stove gasoline is now quoted at 12½ cents per gallon; 74 to 76 degrees gasoline 14½ cents, and varnishmakers' and painters' naphtha, 11½ cents.

A VINDICATION FOR DR. PIERCE.

A verdict has been rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the libel suit brought against the Ladies' Home Journal (published by the Curtis Publishing Co.) by the World's Dispensary Medical association, of which Dr. R. V. Pierce is president. The suit was brought by Dr. Pierce against the Curtis Publishing Co. for making false statements about one of his standard family medicines, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In the May number of the Ladies' Home Journal (1904), Mr. Edward Bok, the editor, stated that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contained alcohol and some other harmful ingredients, and Dr. Pierce had in the action alleged that the defendant maliciously published this article containing such false and defamatory matter. Dr. Pierce further claimed that no alcohol is or ever was contained in his "Favorite Prescription," that said medicine was a vegetable preparation and contained no deleterious ingredients whatever; that Mr. Bok's statement, pretending to give some of the ingredients of said medicine, was wholly and absolutely false. During the trial the vice president of the World's Dispensary Medical association stated that the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription were extracted from the following native roots: Golden Seal, Blue Cohosh, Lady's Slipper, Black Cohosh and Unicorn, by means of pure glycerine. He was asked how he knew, as a physician and experienced medical man, that the "Favorite Prescription" was a cure for the diseases peculiar to women, such as amenorhea, dysmenorrhea, ante-version, retroversion, and he stated that he knew such was the fact because of his professional experience and the many thousands of women whose ills had been cured by this prescription. The vice president, being asked to give his authorities, read from the standard works, such as the United States Dispensary, the American Dispensatory and many other standard medical books.

The retraction printed by the Curtis Publishing Company two months after the libelous statement appeared and nearly two months after the suit had been begun, stated definitely that analyses had been made at their request and that the "Favorite Prescription" did not contain either alcohol, opium or digitalis.

HIGHER MONEY RATES DEPRESSED STOCK MARKET

Trading Extremely Dull and Prices Closed Lower All Around—Sewer Pipe Advanced, but Other Local Stocks Declined.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The course of the New York stock market yesterday was the reverse of that of the day before. During the morning hours the tone was firm. Late in the afternoon the market turned weak on the advance in call loan rates and prices closed lower all around. At times speculation came to a standstill, and the total sales for the day were only a little in excess of 600,000 shares.

The feature at the opening was the strength displayed by the copper stocks, Amalgamated advancing to 109½. Later this group lost all the gain and closed lower than on Tuesday. The iron and steel stocks fluctuated only the smallest fractions during the greater part of the session, but in the final dealings they sympathized with the downward tendency. United States Steel common closed ⅞ and the preferred ⅜ per cent lower. The weekly review of the recognized iron trade authority noted a moderate falling off in production of pig iron and a generally quieter tone to the iron and steel market. On the whole, however, the industry is in a healthy condition and the monthly statistics of pig iron production and consumption are expected to show a further reduction in stocks.

Consolidated Gas was again under pressure and closed weak at a decline of 1⅝ per cent. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was steady to firm most of the day and closed unchanged. The other New York traction issues were heavy, probably on the announcement that the bill introduced into the New York assembly to prevent the merger had been advanced on the calendar.

The extreme weakness of Chicago Union Traction was again a feature of the inactive group of stocks. The common broke to 6¾ and the preferred closed at 22, a loss of 3 points compared with the close on Tuesday. Since the announcement of the United States supreme court decision there has been a depreciation in the market value of the common of $1,400,000 and in the preferred of $3,000,000, and other Chicago stocks have weakened in sympathy. The incident is not big enough to have any particular effect upon the general market, but the influence was unfavorable.

Union Pacific closed 1 per cent lower and Reading ⅝ per cent lower. These stocks are the leaders of their respective groups and their decline had a sympathetic effect upon the remainder of the railroad list. The high-priced stocks like Great Northern preferred and Union Pacific also closed lower. The only exception to the declining tendency was Illinois Central, which closed at a gain of 2½ per cent, the advance being on small transactions.

Call loan rates ruled at 4 to 4½ per cent during the greater part of the session, but late in the afternoon advanced to 6 per cent and closed at 4½ to 5 per cent. There was no explanation for the advance in rates, but the London market was reported firmer, ascribed to preparations being made in Paris for the negotiation of a Russian loan for $100,000,000.

While the rise in call loan rates was generally ascribed as the cause for the selling by traders in the late session, the hesitation of the public is undoubtedly based upon the uncertainty regarding the coal trade situation. This is practically the only subject discussed in financial and general trade circles, and the evidence of preparation on the part of large consumers of coal tends to bring the public to the reluctant conclusion that the probabilities for a strike are increasing.

The local stock market was a small edition of that in New York, both in the amount of dealings and the course of prices. At the opening Crucible Steel preferred was strong and advanced to 81¾, a new high mark on this movement, but profit-taking during the afternoon not only wiped out the previous gain, but forced a decline to 80, at which the stock closed, a loss of 1 per cent. The common declined to and closed at 15, a loss of ⅝. The strongest stock in the market was American Sewer Pipe, which on sales of more than 2,200 shares advanced to 36⅝ and closed at 36½, a net gain of 2 per cent. The movement was based upon expectations of an increase in the dividend rate next week. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to 54½, while River Coal preferred remained unchanged at 23. There were no transactions in the common stocks of either company. Westinghouse Air Brake declined a fraction to 153½. There was no quorum of the directors yesterday, so action on the dividend was deferred. Electric and Union Switch and Signal were neglected. National Fire Proofing preferred was a shade firmer, advancing to 26½. Pittsburgh Brewing common was heavy, declining to and closing at 28½. The other brewing stocks were unchanged. Mining stocks were less active, and Tonopah Extension declined to 12½. In the banking department Iron City Trust sold at 120, a decline of 1 per cent, and a small lot of Colonial Trust at 365, a decline of 5 per cent. The bond market was firm. Independent Brewing 6s advanced to 107½ and Sewer Pipe 6s advanced to 101¾ and accrued interest.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The remarkable statement is made by a member of the listing committee of the Pittsburgh stock exchange that within the past few days he was approached with the proposition that if he would secure the listing of a certain mining stock, there would be 50,000 shares of the mining stock for him." Of course, the proposition was spurned, but the member cited the incident as illustrating the character of the schemes now being worked to obtain a temporary standing for a stock that will give the opportunity to unload upon the public. The broker declined to give the name of the stock, but said it was not at present quoted even in the local curb market. The presumption is that the 50,000 shares offered would come out of the treasury of the company, and of course there would be just that much less cash used in the development of the prospect. An instance was cited of another mining stock, the promoters of which offered to make a statement of condition and prospects to a member of the listing committee upon the agreement that no other member of the committee nor any other director of the exchange should be given the information. This proposition could not come from any other than the most ignorant novice in the business, because when a stock is listed on the exchange all information relating to its affairs is not only first examined by the board of directors, but the statement is subsequently open for the inspection of all members, and the newspapers are permitted to print the information for the benefit of the investing public. It is understood that the present board of directors of the Pittsburgh stock exchange has adopted an unwritten rule that before a mining stock can be listed, the mine must be in regular shipper of ore or bullion. On western mining exchanges these stocks are classified as "mines" and "prospects."

Pittsburgh Plate Glass directors yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable April 1. Books close March 20 to April 1, both inclusive. Payments on account of the $5,000,000 new common stock begin on April 2, when 20 per cent, or $20 a share, will be due. The remaining payments are scheduled for the beginning of the four succeeding quarters.

At the special meeting of stockholders of the Allegheny Valley Railway Company in Philadelphia the acquisition of the company by the Pennsylvania was deferred until further consideration could be secured. The following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that it is undesirable and inexpedient that the stockholders of the Allegheny Valley Railway Company should take action at this meeting for the acquisition by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company of the franchises, corporate property rights and credits of the Allegheny Valley Railway Company, and that the stockholders' action thereon be postponed for the present and until another meeting shall have been called for this purpose."

Whitney & Stephenson and Darr, Luke & Moore were sellers of Crucible Steel common and Scully, Painter & Beech, Sproul & Co. and Robinson Bros. were sellers of the preferred. McKelvey, Lawrence & Co., Childs & Childs and Carothers & Co. were buyers.

G. W. MacMullen and Preston, Watt & Schoyer were sellers of Iron City Trust to Doty & Sutton and Whitney & Stephenson.

Holmes, Wardrop & Co. were sellers of American Sewer Pipe to Hill & Co., Scully, Painter & Beech, and Morris, Brown & Co.

The principal activity in the local curb market was in Cable Consolidated and Black Hills Copper, both of which declined slightly. The Cable Consolidated officers here have been advised of the shipment of a bar of gold valued at about $35,000, which is due to arrive here this week, being the first shipment of bullion since the reorganization of the company. It is current gossip that a dividend will be declared on the stock in the near future.

Directors of the United States Smelting and Refining Company have declared an initial dividend of 37½ cents a share on the preferred stock, payable April 15.

The Virginia Carolina Company has declared the regular 2 per cent quarterly dividend on the preferred stock, payable April 15.

The American Iron and Steel Manufacturing Company directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred and a dividend of 2 per cent on the common stock, payable April 2 to stock of record March 24.

The meeting of the Westinghouse Airbrake directors, scheduled for yesterday, was postponed owing to inability to secure a quorum.

Directors of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation have declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock and 2 per cent on the common stock.

The American Tobacco Company for the year ended December 31, 1905, reports net earnings, after deducting all charges and expenses for management, $25,213,284, an increase of $2,305,588.

The Electric Storage Battery Company has declared dividends of 1¼ per cent each on the common and preferred stocks, payable April 2 to stock of record March 27.

J. S. Bache & Co., who have been rather bullish on the market, wired Masten & Co. yesterday: "We still feel that prices will go to a higher figure before the summer, but for the immediate future there are so many deterrent influences that it seems improbable that a bull market will start immediately. The coal strike situation and the money market are the chief influences at the moment. There will no doubt be strength in specialties during the next few weeks, but otherwise we see nothing to warrant the belief that this is other than a trading market."

A New York dispatch said: "The condition of the money market showed some further relaxation early in the day, but there was a late flurry in call money and the rate advanced to 6¼ per cent. The sub-treasury took only a nominal amount from the money market on the day's operations, leaving the total absorption thus far this week still under $400,000. It was currently reported also that the currency movement with the interior had shifted somewhat on balance in favor of New York. Foreign exchange rates, however, continued to advance and foreign money markets were firm, the discount rates both at London and Berlin hardening a shade. In Paris there was a further sharp fall in the sterling exchange rate, marking the growing demand from that center upon the London money market and increasing the requirement with which new York would have to compete to secure any further gold supply from that center."

The department of commerce and labor has issued the statement of the exports of domestic products from the United States in February. The statement shows an increase of $9,000,000 each in breadstuffs and cotton. The statement for February, compared with last year, is as follows:

A bill will be introduced at Albany placing stock brokers under the general supervision of the state comptroller and requiring each concern doing a stock brokerage business to deposit with the state comptroller $100,000 in federal, state or municipal bonds.

The ruling of State Comptroller Kelsey of New York that the unit upon which the stock transfer tax is imposed is one share of stock and the minimum tax is 2 cents thereon, whatever may be the par value of the stock up to $100, is to be enforced. Inspectors from the comptroller's office have been making visits to brokers' office to ascertain whether full taxes have been paid on all transfers. Readjustis is a $50 stock and the transfer tax has been paid at the rate of 2 cents for two shares, making $100. This leaves a balance to be collected according to the state comptroller of 3 cents for each two shares. The same ruling will apply to sales of Pennsylvania, which is a $50 share, Anaconda, which is a $25 share, and the various mining stocks dealt on the curb having par value of $1 upon $100.

STOCKS TURN WEAK ON CHICAGO REPORT

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says: Stocks developed weakness in the late trading yesterday, influenced chiefly by a report circulated upon the board of "panicky" conditions in Chicago. There was, to be sure, a very severe collapse in various Chicago traction stocks, ranging from 10 to 20 points and more. Local bankers said that they knew of nothing of a serious nature at Chicago, but call money advanced here to 6 per cent, and reports were current that this was the result of heavy shipments of currency to Chicago. There, too, lacked confirmation, but the coincidence of the extensive decline in the Chicago tractions and the advance of call money gave an apparent confirmation or, at least, a plausible basis for the "panicky" condition story. The story influenced a weak closing for local securities after a long interval of dullness and irregular price changes. Aside from a little slow, selling on advances, dealings were largely professional. Business was poorly distributed, and was much reduced in volume.

There was nothing particularly novel in the news of the day. There were, to be sure, some developments along the line of old features, both at home and abroad, but these were rather new phases of old considerations than anything else. Competent authorities have reported the money situation as improving, but it cannot improve very rapidly, and with a score or more banks under their reserves it is not strong enough to stand any heavy strain. There were some new manifestations of the investigating craze, dealing on this occasion with the old Metropolitan end of the traction merger. This is but an incident, however, for the disposition to investigate every corporation is clearly manifest. The settlement of the Moroccan conference still hangs fire. This, too, was old. Cotton broke violently. This is really favorable, if it starts export shipments. An excellent trade statement for February made its appearance. Discounts hardened in Europe.

TO LICENSE STREET LINES.

Cable Roads Will Be Trolleyized and Tunnels Under the Chicago River Abandoned.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Immediate steps will be taken by the city of Chicago to license such street railway lines here as the United States supreme court has declared are existing without a franchise. It is declared by the city officials that the city is not in a position to license the street car companies by ordinance, since the 99-year contentions of the companies have been removed.

At a conference today between Mayor Dunne and the attorneys of the street car companies it was decided to issue permits as soon as possible permitting the companies to trolleyize the present cable lines. It was also decided that the tunnels which extend under the surface of the Chicago river, connecting the south with the north and east sides of the city shall be removed early next month. The war department of the United States has ordered that they be demolished.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in response to lower French cables, which were said to be due to reports that the president of Brazil had refused to ratify the proposed valorization bill. The market continued very quiet locally, with prices holding around the initial figures until near the close, when local longs sold more freely and the market was finally easy at a decline of 10@15 points. Sales for the day were reported of 58,750 bags, including May at 6.75@6.85c; July, 7.00@7.05c; September, 7.15@7.20c; December, 7.35@7.45c; February, 7.60c; spot Rio quiet; mild steady. Sugar, raw firm; fair refining, 3c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3½@3 17-32c; molasses sugar, 2¾c; refined firm; molasses steady.

BANKERS AND BROKERS. BANKERS AND BROKERS.

The issue of Treasury stock of this Corporation allotted for sale at 35 cents per share being nearly subscribed, the price will be ADVANCED TO 45 CENTS PER SHARE WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21st.

The two veins recently discovered on our Sapper claim, composed of quartz and white talc, the identical Shoshone formation, indicate that equal development will make the shares of this Corporation worth many times par, as it has already done for the Montgomery-Shoshone. That this fact is throughly appreciated by the knowing ones on the ground, is shown by the large number of orders being received for the stock from Bullfrog and Rhyolite.

Immediate application is therefore advisable on the part of those who wish to secure this stock at 35 cents, as no more than the allotted amount will be sold at this price.

APPLICATIONS BY MAIL should be accompanied by check to the order of this Corporation, at the rate of 35 cents per share for the number desired. Minimum subscription accepted, 100 shares.

Buy Worley at 25c

Twenty-five dollars will buy 100 shares of stock in the Worley Mine of the Greenhorn Mountain Gold Mining Company today.

Not very much when you think of the splendid possibilities of Worley — Worley is a mine — not merely a prospect — ore already taken out has shown an average value of $15 to $50 a ton — 80 per cent of which is free milling. Par value the stock is $1.00. We are selling a limited number of shares now at 25c. The price is bound to go up — $10 a share will be cheap a little later. You can make a big profit if you have a little ready money. We have the records and specimens of ore taken from Worley Mine, for your inspection, and we want you to investigate Worley. No other mine has shown as great values at corresponding stages of development. You know the rapid jump of Tonopah Extension. Worley is in the same district, with better outlook, and WORLEY HAS THE GOLD.

CELERY TAKES SLUMP; DEMAND STILL GREAT

Slightly Weaker Feeling Is Noted in Florida Grades—Reduction in Hides.

The celery market, which has been strong for the past three weeks, showed some weakness yesterday. The demand is as great as ever, but the supply is somewhat better. There was a small reduction in the quotations during the day, but it is thought the quotations will not drop much lower for a while at least. The only stock on the market continues to be Florida and California, Ohio and New York state varieties having disappeared some time ago. All importations are of an attractive quality.

Onion sets made their appearance on the market yesterday. Kentucky and Ohio varieties started off at $2 and $3, which is the first quotation of the season. Eries were somewhat higher and were quoted $3.50 and $3.75. Spring spinach also made its appearance, and was quoted at 50c and 65c. Shallots showed some strength as did rhubarb. Cauliflower, which has been strong for the past 60 days, showed a weakening yesterday and fell to $2 and $2.50, a distinct falling off of $1 a barrel. Head lettuce in hampers also fell somewhat in price on account of the approaching early market supply of domestic lettuce.

The higher grades of naval oranges, which have ruled strong during the past 90 days, showed some decline in price yesterday. California navels, which have remained firm at $2.50 and $2.75, fell to $3.00 and $3.50, the prevailing price on the market all day.

For months past the high price of leather caused the country to be alarmed at the cost of shoes, which is governed entirely by the price of leather. The hide market has at last taken a turn downward and this will probably result in cheaper leather and cheaper shoes in the future. Every variety of hides showed a cent lower price yesterday than for some months past. There is some probability that the price will even go lower on account of the radical falling off in the past few days.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 16 cars, 4 corn, 3 feed, 1 straw. Baltimore, Ohio, 1 hay. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 hay, 1 rye.

Hay was in active demand, receipts being light. Prices were advanced some. Shelled corn is in better demand. Mill feed remains steady.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Mr. H. S. Lucas has just returned from a visit to the Tonopah Home property in which he is largely interested, and it is reported by Glass & Meyer that considerable activity in the stock has occurred. He reports the property being developed in a thorough and systematic manner; that considerable revenue will soon be derived from the sale of the water, and that while the company does not claim to have a mine as yet, many properties in other districts with no better showing would be termed as mines. An argument in its favor is the ledge or outcropping running in a northerly and southerly direction, and while many stringers are coming into the shaft, one of the walls is perfectly smooth and solid, indicating a strong possibility of apexing the ledge.

A dispatch from Goldfield, Nev., says it mines are now shipping ore from this camp and this does not include some properties that have made small and infrequent shipments. The number of producers is being increased every week and activity here is increasing. The stocks of more than a score of companies have doubled within a few days.

The recent strike in the Great Bend is one of those that have aroused much interest and further uncovering of the new ore body is reported to be giving excellent results.

John F. Campbell, the mining engineer from San Francisco, has returned from Bullfrog, where he succeeded in tying up the Keane Wonder group of 50 claims, located on the west slope of Death valley in the Funeral range, about 10 miles south of the Oriental Bullfrog mine. The price paid is said to be $250,000.

Manhattan, though only two months old, is beginning to take on a substantial appearance. The tents are disappearing and in their place wooden buildings are going up. The town is gradually springing down the canyon and is now fully a mile and a half long.

Several districts within a radius of 15 miles from Manhattan are being found, and all claim to have plenty of good looking rock. Among the latest is the Millet district, which will be bounded by the west side of Smoky valley in Nye county, west by Hot Springs and north by the summit of the Toyabe range.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, March 14.—There was a further advance in the London tin market with spot closing at £185 15s and futures at £185 7s 6d. Locally the market was firm and higher in sympathy with spot quoted at $38 40@38 50. Copper was 2s 6d higher at £80 for spot and £78 5s for futures in the London market. BOSTON, March 14.—Liquidation of Boston Consolidation was very heavy again today and the stock sold lower than it has for several months. The rest of the market held very steady, great dullness prevailing. The local curb stocks are active at present and seem to absorb a large part of the public interest. Butte Coalition, East Butte, Raven and Cumberland were all strong and active throughout the day.

OLD GUARDSMEN TO HAVE "R. P. DAY"

Carnegie and Cassatt May Honor Pitcairn—Costly Docks and No Coal?

SANSOM GETS LAKEMONT PARK

May 31 of this year will probably be known as "R. P. Day." "R. P.," as is well known in railroading circles, means Robert Pitcairn, dean of transportation men of Pittsburgh. On that date Mr. Pitcairn will be retired to the pension roll after having served as a railroad man for more than half a century, almost that entire time being with the Pennsylvania railroad interests. "R. P." and Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania are inseparable; when one is considered in any way, the other comes into play as having been the most important factor. Robert Pitcairn and the Pittsburgh division have grown up together, and although Mr. Pitcairn will be 70 years old on May 6, he is still young in spirit and delights to spend time with the "boys."

These "boys" of the old guard of Pennsylvania affairs on the Pittsburgh division will gather on May 31 to honor the man who has been their example for half a century. There is to be no great ostentation, aside from the possibility of having Andrew Carnegie and A. J. Cassatt present as honor guests. Arrangements have been begun for "R. P. Day," and in the succeeding two months the men expect to round up most of the old guardsmen, while many of the younger men will also be in attendance. The time of the reception has not been fixed upon, but it will probably be in the afternoon.

Railroads Face Predicament.

Railroads operating from coal fields to Lake Erie docks are facing a rather serious predicament. Several millions of dollars have been spent for six months past extending and repairing docks and coal loading machinery. Now comes a threatened coal strike of great magnitude. Officers of some roads have expressed themselves as in sympathy with a compromise, while others have practically, by announcement of allied interests, put themselves on record as opposed to anything but last year's conditions. No date has yet been set for opening lake navigation, but this is not far off, some of the vessel operators having announced that navigation can be resumed before April 1.

Cars are not as plentiful as railroad men would like to see. R. M. Patterson, superintendent of freight transportation of the Pennsylvania, was here from Philadelphia conferring with General Agent Jaggard and other officers regarding car supply and movement. It was stated officially that cars were in good shape on Pittsburgh lines of the road yesterday, supply having also been fair the previous two days. Other roads could use more cars than are on hand. Car scarcity is said to be directly due to railroad companies storing coal for protection in case of a strike of long duration. Movements on all lines are much heavier than at this period last year.

American Locomotives Are Best.

Speed, power and economy are three phases in which American passenger locomotives surpass foreign-built engines. This information has just been made public after an extensive test of a number of engines at the Pennsylvania railroad's locomotive testing plant, which was located at the Louisana Purchase exposition. The plant has cost $250,000, and is to be given a home at Altoona, where exhaustive tests are to be continued. The necessity for this plant may be seen from the fact that from 600 to 800 engines are built for Pennsylvania railroad use each year. The complete report of tests made under direction of the advisory committee shows that American engines are 15 per cent more economical as regards boiler efficiency than the foreign machines, while the power on domestic locomotives is 30 per cent above European machines. Two American passenger engines maintained a speed of 75 miles an hour for 60 minutes; the de Glehn locomotive built in France for the Pennsylvania made an average of 66.9 miles an hour; a German Hanover engine made 65 miles.

Rock Point Men Get Lakemont.

An amusement enterprise of more than usual extent it to be located at Lakemont, the pleasure resort near Altoona. Heretofore this park has been operated by the American Railways Company, but James G. Sanson, C. T. Montgomery and others have secured a lease for 10 years and will begin operating the park early in May. Messrs. Sanson and Montgomery made a record as park managers at Rock Point park last year, and they are to contiue this popular resort this summer. Out of 80 dates 58 had been booked up until last evening, including some of the largest excursions from Pittsburgh and its vicinity.

Application will be made by Messrs. Sansom and Montgomery and J. A. Henry on April 5 for a charter for the Amusement Company of Central Pennsylvania. Associated with Messrs. Montgomery and Sansom of Pittsburgh will be Charles C. Renshaw, L. P. Shannon and W. H. Brooks of Altoona. Lakemont has been improved by the American Railways Company and additional improvements are to be made at once by the new managers. There are 13 acres of beautiful lake, for which 50 rowboats are provided. Direct electric lines connect Tyrone, Altoona, Hollidaysburg, Bedford and other towns in that district, while bookings have been made also from Punxsutawney, Johnstown and other distant points. The railway company is spending $17,000 in building loops at the park grounds. The line will be double tracked between Altoona and Hollidaysburg by April 1.

Railroad Notes.

Local freight and passenger men were conspicuous by their absence yesterday, most of them being at the bi-monthly meeting of the Central Freight association and the monthly meeting of the Central Passenger association.

J. P. Kearns has been appointed Baltimore & Ohio agent at Bakerstown to succeed L. H. Sackett, who is transferred to Foxsburg. He succeeds J. F. Kelly, who has been given a leave of absence on account of ill health.

Charles Hamilton, city passenger agent of the Wabash, left for Indianapolis last night as escort for a special train-load of miners who are to attend the convention. Mr. Hamilton escorted the miners to Indianapolis several weeks ago for the annual convention, and their selecting the Wabash again attests to their satisfaction with the trip.

The Lake Erie Terminal & Southern railroad has been incorporated in Ohio to build a line from Cleveland to Akron. Electricity may be used for passenger and freight service. The road is to benefit directly private interests in the pottery and sewer industries.

Traveling Passenger Agent T. C. Burke of Wheeling conferred with Assistant General Passenger Agent Taggart of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Brakeman A. L. Grau has been running as baggagemaster for S. M. Warrensford, who has been on the sick list.

BIG BUILDING FOR LIBERTY AVENUE

T. J. Keenan Has Decided to Erect 16-Story Structure to Cost $1,000,000.

TWO BIG DOWNTOWN SALES

Thomas J. Keenan has practically decided to go ahead with the erection of a 16-story building to cost $1,000,000, at the northwest corner of Liberty avenue and Seventh street this spring. Competitive plans by local architects are now being submitted and a selection will be announced in a few days. Mr. Keenan said last night that although he had received a good offer for the old buildings on the lot for the ensuing year, he considered a delay in erecting a modern structure would be costly in the end, and in all probability the old site would be cleared in April, when the present leases expire. The proposed building will cover a site 60x88 feet, having the advantage of a wide private alley in the rear. As now contemplated the building will be a mercantile and office structure, the lower floors to be used for store rooms and the upper floors for offices. Such a building would contain at least 150 offices, while this location would be very desirable for professional men and commission brokers. Some time ago Mr. Keenan received a proposition to lease the lower floors to a mercantile house of national reputation and it is likely the new building will result in establishing on this corner one of the largest retail stores in Pittsburgh. Theh corner is admitted to be as good a retail corner, with one or two exceptions, as can be found in Pittsburgh, and its greater prominence in a business way in case the Greater Pittsburgh is realized is assured. The recent discussion about wider sidewalks in this part of Liberty avenue has brought out the fact that all the sidewalks from Seventh street half way to Sixth street are now 15 feet wide which, if the city agrees to the four-foot addition proposed by the property owners, would give the Keenan property a 19-foot sidewalk, the widest, with one exception, in the city.

Penn Avenue Corner Bring $140,000.

Two downtown deals of considerable importance were made known yesterday. The larger was the sale by D. H. Wallace of 40x113 feet at the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Evans alley for $140,000, through Paul & Kingsley. Mr. Wallace bought the property three years ago for 100,000, so that he clears $40,000 by this transaction. The lot is directly across Penn avenue from the Hotel Lincoln, and is diagonally opposite the big plot which Boggs & Buhl lately sold to Charles Donnelly in a trade for Squirrel Hill frontage. A private alley in the rear adds much to the value of the Wallace lot, but the buildings are of little account, being two old brick houses which are now occupied by dressmakers' establishments. The rental is about $5,000 a year. No mention of the buyer was made yesterday. The importance of the corner is such as to make the price reported, $3,500 a foot, seem reasonable, especially when there is considered the great activity in real estate in all parts of the district in the vicinity of the Wabash properties.

Fourth Avenue Deal of $100,000.

The other deal, which was handled by the Samuel W. Black Company, was the sale for Robert C. Hall of 40x60 feet at the northwest corner of Fourth avenue and Decatur street for $100,000. The lot is improved with two old three-story brick buildings, known as 111-113 Fourth avenue, which are now occupied as shops and dwellings. These have been rented by the new owner for another year for a different purpose than they now serve. In 1900 Mr. Hall bought the property from the Shaner estate for $42,500, so that this sale, at the price reported, shows a gain of more than 100 per cent on his investment. At $2,500 a front foot the corner is not regarded as high, although it is considerably more than has ever been paid for property in lower Fourth avenue before.

An offer of $60.00 has been submitted for the property of Dr. J. C. Lange at the northeast corner of Ninth and Fayette streets. The lot measures 22.5x95.5 feet and has on it the three-story brick house which Dr. Lange uses for an office and residence. It adjoins the vacant property formerly owned by the St. Andrew's Episcopal church, part of which has been sold lately by the owners, McNulty & Galick, for $8,400 a front foot.

New Deal for Moreland Building.

Gossips were busy again yesterday with the report that the former home of the Moreland Trust Company at 218 Fourth avenue, next to the Gusky store building, had been sold. No deal has been closed for the property, according to officials of the Guarantee Title and Trust Company, which owns it, and S. A. Dickie & Co., who are managing the present negotiations. A deal is well advanced for the property on a basis of $150,000, a small part of which will be trade if the deal goes through. The lot is 27.7x85.8 feet and has on it the old brick building, which has been vacant much of the time for three years.

Through the Real Estate Security Company, John R. Scott has purchased the handsome residence of John M. Garside at 620 North

THOMAS M'CAFFREY.

Mr. McCaffrey is regarded as an authority on real estate matters in Lawrenceville, where he has been in the real estate and renting business since 1886. He is located at 3509 Butler street and has during his long business career in that district made a commendable list of large deals.

Negley avenue for $25,000. The property is on the east side of the avenue, between Hays and Black streets, and consists of a modern, 12-room, center-hall, buff brick residence on 55x150 feet. The house is finished throughout in hardwood and has hardwood floors and three bathrooms. It has been completed but a short time and has never been occupied.

Gets Fine Residence in Allegheny.

A deal made several months ago for one of the best residence properties in Allegheny leaked out only yesterday. It involves the property at 829 Ridge avenue, between Irwin and Grant avenues, which has been bought by J. E. Umbstaetter of Leet township for $22,000. In 1887 the property was sold by Thomas C. Lazear to Henry W. Patterson, Jr., of Boston, and his trustees, Willie P. Holcome, was the seller in this transaction. The lot is 60x200 feet, extending back to Harding street. On the front of it is a large three-story brick residence, finely finished, and a good stable is on the rear of the lot. The location is only one square from the Byers and Oliver homesteads and adjoins the S. C. Walker property. The sale was made by the Commonwealth Real Estate Company.

R. J. McCready has sold to Charles Reif an improved property, 24x80 feet, on the east side of Chestnut street, near Liberty street, Fourth ward, Allegheny, for $13,000.

Eleanor R. Ewing has purchased from Sophia Carlisle an improved property, 44x185 feet, on the west side of Maple avenue, near Kenwood avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $13,000.

Henry Ahlers has bought from Leonard Kredel and Henry P. Lotz, executors of Catharina Ochsenshirt, 70x111 feet at the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Second street, Third ward, Allegheny, for $10,000.

Hill Sale of $10,000.

Joseph H. Fester has sold for James G. B. McAuley to Sarah W. Fester four seven-room brick houses at 3421-3433 Webster avenue for $10,000. The houses are rented for $30 a month. The same broker sold for Salina M. Hill of Sewickley to William E. Welch 102 Harrison avenue, Allegheny, a six-room frame house on 20x74 feet, for $2,600.

Overhill street: The Aronson Realty Company sold for Mary J. Hays to H. Miller 523 Overhill street, a seven-room brick house on 44x85 feet, for $7,120.

Allegheny: A. D. Wilson sold for Theodore A. Motheral to Frederick O. Adams, 1331 Sheffield street, Allegheny, an eight-room brick house on 20x124 feet, for $5,300, for a home.

Allegheny: The H. W. Klein Realty Company sold for Christian Eckert, 1226 Sherman avenue, Allegheny, a brick house on 20x50 feet, for $3,000; for Attorney Charles P. Lang to Minnie Dietler two lots, 20x100 feet each, in East street, Watson place, for $1,000, as the sites for three brick houses.

Swissvale: W. V. Donald sold for Mrs. Mary I. Siefers to Chahrles A. P. Klitz a six-room frame house on 25x91 feet, in the First ward of Swissvale, for $2,400; for Mrs. Sarah V. Watson to D. E. McCollum, a 10-room brick house on 29x132 feet in South avenue, Second ward, Swissvale, for $6,200 for Mrs. Ida O. Suter to Emma V. Whitehead a seven-room brick house on 33x132 feet, in Wallace avenue, First ward, Swissvale, for $4,400.

Realty Firm Will Move.

McKiveen, White & Co., who have been located in the Park building for two years, have leased the first floor of the building at 112 Grant street and will move there April 1.

The John K. Ewing Company has been appointed exclusive renting agent for the Adams building at Butler and Thirty-fifth streets.

Forbes street: P. J. Edwards sold to Joseph Stadfeldt an improved lot, 18x48 feet, on the north side of Forbes street, near Marion street, Sixth ward, for $5,600.

Porter street: John Dietz sold to A. W. Frye an improved lot, 24x111 feet, on the west side of Porter street, Eleventh ward, for $4,400.

Seeley avenue: The city of Pittsburgh has bought from James F. Cunningham 75x110 feet on the south side of Butler street and 25x110 feet on the north side of Seeley avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $5,000.

Cato street: W. C. McCausland sold to Catherina Markley an improved lot, 20x144 feet, on the north side of Cato street, near Juliet street, Fourteenth ward, for $5,000.

Murtland avenue: Robert Scott sold to Giovanni Durso 21x150 feet on the south side of Kedron avenue, near Murtland avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $2,600.

Walnut street: Margaret Murdock sold to D. M. Miller an improved lot, 25x157 feet, on the south side of Walnut street, near Ivy street, Twentieth ward, for $3,125.

Wilbert street: Harry S. Levy sold to Timothy J. O'Connor 26x123 feet on the south side of Wilbert street, Thirty-second ward, for $2,400.

Building Permits Issued.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection yesterday issued the following permits: Mary M. Coleman, three one-story frame stores, 6308, 6310 and 6312 Station street, Nineteenth ward, $2,500; Dr. J. E. S. Bell, two two-story frame dwellings and attic, Harwood street, Thirty-second ward, $5,500; Crandall McKenzie Company, one two-story brick addition to factory, 7025 Chancer street, Twenty-first ward, $2,500; George Zenger, four two-story frame and attic dwellings, Morningside avenue, near Greenwood, Eighteenth ward, $7,905; J. Western Railroads Busy.

R. C. Cline of Los Angeles, Pacific coast passenger agent of the Wabash, spent yesterday visiting Pittsburgh. He said that western railroads are unusually busy, colonist and tourist traffic having attained proportions unexpected by passenger agents.

"To talk about the west developing seems a chestnut to most people, but a great many of those people are enjoying the chestnut, just the same," said Mr. Cline. "Thousands of eastern people are immigrating every year to the larger sphere of the 'golden west.' Old railroads are having their territories settled up, while new lines are being built to open new territories and to give an outlet from the east. The Western Pacific is progressing rapidly and will give the Gould system an admirable road to the Pacific coast. Other roads are to be constructed, so there is evidence of a real awakening up to the situation by people from Pittsburgh and the east."

DR. LINDSAY TO ACCEPT.

Informs Friends He Will Take Presidency of Women's College.

It was reported yesterday that the Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsay, pastor of the North Presbyterian church, Allegheny, had informed his friends that he would accept the presidency of the Pennsylvania College for Women, tendered him last week.

Dr. Lindsay has not made any public announcement of his acceptance, but it is believed the formal announcement will come shortly, when Dr. Lindsay advises his congregation that he will appeal to the next meeting of Allegheny presbytery to sever his present ministerial connection.

Heart Like a Clock

The pulsation of the heart marks the passage of the blood through the veins, just as the ticking of a clock indicates the flight of moments of time. Palpitation, fluttering or irregular action reveals the fact that the heart is running down—and unless strengthened, is liable to stop at any time under some weakening influence, such as excitement, over-work, or intense mental or physical strain. To regulate the heart action, you should take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure when any symptoms of a weak heart is apparent. It has no equal.

"Sometime ago I had a very severe pain around my heart, and most of the time I had a heavy bearing or throbbing of the heart. It would beat so that when I lay down at night it would sound like a small clock in bed with me. I could count the ticking. With every little exercise, or walking I felt like my heart would give out, and I would be so tired I would have to lie down and rest. I suffered quite a while in this way, then I concluded to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I had not taken it long until I began to feel easier, and so continued, and the medicine entirely cured me. I am very grateful for the great good I received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure."

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the
